TWO WITNESSES ARE HEARD BY COMMITTEE

Quimby was reported to be sick. Who will go on the stand tomorrow was uncertain.

In addition to developing the right film transaction, the committee today received several bundles of telegrams, some between Roxie Stinson and Jess Smith, some relating to Attorney General Daugherty and his brother and some from Texas regarding oil affairs. None was said to be of great importance.

Corroborate Story

The Jess Smith-Roxie Stinson telegrams were said to corroborate Miss Stinson's testimony that she and Smith were in frequent communication regarding financial and other matters.

The committee also today gave a big order to the department of justice through Arthur Robb, chief of its mail hand files section. Upon Senator Wheeler's request, he was directed to submit a list of every case presented to the department since Mr. Daugherty took office, about 50,000 in all. Compilation of the list, Robb estimated, would take six weeks.

NOTED SPEAKERS
IN CITY TONIGHTDr. Nehemiah Boynton and Hamilton Holt to Appear Here.

One of the greatest meetings of its kind is scheduled for the First Presbyterian church tonight, when two noted men will speak, Hamilton Holt, well known publicist and editor, and Dr. Nehemiah Boynton, former prominent eastern clergyman and now chairman of the management committee of the World Alliance. In view of the reputation of the speakers, it is expected that the church will be packed. The world court will be the keynote of the discussion tonight.

Some conception as to the number of activities in which the two men have participated may be gleaned from the following sketches of their work during the last few years.

Mr. Holt as a number of organizations for the purpose of promoting international friendship, represented the League to Enforce Peace at the Versailles Peace conference. Among the organizations in which he was an officer or director are the League to Enforce Peace, the American-Scandinavian Foundation, The American Society of International Law, the Japan Society, The Italy-America Society National Institute of Social Science, the Church Peace Union and the World Alliance for International Friendship. He is also a member of the board of trustees of the Near East Relief, and with Albert Shaw of the Review of Reviews, and Robert J. Cuddihy of the Literary Digest, composed the nominating committee for the recent annual meeting of the board.

PINCHOT ATTACKS
ATTORNEY GENERALDaugherty Has No Place in Cabinet Says Pennsylvania Governor

LEWISBURG, Penn., March 20.—The department of justice, under Harry M. Daugherty, has failed in its task of defending the public domain, and Mr. Daugherty "has no proper place in the cabinet," Governor Pinchot of Pennsylvania tonight told an open meeting of the Shields Memorial Bible class of the Lewisburg Presbyterian church. The governor said that "the president himself found it necessary to take the oil scandal prosecutions away from the department of justice to which they rightly belonged."

"I have no personal quarrel with Mr. Daugherty," Governor Pinchot said. "On more than one occasion he has helped me in my effort to enforce the law in Pennsylvania. I think of him not as an individual but as the symbol of a wrong conception of the obligations of public office and of the failure to live up to his duties."

Whoopie! Hu-ra-a-y!
Spring are Came Today

Oh, boy! What a grand and glorious feeling! Spring are came. At last the almanac declares that the winsome miss that is a forerunner of spring flowers, picnics and a feeling of general restlessness duly arrived, came in on the breath of midnight.

The season, always welcome, is early this year, nearly six weeks, in fact, according to Joe Pink, weather prophet and partner of Paul Bunyan, owner of the great blue ox and digger of the Columbia river gorge.

No snow greets the new arrival, and early flowers that bloom in the spring, tra-la, tra-la, are out with bright smiles. Orchards are seeking to look their best and have already put forth their blossoms in welcome. Gardens have been planted, the old flannels packed away in moth balls and small boys have begun to group on vacant lots to play baseball.

Sure, Spring has come, and today is the first day.

Filbert Polishing Machine
Is Made By Local Experts

Filbert growers of the northwest are holding their first conference in Vancouver, Wash., today. Efforts will be made to make an annual event of the meeting. The aim of the meeting is to gather ideas on marketing and production with the possibility of increasing the acreage. No efforts will be made to bring about a cooperative association.

Polished filberts is the latest wrinkle in the industry and in order to polish the nuts, William Ray and Earl Peary, of the Oregon Growers' Cooperative association, have devised a machine for this purpose. The machine has been placed in operation here and is said to do the work perfectly at the Salem plant. The nuts are rubbed against each other when they are placed in a revolving barrel.

CITY NEWS

Church Drive Progressing—Partial reports of committees in charge of the campaign to fill Salem's quota for the world service work being carried out in the Methodist churches last night brought the total raised by the First Methodist church to $4300, about $1500 short of the quota, it was announced by Rev. Blaine E. Kirkpatrick, pastor. The Jason Lee church went over the top with its campaign, raising $2,000. The Leslie Methodist will open its campaign next Sunday.

Demarest Party Date Set

Preliminary plans for the opening of the Demarest party evangelical services in Salem are under way, word having been received by Rev. Blaine E. Kirkpatrick, pastor of the First Methodist church, Thursday morning that Mrs. Demarest was satisfied with the proposal made at a recent meeting here at which nearly 15 churches were represented. The evangelical campaign will open on April 13.

Investigate Flushers

Nearly every type of street flushing equipment in Portland was examined and studied yesterday by a committee from the city council in order to learn more about equipment that is needed and that probably will be ordered for Salem in the near future. As the city would have to pay a greater amount for water if a flusher is purchased, particular interest was taken in equipment provided with a pumping outfit, it being pointed out by Mayor John B. Giesy that there are two creeks running through the city and that it was not necessary to purchase the extra water. Those making the trip besides Mayor Giesy were Aldermen A. F. Marcus, B. B. Herrick and George W. Thompson, of the street committee; Alderman Ralph Thompson and Walter Low, street commissioner.

Stolen Auto Recovered

The coupe belonging to August Knitson, 1395 High street, which was stolen from in front of Smith's cigar store Wednesday night, was recovered near Eola yesterday afternoon by Officer White.

Speaker Has Busy Day

Three addresses will be given today by Hamilton Holt, noted publicist and editor, who is spending the day in the city. He will address an assembly at the high school about 10 o'clock and then appear at the Willamette university chapel services at 11:25 o'clock. In the evening he will speak at the First Presbyterian church, the main address of the day. Dr. Carl Gregg Doney, president of Willamette university, will preside at the night meeting. Mr. Holt is speaking on the world court.

Growers Representing
600 Acres Sign Pact

Twenty-one growers, representing 600 acres of prunes, signed contracts with the new Oregon Growers' Cooperative Prune association at the mass meeting held in Dallas this week, it was announced at the Oregon Growers' Cooperative association offices yesterday. Approximately 150 growers of the district attended the meeting. Small growers who are interested are expected to bring up the total acreage to 1000 acres.

A committee of the Dallas growers will conduct a membership campaign in the near future and every prune grower in the district will be visited. The Dallas quota of signed acreage for organization of a local branch of the association has been set at 2000 acres, with a membership fee of $10 per acre. This amount, it is said, would prove sufficient to finance a packing plant at Dallas, which would cost close to $20,000. There are more than 4000 acres in the Dallas district and around 100 members of the old association who are expected to sign up early next week.

Two Great Days
for Salem

The United Army Stores, Inc., have leased our location and we must get out. There is no time to waste, so we have marked the remainder of the Gale & Co. stock at such ridiculously low prices that Saturday night should find bare walls and empty shelves. This is our finish and we want the people of Salem who have patronized us so splendidly in the past, to take advantage of the Greatest Bargains we have ever offered the people of Salem and vicinity
