MR. and Mrs. C. P. Bishop were dinner hosts on Monday evening for their son, Mr. Chauncey Bishop of Pendleton who stopped briefly in Salem on his way to New Mexico where he will remain for a six week period on business. Covers were placed for Mr. and Mrs. William Burghardt, Mr. Chauncey Bishop, Charles Kay Bishop, and Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Bishop. A centerpiece of lavender crocus was used on the table.

With strikingly good enunciation Miss Nellie Schwab last night at the First Christian church interpreted three charming groups of song. Part I of the program included (a) "Love in the Springtime," (Ardui); (b) "A Spirit Flower," (Campbell-Tipton); (c) "Apple Blossoms," (Kellie); Miss Iva Claire Love, violinist, assistant for the evening, gave Sibelius' "Valse Triste," a highly finished number. Miss Schwab continued the program with: (a) "Down in

Smoker's Teeth Bleached White in 3 Minutes

New Safe Method Removes Stains—Makes Teeth Flashing White

No matter how much you smoke—no matter how stained your teeth may be—a new safe treatment has been perfected by prominent dentists, which bleaches away tobacco and other stains, leaving teeth wonderfully clear and white. This new discovery is called Bleachedent. Combination. Consists of a mild, harmless liquid which softens and breaks up the stains, and a new kind of paste. The paste not only quickly and gently removes the softened stains—but used daily prevents the formation of new ones. You'll be amazed to see how quickly dark teeth are made flashing white and lustrous. Bleachedent Combination is safe and harmless to use. No effect on enamel as its mild ingredients are especially designed to act only on surface stains—not on enamel itself. Originally prepared for whitening children's soft, sensitive teeth which are so easily injured by harsh, gritty pastes and powders. Get Bleachedent Combination today. Costs only a few cents at all good dealers, such as: Dan'l J. Fry, Perry's Drug Store, The Central Pharmacy, Worth & Gray, Miller's, Adv.

the Forest," (Ronald); (b) "The Lass With the Delicate Air," (Arne); (c) "Star - Eyes," (Speaks); (d) "Cry of Rachel," (Salter).

Each composition was full of the liquid soprano at its best. Miss Schwab gave the encore her audience asked. It was a peculiarly appropriate choice, for lavish floral tributes had just come to her hands, and her song, Sanderson's "Happy Day" was filled with floral allusions. Miss Love next played Cui's Orientale, and the incomparable "Cradle Song" from Brahms, adding as an encore Gossec's Gavotte. Miss Schwab sang as the introduction to her last group two numbers, with piano accompaniment only, choosing (a) "The Dream," Rubinstein; (b) "The Meadow Lark," (Garrish-Jones). For the lovely Mendelssohn composition, "On Wings of Song," Miss Love joined the soprano to play the obligato. The harmony of the picture was faultless. Against a background of palms, daffodils and pussy willows the three artists arranged themselves, Miss Schwab, the mezzo soprano of the evening, wearing pale blue silk with a coral girdle and shoulder-bow, touched with lace; Miss Mildred Jaeger, the fluent and accomplished pianist, gowned in lace-draped turquoise, with tucks of satin ribbon, and Miss Love in Copenhagen velvet with an exquisite girdle flower. As the last number on the program the group played Kramer's "The Last Hour," and for an encore, "The Waters of Minnetonka." Miss Schwab is a pupil of Mr. Dan F. Langenburg.

Cleverly designed invitations with the writing delightfully awry brought 40 high school girls together at the YWCA yesterday afternoon for a Mad Hatter tea and social time. The topsy-turvy party was sponsored by the Girl Reserves, each member bringing one guest. Elizabeth Fairchild, president of the group, poured. The games were appropriate to the topsy turvy idea. The membership committee, of which Loretta Varley is chairman, planned the affair.

The principal business of the yesterday meeting of the Lausanne hall guild centered around the report of the shrubbery committee and the developing of plans for a tea in the near future. Mrs. Elmo White, as chairman of the shrubbery committee, reported the forwarding of sketches and diagrams of the building and grounds to Professor Peck, head of the landscaping department at OAC, who in turn will make suggestions applicable to the needs. The tea will take place the second Tuesday in April, according to plans. A program will be provided as well as a stimulating afternoon address. The guild officially changed their regular day for meeting from the second Monday of the month to the second Tuesday.

The important first rehearsal for the pageant in two parts, (a) "The Great Refusal," and (b) "The Great Triumph" which will be presented at the First Congregational church on March 16, will take place this evening in the church parlors. The time is 7:30. Dr. and Mrs. C. E. Powell, returned missionaries from India are assuming full charge, providing the elaborate costumes for the affair. Similar pageants have been presented under the Powells' direction with extraordinary success.

The T. A. club was entertained last night at the home of Rosalia Buren with pledges as special guests. They were Cadoline Landers and Helen Campbell.

A dainty supper was served late in the evening following a delightful social evening. Members of the club attending were Kathleen Rogers, Frances Tucker, Mildred Gilbert, Bertha Gillis, Margaret Brittenstein, Helen Brittenstein, Geneva Sundin, Lorraine Pearce, Irma Bolander, Jean Shipp, Rosalind Rogers, Dorothy Kezar, Frances Shrove and Miss Beryl Holt, club advisor for the group.

Tells How $18,000,000 in Money From U. S. Was Spent in Russia

THAT the sum of $18,000,000, a substantial part for non-sectarian purposes, has gone into Russia for relief work through the activities of the American Jewish Joint Distribution Committee has just been made public in a report by James N. Rosenberg, Vice-Chairman.

These figures will give some idea of the size of all the American relief undertakings in Russia, to which the American Jewish Joint Distribution Committee so largely contributed:

912,000 tons of food and seed shipped in 237 vessels. 10,500,000 persons fed at one time at peak of famine. 13,592 institutions furnished with medical supplies. 6,400,000 inoculations made under direction of A. H. A. 1,300,000 vaccinations to prevent typhoid, paratyphoid and smallpox. Dr. Joseph Rosen, who has been Reconstruction Director for the Joint Distribution Committee in Russia, has made a remarkable report of his reconstruction work done under the supervision of the Reconstruction Committee of which Col. Herbert H. Lehman is Chairman. About 180,000 acres were plowed by 86 tractors sent from the U. S., and farmers were taught to operate them. The 250 seed stations produced enough purebred seed to plant 2,000,000 acres, and many seed loans were made. There were distributed 3,000 horses, 50 stallions, 400 oxen, 1,000 cows and 50 bulls. Cheese making co-operatives were organized in 32 places. 1,000 plows, 2,000 harrows and other farm tools were distributed. Many new houses were built, and wells drilled, and sanitary work done to benefit 40,000 families.

Much assistance was also given along the lines of co-operative buying leather, wood, and metal working, and trade school work. In co-operation with other branches of the relief, approximately a dozen trades were taught to about 4,000 boys and girls. The Jews in Russia are rapidly availing themselves of the opportunity, now once again given them, to return to the tillage of the soil, their ancient and historic labor.

ity, will talk informally on the "Conservation of Our Native Flowers."

Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Kay have had as their recent guest, Mr. C. A. Wallace of Portland, the father of Mrs. Kay. Mr. Wallace returned to Portland early in the week.

Mrs. Charles Hadley left yesterday for her home in Roseburg after a 10 day visit with her sister, Mrs. W. H. Byars, and her niece, Mrs. Ronald Glover. Her visit was pleasantly punctuated with delightful informal entertainment.

Mrs. Ralph Allen was the inspiration for a kitchen shower on a recent afternoon, with Mrs. Arthur Utley and Mrs. Corydon Blodgett the hostess. The matrons who compose the membership of the Sweet Briar club, with the Brush College Helpers, were present for the affair, each contributing a favorite recipe for the guest of honor's collection. A tea hour followed the giving of the recipes. Mrs. Ferd Allen and Mrs. John Schindler poured. The hostess was assisted by Mrs. M. C. Pettys. Mrs. Allen is moving to her new home on South Commercial street this week.

A one-act comedy, "Surprises," will furnish delightful entertainment for the members of the business and professional woman's club this evening at the chamber of commerce. A business session will follow the play.

Mrs. F. L. Uter and little daughter, visited in Portland over the week-end with her sister, Miss Edna Poole.

The UD club season ended with the meeting at which Mrs. Pruitt was afternoon hostess. Mrs. E. C. Quinn and Mrs. M. Pezzel were special guests. Three tables of bridge were played, high score going to Mrs. J. G. Nadon. The membership of the club includes: Mrs. C. J. Healy, Mrs. T. M. Barr, Mrs. Eugene Eckerlin, Sr.; Mrs. Eugene Eckerlin, Jr.; Mrs. J. B. Nathman, Mrs. Stephen Breitenstein, Mrs. Harry Weis, Mrs. E. A. Skelley, Rosalie Bach, Mrs. E. A. Pruitt, Mrs. C. B. Thomas, and Mrs. J. D. Nadon.

Mrs. Merrill Ohling was among those from Salem attending the meeting of the Northwest poetry branch in Portland. A constitution was formally adopted and officers elected, with Mrs. Gertrude Robinson Ross of Salem receiving a vice presidency. Richard Wetjen and A. De Spain were additional representatives at the meeting.

Girl 14 Years Old Is In Need of Good Home

Only 14 years old, wanting to be happy and carefree with other girls, and to be not wanted by your family, is just plain hard luck. At least so Dr. H. E. Morris felt yesterday when the case was brought to his attention.

He wants to find a home for the girl who is the only child by her mother's third marriage—the mother has been married five times in all. There are nine children, two by the first marriage, three, the second; the not wanted 14 year old girl, the only child by the third marriage; two children by the fourth marriage and one by the last.

Quiet appearing, tearful yet cheerful, the girl is being cared for temporarily by a friend, according to Dr. Morris.

"We want a home for the girl where she can go to school and I am sure there is some one in Salem who will give the girl a home and let her go to school," he said. Any one desiring to have the girl and desiring information may call Dr. Morris at the Morris Optical company or at his home.

Price or Quality?
A CERTAIN shoe manufacturer was compelled to make a larger margin of profit. In fact his very existence depended upon it. His established price did not keep pace with rising costs of overhead expense, materials, etc.
There were two methods of procedure by which the problem could be solved: Cheaper counters, cheaper sole leather, cut-off vamps and numerous other ways by which the quality could be materially reduced and make the shoe LOOK identically the same.
The second method considered, was the process of building up to quality, employing materials that were faultless in every respect. This however, necessarily entailed a greater expense.
Would the consumer pay more for quality? He decided to take a chance. Building up to quality rather than down to price was to be his future slogan. In a surprisingly short time his dreams of a "beaten path" came true.
Miller's agree with the method adopted by this shoe manufacturer. Millions of dollars are lost annually through lack of knowledge on consumers part to judge "hidden quality"—Whether it is shoes with paper counters, rubber boots made of glucose or fabrics with shoddy content. Tie up with a store that is not afraid to ask a few cents more for branded merchandise. You'll profit in the long run.
