CHARGED WITH BRIBERY

NEW YORK, March 13 .- Chas. Peter of Salt Lake City, president of the International Mascot Mining company of Pocatello, Idaho, was held in $25,000 bail today on a charge of grand larceny in connection with alleged stock swindles. His operations were said by witnesses to have covered a period of nine years, to have extended from New York to California, and to have caused suicides, insanity and destitute homes.

As an indoor sport, gossip doesn't seem nearly so popular since somebody mentioned damage suits.
