Pamphlet With Suggested
Program Distributed By Superintendent

In accordance with an Oregon law providing that Arbor day shall be observed by the schools of this state, J. A. Churchill, state superintendent of schools, is sending out to the county superintendents

BE PRETTY! TURN GRAY HAIR DARK

Try Grandmother's Old Favorite
Recipe of Sage Tea and Sulphur

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is messy and troublesome. Nowadays, by asking at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get a large bottle of this famous old recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, at a small cost.

Don't stay gray! Try it! No one can possibly tell that you have darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy and attractive.—Adv.

the annual Arbor day manual. It contains a suggested program for the day, a list of books on planting and caring for trees and an article on "A Few Flower Friends," by Dr. Albert R. Sweetser of the University of Oregon. It is highly illustrated with pictures of many wild flowers and much space is given to their descriptions.

Under the law Arbor day is observed the second Friday in February in all counties west of the Cascade mountains and on the second Friday in April for all counties of eastern Oregon.

"No man is well educated until he has learned to appreciate outdoor nature in trees, shrubs and flowers," says Mr. Churchill in the foreword, "and in order to appreciate he must understand the nature, growth and use of these silent friends of mankind. To plant, to care for, and to study trees and flowers should be an important part in the education of every child, not only for individual culture of mind and heart, but to discharge our obligation to future generations by passing on a heritage of beauty and wealth in vegetation. To this end we celebrate Arbor day, by planting trees and shrubs on school grounds and along public highways. We trust that every school in Oregon will fittingly observe the day."

Dr. Lisle 63 Years In The Methodist Ministry

WATER PROMOTERS LAND IN SALEM

Waldo Anderson and E. M. Reagan of Albany Talk
New Plan Here

Explanation of the proposal to unite municipalities of the Willamette valley for the purpose of obtaining an adequate and excellent water supply were outlined on Thursday by Waldo Anderson of Albany, who stopped in Salem to make arrangements for a meeting here next week at which time the matter will be thoroughly discussed and explained. Mr. Anderson was one of the prime factors in agitating the plan. He was accompanied by E. M. Reagan, publisher of the Albany Herald.

As outlined by Mr. Anderson, a huge pipe line would bring water from Clear lake to Eugene, Corvallis, Albany, Salem, Independence and other of the valley towns. No one community is financially able to put the plan in operation, but by co-operation he believes it could be accomplished.

One outstanding feature of the plan is that it will not be necessary to install machinery, as gravity will deliver the water from the source to where it can be distributed. Clear lake is located high in the Cascades and within a government preserve, assuring protection from any source in the future. The water comes from a large spring supplied by the snows and glaciers that feed the headwaters of the McKenzie river. The water maintains a steady temperature of 42 degrees the year around.

Mr. Anderson pointed out the advantages of the Bull Run reservoir operated by the city of Portland and the favorable comment upon the system. The proposed plan of bringing water from Clear lake is much superior to the Portland method, in that both state and federal assistance will be given.

Mr. Anderson was on his way to Portland to meet with some engineers and expects to be in Salem early next week, at which time he will place his project before the mayor and city council.

MANY FAMILIES MUCH IN NEED

Food Urgent Need, Is Plea of Associated Charities—
Work Scarce

Fifty families in Salem are suffering from lack of actual food necessities, according to Mrs. Mae Young, executive secretary of the Associated Charities, who is appealing for an immediate response to a need of food. In addition to this number many families are being cared for by the Salvation Army, which has its hands full.

"Several instances of actual starvation have come to my attention," Mrs. Young said yesterday. "Some of the cases are pitiful, and we are not in a position to give them any assistance unless people come forward with contributions. Food is the chief need, with work or employment a close second. Many people have been able to weather the winter so far, but with lack of work their needs are acute and they lack necessities. The canneries closed early and many women were thrown out of employment."

Specific instances cited by Mrs. Young were those of a family which needs a small cook stove. This demand is urgent. The man has not been able to get work and he has a wife and two children to support. Another woman, with four children, was found making a meagre breakfast, late in the morning, on toast with a little milk.

Out in the Highland district there is a mother with five children, two of whom are youngsters. She is unable to buy milk for them. Another widow with five children has been keeping boarders. Several of the youngsters became sick with the measles and the roomers left. Still another widow has been supporting her child, but she became ill several weeks ago and gradually her little stock of funds ran out. When she was found by the Associated Charities her food was about gone and she had paid the rent until the end of the month. What is to become of her is not known. Another woman has 12 children, 10 of whom are here. Her funds are low. Another woman has a boy who is suffering with tuberculosis. Other cases have come to the attention of the Associated Charities, but these are the most urgent ones.

Contributions of potatoes, canned vegetables, onions, flour and a few other actual necessities are needed. There is sufficient bedding on hand to supply the demand. Clothing is needed, both for children as well as adults, but not as much as food. These contributions should be brought to the Red Cross headquarters, 640 State, though if this is impossible, telephone 332 and someone will call for the articles.

McMahon Might Become Independent Candidate

A report is going the rounds here that K. K. Kubli or George L. Baker succeed in landing the Republican senatorial nomination. L. H. McMahon of Salem, Republican, will become an independent candidate. McMahon neither confirms nor denies the report. Several months ago McMahon was mentioned as a possible candidate for the Republican nomination, but this he denied, saying that he wished to support Senator McNary.

AUBURN

The recent freeze killed all kale and broccoli plants and damaged the loganberry vines.

W. McKinney of Logan farm is putting out several acres of improved Italian and Petite pines. The old Auburn schoolhouse that has stood for more than 30 years, and was replaced last summer by a modern two-room building, is being torn down this week.

Miss Pauline Pierce, who underwent a minor operation at the Willamette sanitarium last week, was able to be brought home on Monday, and is recovering.

Quite a lot of sickness in the Auburn neighborhood, and several cases of measles are reported. Miss Wallace, teacher of the primary grade, was ill last week, and Mrs. Roy Hammer took her place as teacher.

The executive committee of the Auburn community club met Friday evening at the W. H. Sweet home and arranged for meetings for the next four months. The February meeting will be a "Jolly up." Mrs. Lloyd Lee has charge of the program, and Mrs. Will Walling refreshments.

On account of so much sickness in the neighborhood, it has been decided not to have the young folks from Willamette hold services next Sunday at the church.

Oregon State News

Hop Price Hopping

ALBANY, Jan. 24.—George Small, a North Albany hop grower, espoke an optimistic view of the future today as he notes the advance in the price of hops the last two days with prospects of continued advance, he says. The entire crop unsold in the United States is estimated at 10,000 bales according to the latest market reports.

In addition to the local market to be supplied for ten months before the next crop is placed on the market a strong demand is said to exist for export. Mr. Small is holding his crop, which is now worth from 28 to 30 cents on the market according to the latest quotations. The shortage in the trade has but recently become apparent, it is said, which has been the cause of the activity, both by the growers and the dealers.

Rebuilding Telephone Line

GRANTS PASS, Jan. 24.—Twenty-five tons of material, mostly copper wire, for the rebuilding of the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph company's lines from Sexton mountain to Grants Pass have been received here and are being stored awaiting the arrival of the construction crew next week, when the work will commence. The company is rebuilding their entire toll line throughout the state, a large part of the work in Southern Oregon having already been completed. The line is to be built from the foot of Sexton mountain to the south city limits of Grants Pass.

Mintons in County

CORVALLIS, Jan. 24.—Will Minton, farmer, stockman and former Bentonite, and Mrs. Minton, with their children, arrived in Corvallis recently on a visit to Mr. Minton's sister, Mrs. A. Starr and family, and relatives at Philomath and in other Benton county sections. The Mintons went from this vicinity seven or eight years ago to reside on a farm in Canada, near Alberta. They have returned to the "states" to spend some time with relatives in this section, and in Albany and in other parts of Oregon, and it is probable they may remain. Despite the fact that they have spent some time in the north, the Mintons have never been weaned away from Oregon and they finally decide to locate here again. They are finding numerous old friends among the residents of the county.

Rabbits Will Be Scarce

PENDLETON, Jan. 24.—Approximately 20,000 rabbits were killed Sunday by the 175 hunters who stormed Sarvis, Mud Springs and Harris gulches and the Hawley and Ralph Stanfield ranches in the east end of the county to slaughter the pests according to R. D. Sayres and John L. Vaughn, captains for the shoot which was under the auspices of the Pendleton Rod and Gun club.

Numbered among the shooters were 10 or 12 women who enjoyed the sport just as much as did the men.

Springfield Will Bid For Residents

SPRINGFIELD, Jan. 24.—The chamber of commerce of this city is going to publish a bulletin telling about the city of Springfield and the surrounding country. This was decided at the meeting last night when the committee presented its plans to the members of the chamber. In the bulletin there will be pictures of the industries and mills around Springfield. Also there will be numerous facts about the city and surrounding country such as land values, crops raised, weather conditions in the four seasons, and what facilities the country offers.

It was also decided by the committee in charge of the proposed arch, which is to be erected on the highway by the bridge, that estimates and plans of the arch should be ready for presentation at the next meeting of the chamber of commerce. Plans are now ready and estimates will be given this week as to the cost. After these details, work will be started.

Y., in the cause of Major Frederick McLaughlin and his wife, former Irene Castle, famous dancer, turning from their oriental home, moon, it was learned when the admiral Oriental liner President Grant docked here tonight.

Death of Mrs. McLaughlin's niece was learned when the new-laid were at Klotz, Japan. The niece was Mrs. McLaughlin's companion on a trip to Europe last summer and the girl was attending a girls' school in New York state.

"We are giving no interview," he said.
