Close Decision By Referee in Last Twenty Seconds Gives Idaho Game

Playing a game of speed and fight that fulfilled all of Rathlun's predictions that his squad would be playing real college basketball by the middle of the season, the Willamette Bearcats last night upset the dope bucket, held the Idaho Vandals to a breathlessly close call, and lost only when a foul in the last 20 seconds of play gave the visitors a three point lead. The final count favored the University of Idaho 35 to 32.

After a game replete with sensations, the Bearcats gave the spectators their final thrill when they tied the count 34 to 34 in the last 20 seconds of the game. But before the ball had settled through the hoop a foul was called on a Willamette player, the scoring tally was refused, and a Vandal converted the free throw to win the game for the visitors 35 to 32.

The Bearcats outdid themselves in the accuracy of their passing and the success of their weaving offensive. In the last half the locals took five more points than the visitors and in the entire game won an equal number of free throws.

The competitive scoring began with a four point lead for the Bearcats that Hartley took in two field goals. Then the Vandals stiffened their offensive and after three minutes there was a tie of 5 to 5. A few minutes later another tie of 7 to 7 was reached. After that the visitors began piling up a lead which by the end of the half totalled 24 to 16. In the second half neither team maintained a scoring period of more than a few minutes, but the Idaho five got the better of the battle until the last 20 seconds when the count stood 34 to 32 in their favor. In these last seconds Willamette rang in the tally which would have tied the score had not the foul been called on one of its players.

The game was the roughest played here this season. Much of the game was marred by the loud protests of fans against the official decisions and there was considerable dissatisfaction at the end of the game.

Remer starred for the Vandals but Willamette placed Fasnacht, its star forward, as high point man with a lead of five points over Remer. Robertson did brilliant work for the locals in his floor work and guarding.

The lineups follow:
Idaho ..... Willamette
Telford ..... Fasnacht
Hillman ..... Robertson
Remer ..... Hartley
Fields ..... Patton
Nelson ..... G. Erickson
Substitutions: Willamette—Logan for Patton, Patton for Logan, Logan for Hartley. Idaho—Fitzkie for Remer, Hillman for Fields.

Referee—Shy Huntington, of U. of O.
Score first half—24 to 16.

SCOUT LEADERS HEARD YESTERDAY

Realty Association Members Entertained By Workers in Boy Movement

"The big challenge in Salem is not money alone but for men to help in the Boy Scout movement as leaders," declared K. L. Haga, of New York City, who is in the city in the interests of the movement. "What is true here is true elsewhere. The chief aim of the movement is to develop citizenship and character." Mr. Haga was the principle speaker at the Thursday luncheon of the Marion-Polk County Realty association. He stressed the fundamental facts connected with the movement as concerned with their values to the community.

"We are concerned with local development but this work is directly connected with that which is national and international in its scope," the speaker said. "The Boy Scout movement is a miniature league of nations, in which the boys of 57 different nationalities are using the same handshake take the same oath and observe the same laws. The boys of today are the citizens of tomorrow. Their program is not one of entertainment by any means. If you think camp life is a vacation I would like to have you visit one of the summer camps. Out in the open the boy is developed physically, mentally and morally."

In the northwest there are 150,000 boys of scout age, the speaker said, of which 25,000 are already Boy Scouts. In Salem there are 100 scouts registered. The Boy Scout belongs to a movement and not an organization, for no buildings are maintained and for the 600,000 scouts in the United States there are less than 700 paid executives. Of the 7000 men in the northwest who have volunteered their time to the movement there are only 44 who are receiving payment for their time.

Several local men were special guests of the realtors and responded to an invitation to say a few words. Mayor J. B. Giesy stressed the demand for leadership. Elmo S. White told of the work of the drive, and that while it was going over, it was going a little slowly owing to the lack of physical assistance in the matter of soliciting. Howard Zinser, scout executive, told of the relationship between the YMCA and the Boy Scouts, emphasizing the fact that it was not competitive. The movement fits in to the history of social welfare and a matter of world-wide need, he said. George Arbuckle stressed the point that the work was collective and not individual and that the idea of the scout movement must be "sold" before any real progress could be made.

Umpire of Commission Hands Down Decision on 88 Separate Awards
WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—Under an award of the German-American mixed claims commission involving only part of the claims arising from the sinking of the British liner Lusitania, the German government must pay approximately $1,000,000 reparations for losses sustained by Americans through death, injury, property damage or otherwise in that disaster. The decision was handed down today by Judge Edwin B. Parker, umpire of the commission in 57 cases, representing only the first group of Lusitania claims. Eighty-eight separate awards were made, the amounts in the case involving property damage or destruction carrying 5 per cent interest a year, dating from May 7, 1915, when the Lusitania was sunk, to the date of payment, and those in the death cases the same interest dating from November 1, 1923, when the commission handed down its opinion in the case determining the measure of damages. Forty claims were denied in today's decision.

Artist Is Hunter
ROSEBURG, Feb. 21.—A. Philmister Procter, who recently completed the Roosevelt statue for Portland, and is at present working on the "Circuit Rider," to be presented to the state of Oregon by R. A. Booth of Eugene, visited Gus Peret at Yoncalla Sunday. Mr. Procter motored to Yoncalla with Campbell Church and family of Eugene. He is an enthusiastic big game hunter, as is also Mr. Church. Mr. Church and son Campbell Jr., made an extended trip to Alaska peninsula last spring with Edison Marshal, the noted author, where they were fortunate in securing some very large specimens of the giant Alaskan brown bear. The visit was also a meeting of big hunters, as Gus Peret, crack shot of the Peters Cartridge company, has a large collection of big game trophies which he has killed in Alaska and the Yukon territory. Mr. Peret will leave in April for his sixth trip to Alaska. Mr. Procter will make a try for the Alaskan brown bear this spring. He expects to hunt on Montague Island. After finishing "The Circuit Rider," Mr. Procter will begin work on the "Til Taylor" statue for Pendleton. Procter's studio is in Hollywood, California.

BOIL STARVED!
I prescribe ZEROLENE "F" for FORDS

Fords have a big margin of power and stamina and hence stand up in spite of the fact that probably half the Fords now running are actually oil-starved.
But why not give your Ford a chance to do its best for you? With proper lubrication—lubrication that really reaches the more inaccessible bearing surfaces such as the wrist pin bearings and the upper half of the cylinder walls, the average Ford will show a distinct improvement in power, gasoline mileage, and freedom from mechanical troubles.
Zerolene "F" for Fords, developed by our research engineers after years of study and experiment, does the lubricating job for Fords better, we believe, than any other oil hitherto offered to the public. And it costs not more, but less than any of the special Ford oils now on the market.
A Ford is an A-1 transportation investment. Protect your investment by proper lubrication.
