So popular is the appeal of the interior decoration class of the Salem Arts league that already 38 members are signed for the course.

The second meeting of the class will be held in the educational room of the city library tomorrow, Thursday, evening, beginning at 7:30, and at this time the first lesson on color will be reviewed, taking up the characteristics of color, hue, value and chroma. For the new lesson the primary colors, secondary and complementary colors, will be studied.

Mrs. Monroe Gilbert, the leader of the class, has an interesting course outlined for study, with many practical and individual problems to be worked out. Later in the season the section will study a correspondence course from the New York school of interior decorating.

At the meeting of the executive council of the Salem Arts league Monday evening in the Gilbert studio and craft shop, it was decided to bring an art craft exhibit to Salem for the next general meeting of the league on February 12. It was decided to have the exhibit sent out by the Portland Crafts society, which is at the present time at the University of Oregon, and will include needle work, stitchery, hand-made jewelry, hammered brass, and copper and carved wood.

With Mrs. Frank Spencer and Mrs. T. A. Eiker as special guests for the afternoon, the members of the Round Up club spent a delightful afternoon Monday at the home of Mrs. C. H. Robertson on North Capitol street. Mrs. John Scott has invited the club to her home for the next meeting of February 11.

Mrs. C. K. Spaulding went to Portland yesterday morning where she will remain until Thursday, returning home with Mr. Spaulding, who has been in Portland on business.

An unusually large health clinic is expected to take place in the Chamber of Commerce Thursday afternoon, beginning at 1 o'clock, when children between the ages of six months and high school age from Salem and the outlying districts will be examined by local physicians, under the auspices of the Marion county health clinic. All registrations should be made by calling Mrs. E. E. Fisher at 261.

For the last meeting before her departure for North Bend, Mrs. Harry Wenderoth entertained the members of chapter AB of PEO Sisterhood for the regular monthly meeting at her home Monday evening. Mrs. P. J. Kuntz of chapter G, and Mrs. Noble and Miss Grace Osborn, visiting PEO's from chapters out of the state, were special guests of the evening.

After the business portion of the meeting Mrs. W. E. Kirk gave an interesting review of Maeterlinck's "Blue Bird," and the remainder of the evening was devoted to visiting with refreshments served at a late hour.

A farewell party is being planned by the chapter for Mrs. Wenderoth on the eve of her departure Monday, February 4.

Tuesday afternoon, Feb. 5, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Wenderoth will leave for their new home in North Bend, Or., where Mr. Wenderoth is to be business manager of the new Keizer Brothers' hospital of that city. The owners of the new hospital, Dr. Russell and Dr. Phil Keizer, brothers, are well known in Salem where they formerly lived.

Mr. and Mrs. Wenderoth leave many friends here, and prior to their departure many informal farewell functions are being planned.

A pleasant afternoon was spent among friends of Mrs. Wenderoth Monday when Mrs. Claire Vibbert entertained in her honor for only two tables of bridge. Mrs. Sam Adolph won the score prize and Mrs. Wenderoth won the guest prize. During the afternoon Mrs. Fred Ellis assisted the hostess. At the tables were the guest of honor, Mrs. A. S. Hussey, Mrs. C. N. Laughridge, Mrs. Rostein, Mrs. George Riches, Mrs. Harry Weldmer, Mrs. Ellis, Mrs. Adolph and the hostess.

The ladies social circle of the Central Congregational church will entertain with the monthly tea and program this afternoon in the church parlors. Hostesses for the afternoon will be Mrs. Joseph Schindler, Mrs. Harry Zelsdorf, Mrs. Brockman and Mrs. Guy Nugent.

The members of the Tuesday Bridge luncheon club with Mrs. Hugh McCammon, Mrs. Clifford Farmer, Mrs. Fritz Slade, Mrs. David Eyre and Mrs. Earl McMechem as additional guests were delightfully entertained yesterday afternoon by Mrs. Keith Powell of Woodburn, with a luncheon at the Gray Belle. Following the luncheon the guests went to the home of Mrs. Harry Hawkins where the remainder of the afternoon was spent at the bridge tables. Mrs. Hugh McCammon won the guest prize. In two weeks the club will meet with Mrs. Arthur Rahm as hostess.

The missionary society of the South Salem Friends church will meet at the home of Mrs. Carl Miller, 1655 South Liberty street, Friday afternoon from 2 o'clock to 4:30.

hosts, Mr. and Mrs. B. E. Kuhn, Mr. and Mrs. August Huckestein, Jr., Dr. and Mrs. J. H. Garnjobst, Mr. and Mrs. Linn Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Weidmer and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Ellis, enjoyed a game of five hundred last evening with Mr. and Mrs. Wenderoth.

The first of the speakers to be brought to Salem through the Association of American University Women will be Dr. Richard G. Scholz, president of Reed college, who will speak at the Marion hotel Saturday, Feb. 2, after the luncheon hour. It is to be understood that the public is cordially invited to hear Dr. Scholz speak. Those not wishing to spend the luncheon hour with the speaker are invited to come later for the program and speech. The meeting is open to men and women. Reservations for the luncheon should be made before Thursday by calling Mrs. Alden at 1175J or Mrs. Allen at 1278J.

The schedule for the Smith-Hughes classes in sewing and millinery, meeting in McCornack hall, has been announced as follows by the leader, Mrs. F. E. Barker:

Evening classes—From 7 to 9; Monday, sewing; Tuesday, advanced spring millinery; Friday, beginning millinery.

Afternoon classes—From 1:30 to 4:30; Wednesday and Thursday, sewing; Friday, beginning millinery.

Morning classes—From 9 to 1; Wednesday, advanced spring millinery; Thursday morning, sewing class will begin as soon as the enrollment is large enough.

The Business and Professional women will meet at 6:30 o'clock this evening in the Chamber of Commerce for the monthly supper and social evening. Early in the evening a special business session has been called by Mrs. Ora F. McIntyre, at which time plans for publicity for the Stuart Walker productions, to be given at the Grand theater Thursday and Friday, Feb. 7 and 8, will be outlined. It is very urgent that all members of the organization be present to take their parts in making a success of the large undertaking.

After spending the past ten days in Salem as the house guest of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Zimmerman, Mrs. E. A. Colony left last evening for her home in Sims, Cal. During her visit here Mrs. Colony has been feted very informally, with a number of affairs among her old friends.

Monday evening Mrs. Colony was the dinner guest of Mr. and Mrs. Elmo White. Saturday evening Dr. and Mrs. Grover C. Bellinger invited a number of guests to their home for a gave of five-hundred in honor of Mrs. Colony. Mrs. Beulah Mills, Dr. W. H. Darby and Mrs. Colony were winners of the prizes. The following people were invited for the affair: Mr. and Mrs. Merlin Harding, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Spaulding, Dr. and Mrs. W. H. Darby, Dr. and Mrs. C. E. Peace Plan Discussed By Women of Silverton SILVERTON, Ore., Jan. 29.—(Special to The Statesman.—) The Women's Social Science club of Silverton held a very interesting meeting at the Silverton library Monday afternoon. Mrs. John Hoblitt gave and explained the "Peace Plan" as offered by Edward W. Bok. Following her talk the club took up the peace plan for discussion. This discussion was followed by one on the comparison of the American and foreign public school systems. After much discussion the club concluded that the American system was the better as in foreign countries all children whose parents could possibly afford to do so, were sent to private schools, leaving only the very poorest class of children for the public schools. A report showed that the club has raised $121 for books for the public library of Silverton.

TURNER

TURNER, Or., Jan. 29.—Members of the Turner Dairy association held an all day meeting Saturday at the high school auditorium. After a business session a big feed served in the IOOF dining hall was enjoyed by 75 members and guests.

The afternoon program was opened with a piano solo by Miss Hazel Bear, followed with a talk on feeding by Lawrence Thomas; violin solo by Miss Hazel Peetz, accompanied by Miss Fuller, address on kinds of feed by S. E. Ljodgen of Portland. The Cloverdale male quartet gave two numbers that were especially enjoyed. Christ Hanson and Mrs. Schurman are the new directors.

Will Marten and family have come to Turner to make their home.
