Two Good Deals Handled By Childs & Bechtel Firm

T. G. Bligh, buys Cottage street property, located at 549 N. Cottage, from Margaret J. Martin, at a consideration of $6,000. Mr. Bligh immediately began work of remodeling the dwelling which consists of 10 rooms, also he will erect a modern 6 room bungalow on same lot which has a large frontage on Cottage street. The deal was handled by Childs & Bechtel, local realtors. Also a modern bungalow located at 2194 State street, just completed by H. J. Waite has been sold to E. E. Burch, at a price of $4,000. Mr. Burch expects to move into his new home about April 1. The deal was handled by Childs & Bechtel, local realtors.

NEW LAUNDRY IS GOING UP HERE

C. H. and E. L. Weider to Establish Business at Outlay of $75,000

Announcement of a new laundry of modern type was made this week by Charles H. and E. L. Weider, laundriesmen of Salem and Albany, who have purchased an expensive lot on High, between Trade and Ferry from Fred Schmidt and H. S. Gile, through the W. H. Grabenhorst Realty company, at an approximate cost of $12,000. With machinery costing about $40,000 and an additional $20,000 for a building, it is estimated the new industry will represent an expenditure of nearly $75,000.

Both the Weiders have lived in Albany for about 15 years, coming there from Illinois, and entering into the laundry business. Several years ago they obtained a monopoly upon the Albany trade and expanded, having taken an interest in both the Salem and the Capital City laundries here. C. H. Weider spends the first three days of each week in Salem, then he goes back to Albany and E. L. Weider is in Salem for the remainder of the week. Both men have their residences in Albany, though they are active in civic affairs in Salem. C. H. Weider belongs to the Rotary club and E. L. Weider to the Lions club.

Some Tips Taken From the Current Bulletin of the Chamber of Commerce

Secretary Wilson of the Salem chamber of commerce will have to excuse the building page editor for stealing the following items from the chamber of commerce bulletin before the date of its publication tomorrow. The items are too good to keep:

"I Told You So" That is what a lot of folks will be saying about Salem property ten years from now.

T. G. Bligh, who owns property in every ward in Salem, says that 12 years ago he was offered the ground on which the H. L. Stiff Furniture store is located for $8,000.

If there was no building there,

Mr. Bligh says he bought at auction in 1919 the house and lot at 359 North Liberty street for $2,000. He was recently offered $8,000 for the property.

Building Permits Records showing the following building permits issued in Salem: 1922—$1,082,270. 1923—$1,287,282. And for the first two months of this year—$663,145.

Flax It actually is a fact that the Willamette valley grows the finest flax in the world.

The State chamber of commerce and the Portland chamber of commerce is cooperating with Salem and the Salem chamber of commerce on a proposition for a linen mill in Salem.

Lima Flour Mills to Enlarge Plant

A new building is to be added to the already spacious plant of the Lima Flour mills northeast of the city, says the Mt. Angel News.

The new structure is to be a large two-story building with a full basement, and will be used principally as a warehouse and shipping house.

In addition to the new building the construction of which has already begun, new machinery will also be added.

Three new flour machines will be added, as well as three new machines for the manufacturing of cereals.

It has only been a short time since C. S. Lima and H. O. Edland conceived the idea of placing a new brand of cereals on the market. But since putting their "Viking Brand" of cereals on the market, the call for them has become so insistent that they find it necessary to enlarge their plant very materially to take care of the increased business.

The "Viking Brand" includes rolled oats, wheat nuts, health bran, graham flour, pancake flour, hearts of wheat, whole wheat and cake and pastry flour. The very best material is used in the manufacture of these cereals, and exceptional care is taken that they are always in the best possible condition when they reach the market.

The present output of these cereals is around 100 cases daily, and are sold under a very attractive label, made especially for the Lima Flouring Mills. Offices are maintained in Portland for the wholesale trade, while locally, and for the surrounding districts the sale of these products is handled by a representative directly from the mills.

The attention of the public is called to the fact that shortly advertisements will appear in this paper, and a close study of these advertisements is recommended.

They will acquaint the consumer with the products produced by a capable home industry, which deserves the patronage of home people. For this patronage the Lima Flouring Mills makes a respectful bid, guaranteeing their products to be in every way the very best that can be produced from good material.

Visitors at the mill are always welcome to come and get acquainted.

Hints From a House-Wife's Kitchen Diary

Some Tasty Dishes You Can Make

A DELICIOUS MINT JELLY FOR MEATS

Many housewives have learned, from government bulletins or otherwise, about pectin, which is the active constituent which makes jellies jell. They also know how pectin can be added to the juices of fruits which are deficient in this respect, thus insuring perfect jellies.

But home-made pectin has other uses as well. For instance, with the addition of a little flavoring matter, it makes an ideal mint jelly to serve with lamb and other meats, whether hot or cold. There are two kinds of pectin, that made with apples and that made with the white skin of oranges and lemons. For this jelly it is best to use the white skin of oranges. It may be seen that the cost will be very slight, as the oranges themselves are not employed but may be put to other purposes, such as making marmalade, orange juice, etc.

Use six large, thick-skinned oranges. Peel off, as finely as you can, the yellow part of the rind and then take off all the white skin and grind it in a food chopper. Add to this the juice of two lemons and two cups of water. Heat this slowly and boil for five minutes. In the government's bulletin on home-made pectin the use of enameled ware was advised, doubtless because enameled ware is not affected by fruit acids.

After boiling the mixture for five minutes, put it aside until the next morning, when you must add six cups of water and boil for ten minutes. Cool and strain through a flannel jelly bag. Measure the juice and put it on the stove again; when it boils add very slowly an equal amount of sugar. Continue to boil the jelly until it "sheets" when "tested from a spoon. Add some green vegetable coloring and six to ten drops of oil of pepper-mint, according to taste. Pour into hot sterilized glasses and, after cooling, cover with melted paraffin and seal.

PRUNE-LEMON JELLY YOU'LL WANT AGAIN

Here is a delightful children's dessert, either for an ordinary meal or as a treat at a party for little folks. Incidentally, it will be enjoyed by older persons as well for it is a welcome variation upon the usual gelatin desserts to which all of us are accustomed. Take half a pound of prunes, put them in cold water for fifteen minutes and then remove pits and halves the prunes. Soak two envelopes of gelatin in a cup of cold water, then dissolve this in three pints of boiling water. It is well to do this in an enameled ware saucepan, which is proof against the acids in the fruit. Add the prunes, a scant two cups of sugar, and a cup of lemon juice. Pour into an enameled ware pudding pan or serving dish and chill.

HOW THE ENGLISH MAKE TOFFEE

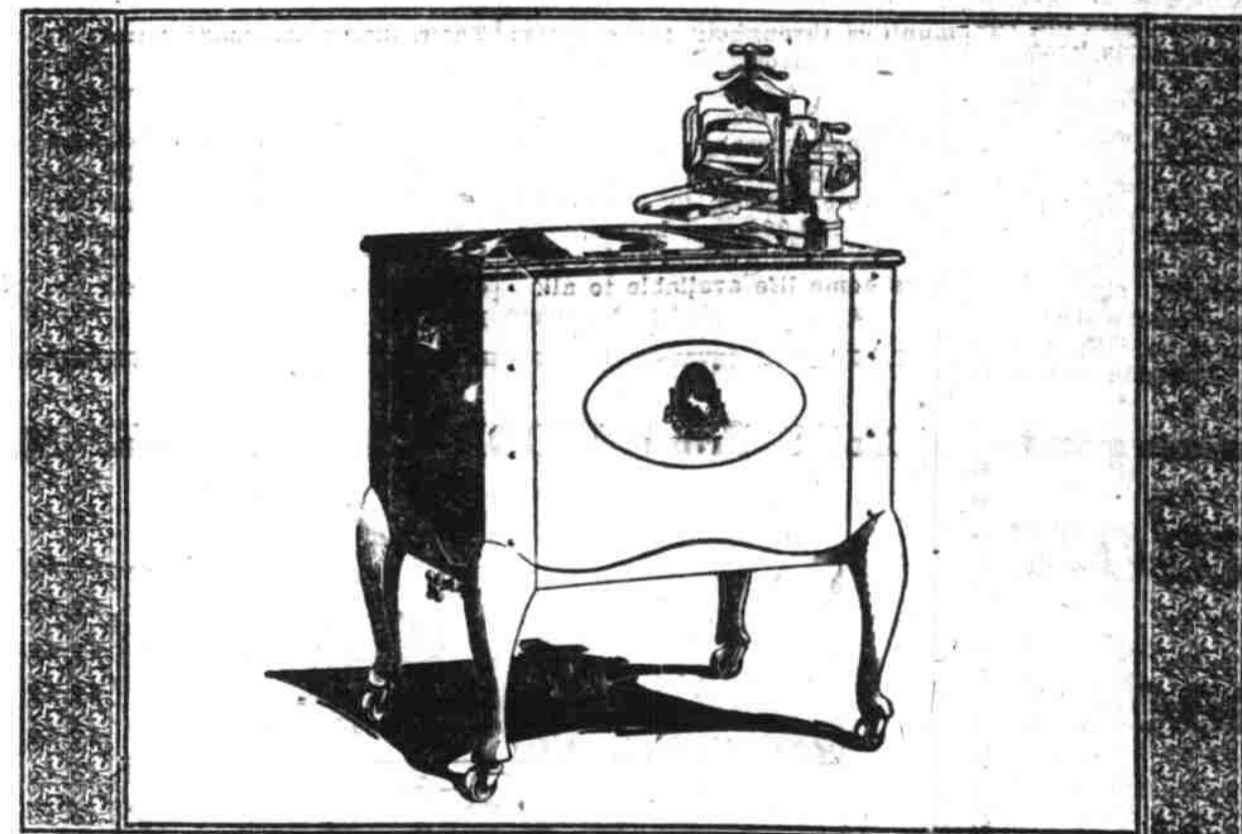

Speaking of children, was there ever a child who didn't like toffee? If more of these old-fashioned candies were made at home there would be fewer cases of spoiled stomachs in our households and fewer young men and women who take tablets for "indigestion."

The best toffee is made in this manner: Mix four cups of brown sugar and half a cup of corn syrup with half a cup of water, and put on the fire, stirring carefully until all the sugar is dissolved. Let this come to a boil and then take off the fire and add four tablespoons of butter. Put the mixture back on the stove once more and boil until the butter has penetrated throughout the candy. Pour onto a greased enameled ware tray of any kind and, as the candy cools, mark it into squares. When it has hardened break these apart and wrap each piece separately in wax paper. Incidentally, you will find that the labor of "cleaning up" is a great deal less if you have used an enameled ware saucepan for the cooking, since even the stickiest mixtures do not adhere long to its porcelain-like surface.

CANDIED "SWEETS" IN THE REAL OLD SOUTHERN STYLE

The Southern housewife is the one who knows how to prepare sweet potatoes so beautifully golden brown and so deliciously candied that they fairly melt in your mouth. Here is the way to cook them: Boil three or four medium-sized potatoes; peel and slice them and place the slices in an enameled ware baking dish in a saucepan put half a cup of water, a cup of brown sugar and two tablespoons of butter and cook this mixture until it forms a thick syrup. Add barely a pinch of salt and pour this over the sliced potatoes in the baking dish. Cover and put in a moderate oven for fifteen minutes; then take off the cover and bake a few minutes longer to brown the potatoes on top. Serve from the enameled ware baking dish, which is sturdy enough for the kitchen and attractive enough for the dining room.

Announcing The CONLON

A GROUP of electric clothes washer experts with years of experience and strong financial backing set about to produce the best washer that could be made. They set as their ideal a machine as close to perfection in service, durability, convenience and design as is humanly possible. They desired to make a machine to satisfy that great number of people who demand only the best. They built The CONLON. We have studied this machine through tests. Now we are ready to state in our printed word that we believe The CONLON is a washer without a superior. Its good design you can see for yourself from the picture. If you will come and see the machine in self in operation you will appreciate the superiority of its mechanical construction. Every part of The CONLON, from the sturdy cast aluminum eight-position wringer to the big oversized all-rubber connecting cord indicates the thought and care that has gone into its building. All moving parts are enclosed in the finely-proportioned, sturdy cabinet, up off the floor. Features of safety and convenience, exclusive with The CONLON, will be as interesting as its sanitary and compact construction. The CONLON costs no more than most ordinary washers, and is sold on the same easy payment plan as any other clothes washer.
