Lulu Crandall of The Dalles Aspires to Attend National Convention

Mrs. Lulu D. Crandall of The Dalles yesterday filed with the secretary of state her statement as a candidate for delegate to the national republican convention, to represent the second congressional district. Her slogan is "A Republican because that party stands for home and country."

ago. A strong box containing the will and securities and jewelry valued at about $100,000 is missing, James said. Charles Wilkins, the attorney added, was not a beneficiary under the will.

James had planned to leave for Colorado Springs tonight in connection with a $26,000 real estate lien recently granted against the slain woman.

Dr. Wilkins is alleged to have

ECONOMY vs. WASTE

By JOHN T. ADAMS, Chairman of the Republican National Committee

No period in American history records as great improvement in conditions as the period since March, 1921. It can be realized only by comparing the hard times and general depression which existed then with the activity and prosperity which exist today.

When the Republican party came into power three years ago the situation could not have been much worse.

Five million wage-earners were walking the streets. Agriculture generally was on the verge of bankruptcy. Interest rates were high. Government securities were selling at 85. Business of all kinds was bad, and very apprehensive of the future.

Federal expenses and taxes were high. The nation was still legally in a state of war with the central powers of Europe. All nations were suspicious of each other and engaged in competition to increase their military and naval equipment.

Under Republican administration a marvelous transformation has taken place.

The industrial activity of the last year has been the greatest left a trail of broken hearts in her numerous martial ventures. Cunningham who was 72 years old when he married, divorced her after she had obtained more than $500,000 of his fortune and had sold controlling interest in his bank to a competitor.

There was an affair, according to police in which an Oklahoma banker admitted he took his institution's funds to spend on Zoe. Then there was a youth found dead in an alley at Claremore, Oklahoma, who left a note saying he killed himself because Zoe had spent all his money.

She separated from C. A. Garling, one of her first husbands, after she shot him one night at San Antonio, Texas, believing she said, he was a burglar.

Still another husband, Grover Berham, formerly of Tulsa, Oklahoma, was shot and killed in the act of robbing a house at Houston, Texas.

Zoe broke with Albert W. Marksheffel, her latest husband in 1919, when she sued him for $28,000 she alleged she lent him to start a garage in Colorado Springs.

At the time of her death Dr. Williams was defendant in a $50,000 suit in federal court here in which Mrs. John McNamara alleged alienation of her husband's affections.

More Acreage Signed Up In Meeting at Dallas

Prune growers from Salem, Yamhill, Forest Grove, Sheridan, McMinnville and other districts met at Dallas Wednesday afternoon to continue signing up for the new Oregon Growers Cooperative Prune association.

Several fine talks were given, according to Seymour Jones, president, who was forced to leave the meeting early. While there was considerable acreage signed up at Dallas, he was unable to state the exact amount last night. M. J. Newhouse, acting general manager of the present Oregon Growers Cooperative association, did not return until late last night and the total acreage subscribed is not known.

According to Kenneth Miller, who has charge of the campaign, 85 growers at Yamhill signed up with 1600 acres of prunes, all of which are bearing fruit. The old association had 81 growers, representing 1500 acres, of which nearly half were not bearing. Mr. Miller stopped for a short time in Salem yesterday on the way to the Dallas meeting.

Twelve Carloads of Prunes Picked Up in This District

Twelve carloads of prunes have been picked up in small lots throughout the prune district, according to W. H. Brewer, representing Rosenberg Bros. of San Francisco, who stopped in Salem this week for a final clean-up. A majority of prunes were in such small lots that the packers had not attempted to purchase them. While some of the prunes were 40c, for which it is understood Mr. Brewer paid as high as 4 1/2 cents a pound, a majority were of the smaller sizes, though some of these ran as small as 80s. Some of the prunes were of the 1922 season.

Telegrams received in Salem yesterday reported that private packers in Kansas City and Chicago were making low offers for Oregon prunes. From the former place it was stated that an effort was being made to make up pool cars of 40s at 5 1/2 cents, and 50s at 4 1/2 cents. The latter point quoted 30s at 8 cents and 40s at 5 1/2 cents.

Well, why shouldn't officials dabble in Wall street? Wall street dabbles in officialdom.

On the following Thursday night President Carl G. Doney of Willamette university will speak on "The Use of the Bible and Prayer in Evangelism."

Tonight at 7 o'clock the teams that are soliciting the church's quota of the world service fund will report.

The most irritating sign of the times is a "keep out" sign.

SHOWER HALTS GLOBE FLIERS AT VANCOUVER

heavy rainstorm, but returned after scouring the heavens south of Tacoma for a view of the world aviators at 4:30 p. m.

Lieutenant Maner, a former forest patrol flier, arrived early today from Vancouver, Wash., after an hour and one-half flying. He made his way to Seattle from San Diego in his own plane with stops at Redding, Eugene and Vancouver.

The American aviators will be met at the field tomorrow by a delegation representing the Seattle chamber of commerce. They will be taken to the College club for luncheon.

Lands in Tree Top

ROSEBURG, Or., March 19.—Lieut. W. R. Sweeley, commanding officer of the official escort of the world flight aviators, was forced to make a landing in the tree-tops 30 miles west of Roseburg today, wrecking his plane beyond repair. The fliers received a few minor scratches and bruises.

His companion, a photographer named Hoff of Los Angeles, taking press pictures, escaped without injury, although he was pinned under the wreckage of the plane for a considerable time.

Lieutenant Sweeley had been accompanying Lieut. Erik Nelson, pilot of one of the world flight planes. Sweeley stopped overnight at Medford for repairs and gasoline. The accident occurred soon after he resumed his flight today.

Lieutenant Sweeley said tonight that his engine "froze" when he was 40 miles out of Medford, due to lack of oil. He advised Hoff to take the parachute and jump, but Hoff refused. Rather than desert his companion, Sweeley also stayed with the plane and began looking for a landing place. Espying a small clearing high up in the mountain he glided for it, but struck a high snag and the plane plunged to the ground, a wreck. It cost $20,000 and will be a total loss, Sweeley said. The two men made their way through the woods to a homesteader's cottage four miles from the wreck and thence Sweeley was brought here, while Hoff remained at the ranch house.

GREER TO BE HELD FOR HIGHER COURT

quite a "rage" at Greer's insistence on Miss Normand leaving the Dines apartment for home. Dines' testimony that Miss Normand was in the room with him when Greer arrived and for some time afterwards and the evidence of Miss Edna Purviance that from the bathroom door she saw Miss Normand entering the bedroom from the living room, where Dines and Greer were, immediately after the shooting. (Miss Normand has steadfastly maintained that she was not in the room at the time of the shooting.)

Of the four who admittedly were at the party, three were in court today, Dines, Greer and Miss Purviance, film actress. Miss Normand is in the east.

Dines related a consecutive series of circumstances and events from the time Greer knocked at the door for admission up to approximately the time the shots were fired.

At that juncture his memory went back into its old groove and the familiar "I don't know" was his reply to a query as to who shot him. At the objection of the defense he was not permitted to reply to the question "Did Miss Normand shoot you?"

He was allowed to say that Miss Purviance did not, and he was certain that he had not shot himself.

To the court's straight question as to whether he was not under the influence of liquor, he returned a definite "Yes."

Could he walk? Oh, yes, Straight? Not particularly straight.

He explained his condition by saying that he had been out all the night before and had been drinking all that day.

Miss Purviance, he said, had been with him in the apartment all day, from 8 o'clock in the morning. Miss Normand had been there between one and a half and two hours prior to the shooting.

The bullet wound discrepancies developed when medical testimony pointed to three wounds, one in Dines' chest, one in his shoulder and one in the ear with a piece of the lobe missing. An argument between opposing counsel at the conclusion of the hearing was as to whether or not all the bullets had been fired from behind brought out nothing definite at that point and on the discrepancy, the court announced. Greer was ordered held to answer to the superior court.
