MR. GEORGE L. BAKER of Portland was the inspiration for one of the charming affairs of yesterday when Mrs. William Bell entertained at a one o'clock luncheon in the new dining room of the Gray Belle. Covers were placed for 26. Pink carnations were the attractive table flowers for the occasion. Following the luncheon Mrs. Baker returned to Portland. She will be in Salem again this afternoon.

The Sweet Briar club was pleasantly entertained Wednesday when the members met with Mrs. C. C. Page. The atmosphere of the meeting was political. Polk county candidates were gone over. Those taking part in the informal discussions were Mrs. L. A. Grote, Mrs. Glen Adams, Mrs. A. I. Steiner and Mrs. Arthur Utley. The hostess served afternoon luncheon following the discussion. The rooms were attractive with spring flowers. Mrs. Ed Pratt will be the next hostess.

Mr. and Mrs. B. E. Sisson will be hosts this evening in the new dining room of the Gray Belle to 26 guests. A pleasant evening program has been arranged.

Mrs. W. W. Moore entertained delightfully yesterday at dinner, the occasion being that of Mrs. Moore's own birthday as well as the birthday of one of her guests, Mrs. Campbell. Covers were placed for Mr. and Mrs. Campbell, Mrs. Chamberlain, Mr. and Mrs. Will Randall, Miss Dorothy Moore and Mrs. W. W. Moore. Daffodils were used attractively on the birthday table. The guests of the day were former friends of the Moores.

In order to attend the eleventh annual convention of the State Daughters of the American Revolution, Mrs. La Moine R. Clark, vice regent of Chemeketa chapter, will leave this morning for Eugene. The sessions started yesterday evening, registration having been conducted during the afternoon. Speakers at last night's meeting were Miss Anne Lane, state regent, and Miss Hermine Schwed. Mrs. E. E. DeCou, who is regent of the Lewis and Clark chapter at Eugene, received the delegates there. A large group, including the nine elected delegates, together with three alternates, left for the first of the sessions yesterday morning. The group, which motored down, included Mrs. Elmo White, Mrs. H. T. Love, Mrs. Homer Goulet, Mrs. U. G. Shipley, Mrs. R. J. Vallton, Mrs. Harry Styles, Mrs. W. H. Byrd, Miss Lilian Applegate, Miss Frances Richards, Mrs. David Looney, Mrs. B. L. Steeves and Mrs. Ed Jory.

The Nemo "500" club did not meet last night as planned on account of the illness of Mrs. O. C. Locke, who was to have been hostess.

Meeting this afternoon in the parlors of the church, the members of the First Christian church woman's missionary society will have the interesting opportunity of hearing Mrs. Myra Shank speak concerning her local work. On Tuesday Mrs. Shank spoke at the Etokta Wozjan's club. Special trio music for the afternoon will be given by Mrs. John Humphreys, Mrs. Dorothy Taylor and Miss Dorothy Taylor. The program and business meeting will be followed by a pleasant tea-hour.

Five new women's organizations were represented at the second meeting of the woman's civic league which was held this week at the chamber of commerce, Mrs. Richard Cartwright, the league president, presided at the meeting which was largely given over to discussion pertaining to the auto park. Several plans were developed for the beautification of the grounds. The league has large support, approximately 1500 women being behind the movement. The new organizations represented include the Rebeccas, the Maccabees, the WCTU, Degree of Honor and Spanish War Veterans.

Mrs. Donald Young is a guest in Portland this week. She is spending the day with relatives and friends.

Mrs. Stella Kellogg Drake, grand worthy matron of the Eastern Star, will visit the Chadwick chapter officially Tuesday, March 18. A no-host luncheon will be served in her honor at noon at the Marion hotel. Covers will be placed for 18, the group including the officers of the order. Following the luncheon Mrs. Drake will formally instruct the chapter officers at the temple. The meeting in the evening will be in regular order with Mrs. Drake officially present.

The Mandarin Mah Jongg club met with Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Griffith for a recent evening of the delightful oriental game. Three tables were played. Richard Slater achieved the honors. Mr. and Mrs. Carl T. Pope will be the next hosts.

Mrs. George Pearce, 267 North Winter street, is hostess today for the north and west divisions of the Ladies' Aid society of the First Presbyterian church.

Oregon Agricultural College, Corvallis, March 14.—Catherine Barbyte of Salem, senior in education, is a member of the senior girls' basketball team, which is one of the contenders for the championship of the interclass contest.

Mayor and Mrs. George L. Baker, who are in town in a political and in a social way for a few days, will be special guests this evening at the Shrine formal dance in Derby hall. The dance is the final one in the series of five planned for the winter, the preceding four having been, as the fifth promises to be, most enjoyable affairs.

Miss Eva M. Miles, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. C. Miles, 993 Court street, has been elected May Queen at Pacific college, to reign at the biennial May-day celebration. Miss Miles is a senior at the college. The crowning of Queen Eva L. will be at the hands of Howard Nottage, who was elected cardinal by the women of the college, the men of the student body having elected Queen Eva. The coronation will take place Saturday, May 3. An interesting cut of Miss Miles was run in yesterday morning's Oregonian.

The "Book Night" program planned by W. C. Dibble made the March meeting of the Salem Arts league a particularly interesting one. Gertrude Bobison Ross presided. The feature talk of the evening was that given by Miss Maude Covington, local librarian. Mr. George Litchfield provided the pioneer atmosphere for the meeting. He spoke of the limited reading resources of the early settlers. A hymnal and a Bible formed the library for most homes. N. D. Elliott brought a number of valuable old books. One book he had was a copy of the old, familiar McGuffey's reader. Many others brought old manuscripts, books, and letters. An original letter from Ella Wheeler Wilcox was shown. Both Dr. and Mrs. F. G. Franklin contributed generously to the pleasure of the evening. Dr. Franklin giving a wealth of personal reminiscences concerning many men and women of note. Mrs. Franklin was a guest at one time in the Eugene Field home, gaining from the widow many interesting facts concerning the loved poet. She also brought in literary items gleaned from the trip to the Atlantic last summer, she and Dr. Franklin having made a number of interesting literary stops. Mr. J. M. Clifford gave a representative reading from Lord Kames' book. Mr. Dibble also spoke briefly during the evening. For the April meeting of the league Father J. R. Buck will review his trip abroad from the standpoint of art and the museum.

Arthur Richard Wetjen, who has recently moved to Salem, is the author of the first story in the March "Sunset." It is a sailing story of tropical atmosphere, entitled "Laura." Mr. Wetjen is an unusually successful local writer.

Mrs. J. A. Mills will entertain the members of the Three-Link club today.

Mrs. Reed Rowland was hostess Wednesday afternoon for the members of the Adolyntk club. Bridge at three tables was the diversion of the day. Spring flowers were used in the development of an attractive St. Patrick's day motif. The five invited guests of the club were Mrs. Earl Dae, Mrs. Armin Berger, Mrs. Otto Hoppes, Mrs. Lawrence Imlah and Mrs. Burrell Adams. The hostess awarded two prizes for the afternoon, one for club members and one for guests. The guest prize went to Mrs. Earl Dae. Mrs. James Teed won the club prize. Members present were Mrs. Earl Paulsen, Mrs. Oral Lemmon, Mrs. James Teed, Mrs. Oscar Zeller, Mrs. Jesse George, Mrs. Carl Chapler and the hostess, Mrs. Reed Rowland.

"KEEP 'EM ON GIRLS, IF YOU VALUE BEAUTY"

AMERICAN girls and women should avoid falling into the habit of leaving off their corsets; if they want to retain beauty of form.

That, at least, is the opinion of Justine Johnstone, international beauty and actress, who who is making New York a visit, accompanied by her husband, Walter Wagner, from London, where he is now prominent in the theatrical world. Miss Johnstone, blonde, trim and altogether lovely, is an American by birth, as is Mr. Wagner. Prior to her departure for London, several years ago, Miss Johnstone was starred in musical productions on Broadway.

Miss Johnstone was asked the secret of her consistently exquisite form, that American girls might profit from her advice and example.

"My firm belief in the value of a comfortable corset aids me materially in training my figure along trim lines," she said. "The woman who persistently leaves off her corset can never cultivate trimness at the waist. Frankly, she is apt to become flabby, a condition which is not conducive to beauty of form."

JUSTINE JOHNSTONE.
International beauty and actress who has just returned from abroad.
Miss Johnstone holds a secure position in the front rank of London stage favorites. When she returns to England it will be to rehearse in a new musical revue.
