FIRST DAY OF SPRING
Winter is gone,
And now is spring:
What shall I say,
And what shall I sing?

Yellow ribbon streamers ran from the center basket to the yellow-rose individual nut baskets which were combined with the place cards. At the place of Miss Dorothy Boardman who was seated at one end of the table, Miss Daniel being at the other, a small gift box concealed in the ferns. It held Miss Daniel's engagement diamond in its tiffany basket setting. The birthday cake, covered with tiny candies, carried out further the yellow and white color scheme. Miss Daniel sent a basket of carnations to Lausanne hall at the dinner hour to announce the secret there. Mr. Regele announced at the Phi Kappa Pi fraternity house. Those invited to share in the pleasure of the birthday announcement dinner were: Miss Frances M. Richards, Mrs. Florian Von Eschen, Miss Marie Corner, Miss Laura Best, Miss Geraldine Cook, Miss Beryl Marsters, Miss Helen Richardson, Miss Elaine Chapin, Miss Dorothy Boardman, Miss Clara Smith and Miss Violet Coe.

Arrayed in assorted costumes, the members of the Business and Professional Women's club, enjoyed a hard times party Wednesday evening at the Chamber of Commerce. The guests pleasantly diverted themselves with various games. A program was given under the charge of Miss Laura Hale and Miss May Hale. Miss Grace Elizabeth Smith, accompanied by Miss Ellis, sang a group of Irish songs. Hard time refreshments were served, Mrs. Blanche Isherman assisting her.
The costumes varied from the little-red-school-house pig-tail lass type to that of Peter Pan, Mary Pickford, Samantha Allen, Mrs. Murphy, Carrie Nation, country schoolma'ams, generation-ago spinsters and many others. "Maude Mueller" even being polygamously accompanied by several "judges", or excellent imitations of them.
The spirit of Erin prevailed during the evening, the program consisting of Irish quotations, witticisms, anecdotes, etc. After refreshments, a real Virginia reel, near-clogs, and other forms of dancing were enjoyed.

The two-act comedy, "Dr. Cure-All", and the pageant "Isabel's Dream of the World's Children" will be presented this evening by the Senior King's Herald at the First Methodist church. The cast has had excellent preparation. The program, to which there will be no admission charged, will begin at 7:45. A silver offering will be taken during the evening.
The Woman's Union of the First Congregational church will meet this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.
The birthday of Mrs. William Brown was very pleasantly observed when Mrs. W. H. Dancy entertained at luncheon and Mah Jonge. The affair was in the nature of a surprise. Jonquils and yellow candles were used on the attractive luncheon table. A gift-cessage marked the place of the guest of honor, Mrs. Brown. Covers were also placed for: Mrs. Reuben P. Boise, Mrs. W. H. Eldridge, Mrs. O. C. Locke, Mrs. Milton Meyers, Mrs. W. Carlton Smith, Mrs. W. A. Jones, Miss Mabel Creighton, and the hostess, Mrs. Dancy. The Mah Jonge prize of the afternoon went to Mrs. W. Carlton Smith.

Hal Hibbard auxiliary will meet this afternoon at the home of Mrs. John Seymour, 1425 North Winter street, for an important business session and social hour. Attendance of all the members is desired.
Miss Kathryn Gunnell, of the Gunnell & Robb studio, through the local Writers' club of which Mrs. Blanche Jones is leader, is presenting an interesting photograph she has taken of Edwin Markham to the Poets' Corner in Portland. The gift was accepted with pleasure by the writers' club at their last meeting. The picture, which is 12 by 16 inches in size is in the black and white tones. It is a print from one of the sittings the poet made here when he visited and spoke in Salem at the invitation of the league, having been entertained at the time at the F. S. Barton home. The poet laureate has chosen this photograph as his own favorite and has used it in his last book. Miss Gunnell who posed the picture was for two years head of the photographic section of the Salem Arts' league. It is probable that the Markham picture will be exhibited in Hartman's window.

Miss Alice Putnam, a freshman at the Oregon Agricultural college, is among those spending the spring vacation at her home in Salem.
The Vecinas Realists met for their recent afternoon meeting with Sylvia Schuapp, 632 North Liberty street. The members spent the time in finishing their quilts which will be sold next Monday evening, March 24. After the pleasant afternoon together, light refreshments were served. Mrs. Cora V. Hunt, 995 Marion street, will be the next hostess for the club, which will meet April 2. The guests of Mrs. Schuapp for the club afternoon included: Cora V. Hunt, Mary Ackerman, Rose Abbott, Marie Hunt, Anna Matten, Susie Parmenter, Sarah Peterson, Anna Simmons, Kata Shatts, Lelia Sharp, Cora Schwab, Lauvina Spalding, Dora Townsend, Rhoda Persons Baker, Melissa Persons, Bertha Loveland, and Miss Lena Spalding.

Mrs. W. J. Linfoot was hostess for the meeting of the Foreign Missionary society of the Leslie Methodist church who chose the occasion for the observance of Founder's day. An historic skit was then given. The playlet depicts the organization of the beginning of the society in 1868 at Tremont church in Boston. The participating group included: Mrs. M. P. Paroungian, Mrs. James Fairchild, Mrs. Catherine Brown, Miss Ethel Moody, Mrs. F. L. Scott, Mrs. J. G. Medler, Mrs. J. P. Klaus, and Mrs. F. W. Selep. Jonquils, spiraea, Oregon grape, and daffodils effectively decorated the rooms where 30 women of the society gathered. Musical numbers were given by Mrs. Walter Bush.
