The civic art section of the Salem Arts league will meet this evening in the educational room of the public library at the hour of 7:30 for an unusually interesting program.

Continuing the study of the history of gardening, Mr. Dibble will read a paper concerning the history of gardening in England.

Mrs. J. M. Clifford will discuss the public buildings of Salem, critiquing them from an architectural point of view, with postcards used to illustrate her points.

After the program the meeting will be concluded with an open forum and discussion. Eighteen members have already signed for the section, and there is every indication that more will follow.

Mrs. Florence Holmes Gerke, landscape designer of the Portland bureau of parks, will talk before the meeting of the Floral society tomorrow evening, as it meets in the Chamber of Commerce auditorium, the topic of her lecture concerning the problems of landscape gardening.

It is planned that each of the schools of the city will be represented at the meeting, to join in the discussion of the beautification of the city school grounds, which will be the topic of the open meeting.

Claydys McIntyre and Eugenia Savage of the Willamette university conservatory of music, will furnish the musical numbers.

Because she will soon be leaving the city to make her residence in Eugene, Mrs. Lawrence T. Harris will submit her letter of resignation as president of the Floral society at the meeting tomorrow.

Mrs. Arthur Rahn and Mrs. Harry Hawkins are issuing invitations today, bidding over 150 society maids and matrons of the city to tea at Mrs. Hawkins' home Tuesday, Jan. 22.

Mr. and Mrs. Frederic Lampport departed Monday by motor for southern California where they will spend the next month, or longer, in Los Angeles and the southern cities and beaches.

A number of Salem society folk have received invitations to the ball, but few of them will have the opportunity of attending.

For the regular monthly business meeting and social time, the members of chapter AB of PEO Sisterhood met in the rooms of Miss Lena Belle Tartar's attractive studio Monday evening.

Salem man discovers time saving solution.

He offers to the first 250 ladies of Salem who call at the store, a trial bottle

ABSOLUTELY FREE

It has been the desire of every housewife to keep her silver and all metal parts, particularly ranges, heaters, water faucets, door knobs, etc., immaculate and bright, which could only be obtained by hard work, and scouring, often times this would fail to restore the desired result. The new preparation eliminates all work, such as scouring, rubbing, etc. You simply take a cloth, apply solution to the parts of any range or heater that have become unsightly or discolored from heat, or long use, then wipe off with dry cloth and presto! the old original and beautiful luster appears. This time and labor saving solution has been discovered by M. J. Marquardt, who is in charge of the H. L. Stiff Furniture Company's stove department, with permission of H. L. Stiff Furniture Company he will demonstrate to you this labor saving device, and offers you a trial bottle free. No charge, no obligation. This solution will be known under the name of Rub-No-More Metal Polish. Make your old stove look like new.

H. L. Stiff Furniture Company extends to you a cordial invitation, it's absolutely free, none for sale.
