COMB SAGE TEA INTO GRAY HAIR

Darkens Beautifully and Restores Its Natural Color and Luster at Once

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea, with sulphur and alcohol added, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get the ready-to-use preparation improved by the addition of other ingredients in a large bottle, at little cost, at drug stores, known as "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," thus avoiding a lot of muss.

While gray, faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, no one can tell, because it does it so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning all gray hairs have disappeared. After another application or two your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and luxuriant, and you appear years younger.—Adv.

MT. ANGEL WINS FROM COLUMBIA

State Non-Conference Title Decided on Local Floor Last Night

The Mount Angel college basketball team defeated the Columbia university team of Portland by the score of 38 to 27 in an exciting and closely contested game at the Salem high school gymnasium last night.

The two schools have been bitter rivals for years and last night's game was the third of a series of three games to decide this season's championship. Mount Angel defeated Columbia by the score of 32 to 29 in Portland and Columbia evened the series by winning from the college team 34 to 29 at Mount Angel last Sunday. As a result of last night's game

Mount Angel claims the non-conference championship of the state. The game last night was fast and closely contested and both squads were going at top speed for almost the whole game. Columbia led through most of the game, the first half ending 16 to 7 in their favor. Mount Angel, however, in the latter part of the second half started a sensational rally that eventually netted them the game. For the last few moments of play the teams were within a few points of each other and excitement was at fever pitch.

Large delegations were present from both schools and as the game ended the Mount Angel supporters practically carried their team from the floor.

Quirk, Columbia forward, with 13 points was the high point man of the game. Arright, Mount Angel forward, followed closely with 11 points to his credit.

In a preliminary game the Mount Angel second team defeated the Columbia Juniors by a score of 33 to 20. A double foul was called but neither player converted.

The summary: Columbia Mount Angel Arright (11) F. Vaahn (3) Mann (8) F. Quirk (13) Scott (6) C. Sweeney (9) Gray (1) G. Logan Spear (2) G. Murphy (2) Hudson (2) S. Referee: Ray Brooks.

Carload of Franquettes Sold to Boston Buyers

Practically one carload of franquette walnuts has been sold to Boston buyers at 25 cents a pound according to an announcement made at the offices of the Oregon Growers' Cooperative association Thursday. The shipment was for 380 bags, mainly from the Skyline orchards, south of Salem in the Rosedale district. While it was hoped higher prices might be obtained, when it was found that the California nuts were being quoted at this price it was decided to unload. The association still has 240 pounds of halves taken from culls and 80 bags of grafted seedlings on hand.

Perhaps the best description of the theme lies in the episode which occurs when two cow punchers find themselves in love with the same girl. The men are "partners," not partners. She tells the loser first, explaining that the other man is dependable—steady. "Is there any other little thing about it?" he asks.

"I love him," replies the girl. "Keno," says the rider, rolling a cigarette. And gives her up.
