THEATRES MOVIES

LIBERTY—"The Cup of Life."
OREGON—"The Song of Love."
BLIGH—"High Speed Lee."

As the lead in the chorus of a Broadway musical comedy show, Gladys Walton in the role of Joan Crosby in the Universal attraction, "The Town Scandal," which will be shown at the Bligh theater Saturday and Sunday leaves nothing to be desired. Her superb figure and her dancing ability fit her well for the part. The play was adapted to the screen by Hugh Hoffman from the story, "The Chicken That Came Home to Roost," by Frederick Arnold Kummer, King Baggot directed the picture.

After scoring a decided success in its two showings at the Oregon yesterday, "Eyes of the Forest" will be shifted over to the Grand theater tonight and will be the attraction at that house through Saturday and Sunday. The shift will make room for Norma Talmadge in "The Song of Love" at the Oregon.

In "Eyes of the Forest," Mix, as Bruce Thornton, an army officer, is assigned to forest patrol service. On his first trip over the woodland, watching for fires and timber thieves, he spots an outlaw lumber plant. Landing in a clearance several miles from the spot, he crashes into a hut, disabling his machine by the accident. However, he meets Ruth Meller, played by Pauline Stark, whom he recognizes as being wanted on the charge of killing her stepfather. Bruce is convinced the girl is innocent. He sets about to prove his contention and encounters Hogan, a member of the lumber stealing band, to whom Ruth was married against her will. Hogan comes after Ruth to take her away from her uncle, with whom she was hiding from her husband and the law. There is an encounter and Hogan is beaten by Bruce. Hogan decides to take the girl by force and recruits his band to storm the cabin.

An attempt is made to kill Bruce by blowing up the roadway. He escapes unhurt and, racing for his life from the band of marauders, he leaps from his horse to an airplane. Thrill follows thrill until Hogan is caught and proven to be the real murderer and the leaders of the lumber thieving gang get their due.

In "The Cup of Life," which opened at the Liberty yesterday, oriental architecture with all of its bizarre beauty has been raised to the nth on the screen. The scenic effects, both interior and exterior, are notable for their magnificence and their fidelity to oriental structures, decoration and landscape.

LIVESLEY

Mrs. C. Stutesman and Mrs. S. S. Davenport served a delicious luncheon to the G. T. club last Thursday at Mrs. Stutesman's home. The afternoon was spent pleasantly with visiting, needlework and listening to the radio-phonograph. At the next meeting, which will be at the home of Mrs. F. J. Lanson in Salem the ladies will quilt, and are requested to come with needles and thimbles. Those present were Mrs. C. Stutesman, Mrs. S. Davenport, Mrs. Mary Johnson, Mrs. Alice Coolidge, Mrs. N. P. Kugel, Mrs. John Orsborne, Mrs. C. D. Query, Mrs. H. B. Carpenter, Mrs. Frances Bressler, Mrs. C. W. Schwabb, Mrs. B. F. Townsend, Mrs. W. Pettyjohn, Mrs. F. J. Lanson and Miss Marie Fitzwater.

Local talent furnished the entertainment at last Sunday night's church service. Several solos, duets and quartettes were rendered, also piano solos. While sawing wood at C. D. Query's last Saturday Raphael Bettincourt's wood saw got on fire. The gasoline caused a big flame, but no serious damage was done. School was closed last Friday on account of measles. Nearly half the pupils are having them and some are reported to have been quite sick. Rev. Earl McAbee has been made manager of the Kimball Glee club and is busy practicing for the coming series of entertainments which they will give in different communities. Mrs. J. Zielke has been ill for two weeks.

DENBY BATTLE IN SENATE UNDER WAY

American public the $25,000 loan to ex-Senator Fall.

The medical commission appointed by the senate committee examined Mr. Fall during the day in his sick room at the home of J. W. Zevely, personal counsel to Mr. Sinclair, who is expected to report to the committee tomorrow as to whether the former secretary can appear for questioning.

The senate vote on the Walsh resolution was the result of a unanimous consent agreement today, after two hours of fervid debate. The measure will be transmitted to the house tomorrow, and Representative Longworth of Ohio, the Republican leader, said tonight he was prepared to ask for a unanimous consent agreement for limited debate and a final vote during the day.

Resolution Acceptable

Mr. Longworth declared that in the main the resolution was acceptable, although he thought some of the language might be modified, particularly that relating to the want of authority and law for the making of leases. In view of the senate vote against such modification, however, it was not regarded as likely that amendments would be passed. With adoption of the measure by the house, President Coolidge will have formal authority from congress to take the action he has taken, appointment of a special counsel to prosecute such suits, civil and criminal, as the facts might warrant.

There was a last minute effort in the senate to amend the Walsh resolution so as to direct the president to seize the leased reserves in Wyoming and California, but the proposal by Senator Howell, Republican, Nebraska, was rejected without a roll call. Two votes then followed on the Walsh resolution, the first 90 to 0 to accept it and a substitute for the original Caraway resolution and the second to adopt the resolution on its own merits.

CONDITION OF BANKS SHOWN

Total Resources Lower Than on September 14—Salem Is Strong

Four statements of the condition of Oregon banks were called for during 1923, the final one for the close of business on December 31. Total resources of Oregon banks on that date were $327,362,276.98, which was less than the amount at the close of business September 14, which was $330,165,159.97, but more than the totals for the calls of April 3 and June 29, which were, respectively, $312,216,530.70 and $314,406,120.97.

Other totals in the statement relative to the call of December 31 were: Loans and discounts, $173,582,120.22; deposits except time and savings, $175,695,624.92; time and savings deposits, $98,306,069.96; total deposits, $274,091,633.88; borrowed money, $4,555,839.67.

These sums are all increases over those for the call of December 29, 1922, the final call for that year, which were: Loans and discounts, $167,625,397.81; deposits except time and savings, $170,222,270.20; time and savings deposits, $85,932,325.20; total deposits, $256,255,595.50; borrowed money, $4,339,171.28; total resources, $308,543,254.28.

With the exception of the total resources shown for the call of September 14 last, the total for December 31 is the largest in the state's history with the exception of the final calls for the years 1919 and 1920, which were respectively $361,895,366.51 and $352,532,046.01, the 1919 figures topping all totals in the history of Oregon banking.

The total resources of $327,362,276.98 shown in the call of December 31 is a net increase of $18,818,421.80 for the year. Total resources on that date for all state, savings, private and foreign banks and trust companies in Oregon were $150,603,570.94, a net increase of $6,540,217.68 for the year. Total resources for all national banks were $196,758,705.14 a net increase of $12,278,204.15

On Investment Advice

The really large investors rarely, if ever, fail to consult their banks about investments. They realize the fund of information which is available to the bank which is inaccessible to them. We make it a point here at the United States National to keep well posted on all the current investments. You'd be surprised to know the amount of information we have on the investment that you may be just now considering. Ask us about it.

The United States National Bank Salem, Oregon

for the year. The total resources of all Portland banks were $175,683,261.98, a net increase for the year of $12,303,442.08.

The statement shows that 53 cities and towns in Oregon have bank deposits of $500,000 or more. Outside of Portland, Salem is first with four banks with deposits of $8,952,213.13. Astoria is second with five banks and $7,501,631.26; Eugene is third with four banks and $6,665,483.16, and Pendleton is fourth with three banks and $5,116,163.95.

Whitman College Offers Scholarship to Scouts

Of interest to all local First Class Boy Scouts and also to those of the entire northwest is a recent resolution passed by the board of trustees of Whitman college, Walla Walla, Wash. This resolution is to the effect that all First Class Boy Scouts will have the opportunity to compete in an examination for a scholarship offered by Whitman college. This scholarship is good for four years under certain conditions and its offer is a real contribution to the work of scouting in the west.

The examination will be on regular academic subjects and also one on the ability of a scout to prove himself a leader and to excel in the different subjects taught by scouting, such as questions on nature to test qualities of self-reliance, quick-thinking, general practical information such as a First Class Scout of high school age should know.

This examination is to be conducted by the faculty of Whitman college in conjunction with the officers of the Blue Mountain Council Boy Scouts of America, at Walla Walla.

McKinley's Birthday Is Celebrated at Silverton

SILVERTON, Or., Jan. 31.—(Special to The Statesman)—The Grand Army of the Republic and the Women's Relief corps celebrated former President McKinley's birthday at the GAR hall Tuesday afternoon. About 20 members were present. Lunch was served during the afternoon.

The main feature of the afternoon was the discussion of the disposal of the monument which the WRC has now ready. The members of the organization wish to place it in the city park at Silverton and dedicate it on Lincoln's birthday. The Silverton park commission is trying to secure a landscaper gardener and have plans made for the park before the placing of the monument. It has not yet been decided just where the monument will be placed.
