Strange Specimen Held—

Just what it is the sheriff's office has not definitely decided, but it is thought to be a demented Alaskan Indian. Reports from Brooks that a crazy Chinaman was wandering about the highway called Deputy Sheriffs Sam Burkhardt and Walter Barber to the scene. They could find no one and after getting in touch with Salem, learned that someone had brought the man here. The man is believed to have wandered from a federal hospital in Portland, as he had the name of the hospital written in a little book.

Culbertson, prohibition agent who shot Frank Valente at Vernonia Saturday night while making a liquor raid, is not on the state payroll, and that he is a prohibition agent and not a state agent. He was allowed a state star at the request of the district attorney for Columbia county so that he could cooperate with local officers in apprehending violators of the prohibition law. Recently complaints have come from Columbia county that he is excessively rough in dealing with suspects and Governor Pierce has written the district attorney that Culbertson must quit this kind of tactics or be deprived of his star. Following the regular meeting the legionaires adjourned for "chow," made possible by donations placed in a cigar box designed for the purpose. The post is now able to partake of an occasional feast without utilizing the post treasury.
