Committee Will Attend Water Meeting at Albany

All those interested in the Water Development league are urged to attend a meeting at the Hotel Albany at noon Friday, a letter to this effect having been received in the city from Waldo Anderson, president. Pierce is expected to attend this meeting.

Several Albany men interested in the project met with a group of Salem men. As a result of this meeting Harley O. White, president of the chamber of commerce, appointed the following committee to investigate and keep in touch with developments: Thomas B. Kay, Fred Erixon, William Gahlsdorf, John H. Scott, Joseph H. Albert, Mayor John B. Giesy, Fred A. Williams, J. C. Perry, C. A. Park, T. M. Hicks, P. M. Gregory, N. C. Kafoury, Joe Adolph, E. E. Greenbaum, Dr. H. H. Ohlinger and George H. Questions covering all branches were sent out from Mrs. Fulkerson's office to the different schools. Five questions for each of the first four grades were used, with 10 questions for each of the next four grades.

Program Is Prepared For Theatre Bible Class

The program for the first meeting of the John Evans Bible class, to be held at the Bligh theater at 7:45 o'clock Sunday morning, has been completed and advertising will be placed in the local papers, according to an announcement made yesterday by C. J. Hull, chairman of the committee in charge. Other members of this committee are Ben H. Walcher, W. M. McMorris, Jesse Campbell and Chester Lee.

The program as announced will include an assembly call by bugle calls promptly at 9:45 o'clock. This will be followed by a 15-minute old fashioned song service, led by Dr. H. C. Epley. An instrumental quartet, composed of two cornets, a trombone and a baritone, will render several numbers. Bugles will again be called into play for the patriotic exercises which will be featured by a pledge to God, country and flag. All will join in singing "The Star Spangled Banner." A male quartet will also sing.

Following the roll call, Rev. J. J. Evans will be introduced and take over the class for a short Bible lesson.

BISHOP MAY BUY BASEBALL PARK

Well Known Player and Manager Has Plan for Good Club in Salem

Unable to obtain the Oxford park baseball grounds from the Albert estate upon a rental basis, "Biddie" Bishop announced Wednesday that he had secured an option upon the ground and if necessary, will purchase the property if his plans for organizing a baseball team prove successful. It is understood that the option calls for the purchase of the property for $3,000.

Bishop is planning to have 100 merchants pledge $5 a month during the five months of the season, to be used as salaries for five professional baseball players. He will retain $100 a month as salary as manager and a similar amount will be paid each of the four players. The balance of the team would be composed of local men and these would receive their pay through gate receipts. Bishop proposes to guarantee personally all of the incidental expenses of running the club.

To Build Harrisburg Bridge ALBANY, Feb. 13.—The state highway commission will submit bids February 28 to build the much discussed bridge at Harrisburg crossing the Willamette river and thereby making the last connecting link in the highway through the state.

This information confirming press reports, was given out here today by W. E. Wadsworth, president of the Harrisburg Chamber of Commerce and M. D. Morgan, publisher and editor of the Harrisburg Bulletin, who have been giving the preliminary maneuvers close attention, from start to finish. They are of the opinion that all necessary preliminary work will be completed by that time. They expect no trouble with Lane county not coming up to the promise of the court.

The state highway commission has offered, it is said to loan the county the money in the event no funds are available.

Under the law it is believed that the county would be obliged to pay its share under the existing conditions regardless of the opinion of the voters, if either of the counties, after the state and one of the counties involved has entered into an agreement.

ROTARIANS WILL GO TO SPOKANE

Address at Luncheon Here Yesterday Given By Miles M. Higley

Aims and purposes of the Rotary club, including the motto: "He profits most who serves best, and service above all," were stressed in a formal message to Rotarians by Miles M. Higley of Spokane, governor of the first district, consisting of British Columbia, Washington and Oregon, who addressed the club at its Wednesday luncheon.

"Rotary obtained its growth and position through selective membership," Mr. Higley said. "Rotary is one of the greatest developers of men of all organizations. It is necessary to fit men to classifications and not classifications to men, if you want to obtain the most harmonious results, for it is easier to get men into the club than it is to ask them to resign."

Mr. Higley stressed the importance of attendance at luncheons, which, he said, leads to fellowship, one of the basic principles of the club. He urged that men put the principles of Rotary into their every-day business, declaring that the golden rule was not idealism but the best business policy, and that honesty in merchandising and transactions always pays. He also urged Rotarians to take a greater interest in young boys and girls and to help influence them along the right lines.

Some of the features of the annual district convention, to be held in Spokane April 13 to 15 inclusive, were outlined by Mr. Higley. The convention will open on a Sunday night and a splendid meeting is being arranged, suitable for the day. R. A. Booth of Eugene is slated to make a fellowship address that night, while music will be furnished by the well known Yakima quartet. He urged that the Salem delegation come prepared with a special stunt, along the minstrel lines, if possible.
