Postal Receipts Show Loss—Postal receipts at the Salem postoffice for the first quarter of 1924 totaled $39,446.81, according to a report prepared by John H. Farrar, postmaster. This figure is slightly under that of last year, mail advertising in 1923 having been heavier than this year.

The sale of envelopes stamps, stamped paper and fees on registered packages amounted to $23,525.99; second class matter, $1639.55; third and fourth class matter and second class matter under permit, $4875.55. The remaining $397.60 was derived from the rest of boxes.

See Fleming's—Weekly bargains in a little cottage on the Builders' page display advertisement. A6 Fewer Contagious Diseases—Only eight new cases of contagious diseases were reported to Dr. William B. Mott, city health officer, during the week. Of these five were of diphtheria and three of measles. There were two deaths from diphtheria during the week, the report shows.

Spring Actually Are Come—Proof that spring are at last actually was evinced Saturday when one lone man appeared in the business district during the afternoon wearing a brand new (or at least it appeared to be recently purchased) straw hat. This is the second straw hat to be seen this year, the first one having been worn by a Chemawa student shortly before the spring snow of last week.

Wanted—Five experienced waitresses at the Gray Belle.—a6.

Mt. Angel Auto Stolen—Police were notified yesterday to be on the lookout for a Ford touring car that had been stolen at Mt. Angel.

Bicycle Is Recovered—Eldon Briskell called at the police station yesterday and recovered a bicycle that he had previously reported stolen.

All Hair Bobbing 50c—Including shingles. Model Beauty Shop, 112 N. Com'l St., and at Lee Canfield's, under the Oregon Theatre. Union prices.—a6*

It Beats Anything—I. V. Sater, factory representative of Glidden Paint company was at Max O. Buren's place of business when the responses to his special advertising were coming in. "It beats anything in my experience in newspaper advertising. I congratulate Salem on having such an advertising medium," said Mr. Sater. During the day there were more than 200 people in the store as a direct result of Mr. O'Brien's advertising of Jap-A-Lac and Glidden's paints and varnishes, in the Oregon Statesman.

Mr. and Mrs. P. E. Snodgrass are registered at the Marion hotel, from Eugene.

Rev. Father Thomas V. Keenan, assistant pastor of the St. Joseph's Catholic church will conduct high mass and services in St. Paul today. He will leave tomorrow for Seattle and Vancouver, B. C., on a business trip that will take him away from the city for a week.

Gloria Swanson at Grand Today

War—the Apache dens of Paris become the hiding places of slackers. Patriotism rises in the heart of Toinette, better known as the "Humming Bird." She shames the gang of thieves, calling themselves the Wolves, of which she is the head, into the defense of Paris. In boy's clothing she herself tries to go to the front but is turned back—that's the spirit that saved France for the French—the "they shall not pass" spirit that won the war. And it was not without its reward, for in the terrific climax when Toinette is about to give herself up to the police, Inspector La Roche informs her that he knows no "Humming Bird" but has come with the pardon of France for Toinette and the French cross of war, awarded one of the Wolves, who can find no use for it out "there."

It's a gripping and altogether unusual ending—unusual in that it is entirely unexpected. What's it all about? Gloria Swanson's new Paramount picture, "The Humming Bird," now showing at the Grand theater. It's a Sidney Olcott production which opened yesterday.

Bligh Theater Has Feature Vaudeville

Vaudeville at the Bligh today includes: Salardo Trio presents a novelty called "Oddities in Jungle Land." These three gentlemen portray three of the most difficult characters possible. One as a monkey, one as a frog, and one as an alligator perform feats of contortion amusing to old folks and exceptionally funny to little folks.

Loftus and Lynch, late features of the musical comedies, "Miss Fairtex" and "Hilda's Boudoir," are now presenting an act entitled "The $500 Kiss." Both capable performers, possessing pleasing singing voices, in addition to personality and ability.

Jimmy Rose presents a comedy act that will make an audience laugh from the moment they see him out upon the stage until he leaves. His very appearance is so ludicrous that everything he does and says brings forth roars of laughter.

Demaroff Trio, three charming girls in a variety of dances embodying eccentric, Friscoe, toe work, jazz dance and a novelty buck and wing dance executed with ability and consummate grace. It is hard to find three young ladies as capable and pleasing as this trio.

"Silent Command" Coming to Oregon

"The Silent Command" is the greatest spectacular melodrama of the screen. This is the claim made by William Fox for the picture which is booked at the Oregon theater next Tuesday.

Directed by J. Gordon Edwards, that master of motion picture production, from a story by Rufus King, the leading members of the cast include Edmund Lowe, Alma Tell, Martha Mansfield, Betty Jewel, Bela Lugosi, Carl Harbaugh, Gordon McEdward, Byron Douglas and Martin Faust.

The story is of exceptional merit and offers a firm foundation upon which to erect a motion picture of the most entertaining quality. This has been done, it is said, every element that enters into the construction of a successful screen drama having been employed.

Among the many spectacular effects is a shipwreck that outdoes everything of this nature that has ever been attempted on the silver sheet.

"Lucretia Lombard," the screen adaptation of the novel of the same name by Kathleen Norris, at the Oregon theater, with Monte Blue and Irene Rich heading a distinguished cast of players.

In book form, the story enjoyed enormous vogue, being hailed as one of the most striking novels of the past decade. It deals with a young and pretty woman tied down to an old unlovable curmudgeon of an old man, who is an invalid and needs constant care. As a result, the woman is deprived of all the joys and riches held by life, and feels youth slipping down the retrograde till she meets the man of her heart.

In casting the players, Director Jack Conway and Producer Harry Rapt sifted and considered every star of note, to get true characterizations. Monte Blue and Irene Rich were the pick.

The picture brings out the wretchedness of a loveless marriage. Lucretia, still young and pretty, finds herself cheated, the wife of a confirmed invalid who bullies her. An extra stolen dose of opiate administered by himself ends the life of her husband—and she is free, but only to find herself embroiled in the triangle so hectic that her former difficulties seem as nothing.

SALEM MARKETS

Nice ripe strawberries, fresh from California, were offered on the Salem markets Saturday at 30 cents a box, about 10 cents a box under prices quoted in Portland. The quality of these berries was much better than the first shipment.

Long white radishes, grown locally, were also offered for the first time this season in addition to the red variety which is being grown locally. The white radishes were quoted at 10 cents a bunch.

Voth Is Named Director

Henry Voth of Dallas was nominated as director of the Oregon Growers Cooperative association from this district at a meeting of members held in Dallas last Saturday. L. H. McBee was chosen chairman of the advisory committee and L. A. Dickson secretary.

Other members of this committee named were C. C. Campbell, D. D. Peters, C. F. Brown, T. J. Aisip, and Ira Powell.

The question of returns for 1923 crop was uppermost in the minds of the members present and it was indicated that a fairly satisfactory figure could be expected, although the exact amount cannot be determined yet.—Polk County Observer.
