OREGON NEWS BRIEFS

PORTLAND, Or., March 27.—Five petitions asking discontinuance of the automobile camp ground have been received by the city council, it became known today. Four of the petitions ask that at the expiration of the present lease on the camp site the council legislate all auto camps from the city limits. The fifth, signed by property owners within the immediate vicinity of the camp asks that no camp be allowed to run in that location.

PORTLAND, Or., March 27.—Several delegates from sections of the state desiring highway development were here today for the meeting of the state highway commission which opens this afternoon. The commission is to receive bids and award contracts for work on highway projects in five counties.

PORTLAND, Or., March 27.—The Rev. W. S. Gilbert, pastor of First Presbyterian church in Astoria, has been invited to accept the secretaryship of the National Missions Committee of the Portland presbytery, and it is understood from Astoria that he will accept the position.

Fishing Code Involved In Cases Now in Court

company, Judge G. G. Bingham of the circuit court here held that a "boat puller" is a fisherman, that an alien cannot be licensed as a fisherman, and that a license to fish for salmon cannot be issued to a corporation not authorized to do business in this state. The Both company attacked the act, declaring it was void because of ambiguity. The case is a test, and will be appealed to the supreme court.

George Graves Wants Traveling Companion

George H. Graves, a well known resident of Salem, is desirous of getting in touch with a man who would be interested in making an automobile tour of the United States with him, both parties sharing the expenses. The tour is to be a pleasure trip purely and Mr. Graves will supply the car. The itinerary he plans to travel follows: Leave either Salem or Portland over the old Oregon trail to Cheyenne, thence to Kansas City, Chicago, circling around the Great lakes to Buffalo, down the Atlantic coast to New York and Washington, D. C., with the return trip through the southern states.

SKAGGS UNITED STORES MATHEMATICAL REASONS

Recently compiled reports give the sales volume of the average city independent retail food dealer to be about thirty thousand dollars annually. The combined sales of the SKAGGS STORES AND MARKETS for the year 1923 were more than twelve million dollars, a stupendous volume for any food dealer. These figures reduced to a mathematical comparison show the sales volume of SKAGGS institution to be four hundred times greater than that of the average food dealer.

No better reasons are conceivable for our unapproached value offerings.
