

SOCIETY

By BETTI KESSI, Phone 106.

The lovely home of Judge and Mrs. John L. Rand on Chemeketa street was the scene of a brilliant social event yesterday when Mrs. Rand with Mrs. John McCourt and Mrs. Henry J. Bean received over one hundred and fifty of Salem's most prominent matrons between three and six o'clock.

Receiving at the door were Mrs. Thomas Anderson, and Miss Edith Wheeler, and assisting the hostesses about the drawing room were Mrs. Lawrence T. Harris, Mrs. Louis Lachmund, Mrs. George M. Brown, Mrs. J. A. Churchill and Mrs. George A. White.

Palm and baskets of pink roses were effective in the reception rooms and in the piano room where the three piece orchestra provided music during the calling hours.

In the dining room lighted with candle glow, the tea table was a lovely thing with its dainty appointments of silver and the large square basket centerpiece of rose pink cyclamen with paper white narcissus and freesias. From three to four o'clock Mrs. Alice H. Dodd and Mrs. C. P. Bishop poured and from four o'clock to five Mrs. T. B. Kay and Mrs. Charles H. Robertson presided over the urns. Assisting in the dining room were Mrs. Hugh McCammon, Mrs. Phil Newmeyer, Mrs. Paul Hendricks, Mrs. John Carson, Mrs. Allen Carson, and Mrs. Gus Hixon.

With Mrs. B. N. Gillingham, Mrs. Homer Smith and Mrs. Al Jones as special guests, Mrs. O. C. Locke entertained the members of the Capitol Bridge luncheon club yesterday, with a luncheon in the Peacock room at the Gray Belle. Small green baskets of brightly colored blossoms were pretty as centerpieces for the tables. After the luncheon hour, the guests proceeded to the hostess' apartment where they spent the remainder of the afternoon at the card tables. Mrs. L. F. Griffith won the high score.

The club will meet again on February 6 as the guests of Mrs. Frank Meredith.

Complimenting Mrs. Harry Wendroth, who will leave the first of February to make her home at North Bend, Oregon, Mrs. A. S. Hussey entertained with a bridge luncheon party yesterday at her home on South Church street. The high score for the bridge game went to Mrs. Harry Weidner and Mrs. C. N. Laughridge won the consolation.

Mrs. Ralph Hensley entertained the members of the newly formed "S. I." club at her home Tuesday afternoon for a game of "500" and a pleasant visit. Later the hostess served refreshments.

To meet once a week for a general social time a group of women organized the S. I. club during the first of the month, although not primarily a card club, that form of diversion will probably be a part of each meeting. Members of the club are Mrs. Merritt Davis, Mrs. James McAlvin, Mrs. Lewis Binder, Mrs. Paul Hansen, Mrs. James Duer, Mrs. D. T. Wright, Mrs. A. H. Baker and Mrs. Ralph Hensley.

Meeting again next Tuesday, January 29, the club will be the guests of Mrs. McAlvin.

The members of the Junior Music club were entertained Friday evening by Ida McNeill for their regular monthly program of musical study, followed with a social time. Marie Hunsaker, Ida McNeill and Velma Hunt provided the musical program for the first of the evening, later, Velma Hunt directed a series of games carrying out the idea of a "backward party." At the close of the evening the hostess, assisted by her mother, Mrs. R. S. McNeill, served refreshments.

Mrs. Clarence Thompson is spending the week in Portland as the guest of Mrs. Theodore Arez. Mr. Thompson will join Mrs. Thompson in Portland for the week-end, after which they will return to Salem together.

For the regular monthly meeting the Past Matrons will meet at the home of Mrs. Ida Godfrey, tomorrow evening, Friday, at 8 o'clock.

The United Artisans are holding an open meeting this evening in the IOOF hall to which the public is cordially invited. The McClay grange will give the program for the evening, including a comedy play, a pantomime reading and several musical numbers. The public is cordially invited to attend, and a good time is assured.

Chemeketa chapter Daughters of the American Revolution will meet as the guests of Mrs. La Moine Clarke for the January meeting, Saturday, Miss Frances Richards, chairman of the committee of international relation for the chapter, will have charge of the program and will speak from the experiences of her travels in Europe during the past summer, and of the varied people she met on the continent.

Mrs. B. L. Steeves, Mrs. Hoffmann and Mrs. Ed. Jory will assist the hostess.

The Woman's union of the First Congregational church will conduct a cooked food sale Saturday, beginning at 10 o'clock in Stiff's furniture store. Many savory dishes will be on display affording the Salem housewife a welcome change in the delicacies of the week end menu.

Miss Inga Christanson, and Rea Benson, both employees in the office of secretary of state, were married yesterday. Mr. Benson is the son of the late Judge Henry L. Benson of the supreme court, and a brother of Arthur S. Benson, clerk of court. The bride has for the past three years been employed in the motor vehicle division of the office of the secretary of state and Mr. Benson has been employed in the auditing division for the past two years.

After a short honeymoon the couple will make their home in their new bungalow on the corner of Fourteenth and Center streets.

The Woman's Aid society of the First Presbyterian church will have a one o'clock luncheon in the church dining room tomorrow afternoon. As this is the regular meeting date, following the covered dish luncheon, the regular monthly meeting will take place in the church parlors. Each woman is expected to bring a covered dish, buttered rolls, silverware and dishes for her own service. Coffee and cake will be served lat-

Marta Sandal, the Norwegian Prima donna, says: "I permit myself to introduce Mr. Malven Norby, gifted with a beautiful tenor voice and an artist more than ordinary. - One of the largest affairs of recent society was the tea of yesterday, when over 200 of the townswomen called at the invitation of the local YWCA for tea at the Woman's club on North Church street, between the hours of 3 to 6 o'clock.
- Presiding over the attractively appointed tea table were Mrs. W. I. Staley, president of the YWCA board, and Mrs. L. H. McMahan, vice president of the association board. Other members of the board and of the social and finance committees who assisted in the dining room were: Mrs. T. A. Livesley, Mrs. William Walton, Mrs. George G. Brown, Mrs. Arthur J. Rahn, Mrs. W. - Large baskets of greenery, with pussy willows and similar were effectively arranged on pedestals about the main receiving room where the callers were greeted by members of the board, Mrs. F. A. Elliott, Mrs. W. E. Kirk, Mrs. Alice H. Dodd, Mrs. J. H. Fairchild and Mrs. David Wright.
- Miss Gertrude Ann Goeparth, regional secretary of the city YWCA associations, was the guest of honor for the affair and during the afternoon she spoke to the guests concerning the work of the organization in a charming manner and the place it should hold in the community. If the article is of good materials and reliable workmanship and the price is little for such quality, then you have made a real saving.

The standard of our goods is uniformly reliable and it is because of this fact that our low prices afford you savings that are extremely difficult to match.

TEXT-BOOKS TO UNDERGO CHANGE

State Superintendent Sending Out Lists of Subjects to Commission

J. A. Churchill, state superintendent of schools, is sending out to the state text book commissioners a list of subjects in which text-books are to be adopted next November for a six-year period.

"A change in the Oregon text-book law by the last legislature requires the state text book commission in November, 1924, to adopt text-books for a six-year period, beginning June, 1925," said Mr. Churchill. "Under the law not more than one-third of the text-books can be changed, and the superintendent of public instruction is given authority to indicate the subjects in which text books are to be changed. Under this arrangement one-third of the text-books that have been used throughout all of Oregon, outside the city of Portland, for a period of six years are to continue in use for two years longer. The other third is to be continued for four additional years, or will have been used, at the expiration of the con-
