Dr. Harrison Polk and Dr. Paul G. Stapran, 1484 State St., Salem, Oregon, are Chiropractic Doctors.

The Abrams method of Electronic Diagnosis and Treatment is not taught Chiropractic doctors by Dr. Abrams or any of his colleagues. These doctors, at 1484 State Street use the E. R. A. on their sign and advertisement. This is misleading and has caused persons to start treatment with them, thinking they were receiving the real Abrams treatment.

Dogs Menacing Pet Squirrels— Squirrels which make their home on the state house grounds are being annoyed by dogs that are permitted to roam about while their owners enjoy the shady benches. The squirrels are quite tame and are so friendly that they will accept nuts and other offerings from a human hand. But with dogs running after them there is danger of driving them away from the vicinity. Employees of the state house in charge of the grounds are making every effort to curb the practice of dog owners and urge that dogs be kept at least.

grounds, donated by Dr. R. A. Booth at Eugene. Though there was some opposition to the motion, a resolution to this effect was passed and Mayor John H. Gleay will be asked to issue a proclamation. Inasmuch as Mayor Gleay said last week he was in accord with the movement and would give whatever cooperation he could it is believed that the proclamation will be forthcoming. The statue will be unveiled, with fitting ceremonies, about 11 o'clock in the morning.

Nunn in New Position— Herbert Nunn, former state highway engineer, is now city manager of Santa Barbara, Cal., according to information received in Salem. Mr. Nunn resigned his state position about 18 months ago to accept a position in San Francisco after serving as highway engineer for several years. He previously acted as highway engineer for Multnomah county and was active in establishing the scenic Columbia river drive.

Fruit Men Are Happy— In general, fruit men are rejoicing over the present "blossom weather" which has prevailed since Saturday, according to Earl Pearey, of the Oregon Growers. This year cherries and pears are crowding the prunes, though there is generally some interval between the two. Frosts are said not to be as detrimental to a crop as are long, cold rains.

Just Received— A big bunch of slightly used player rolls, Q. R. S., P. O. P. and vocal style. A bargain at 35c each, three for $1. Moore's Music House. Piano sales representatives Sherman, Clay & Co. -a10

To Explain Rural Phones— The Pacific Telephone & Telegraph company will put on a series of rural meetings for the purpose of a better understanding of the working of the telephone system as it applies to the rural or farmer lines. The first meeting will be held at the Liberty hall at Liberty, Friday evening, April 11, at 8 p. m. A. K. Morehouse and R. M. Armstrong will talk and illustrate their talk with actual apparatus. All are invited to attend.

Prison Printer Pardoned— Jack Smetzier, prison printer and editor of "Lend a Hand," prison publication, was yesterday given a conditional pardon by Governor Walter M. Pierce. Smetzier was sent up from Multnomah county on September 14, 1922, to serve three years for forgery. Prior to this time he served 14 years in the Minnesota state prison at Stillwater for a similar offense. At the time of his release Smetzier was beginning work on the annual edition of Lend a Hand, to be out about May 1. This work will probably fall upon Jack Llard, a life-terminer, who has been working in the printing shop and who has written several articles.

Community Development will be the subject of an address by F. G. Dekebach at the Friday luncheon of the Lions club. Mrs. Clifford Mudd is scheduled for a plannologue entitled "Some Little Big." Rosebraugh Files— W. W. Rosebraugh, alderman from Ward 2, filed his candidacy for reelection Wednesday. Mr. Rosebraugh attached no slogan and said he was perfectly willing to run upon his record.

"Pinafore" Comic Opera— Salem high school chorus, Friday, April 11, 8:15 p. m. High school auditorium. Reserved seats 50c; general admission 35c. -apr11

Red Ant Causes Scare— Native red ants, which inhabit rotten wood, are being mistaken for the European earwig, according to S. H. Van Trump, county fruit inspector. This insect is harmless and is in no manner related to the earwig. Mr. Van Trump said yesterday. It is not yet time for the earwig to appear, but signs of his approach are being carefully watched.

Packers Sign Lease— Lease of half of the main floor of the Oregon Growers association plant at Trade and High streets was signed yesterday by the Baker, Kelly & McLaughlin Packing company, which will conduct barreling operations at this locality this year. The space leased represents about 4,000 feet. Between 150 and 300 women will be employed during the barreling season this year.

Woodburn Berries Good— That the raspberries of the Woodburn district never looked better, was the statement yesterday made by Blaine McCord, justice of the peace of that district, who was in the city on business. Approximately 150 tons of raspberries are grown in the district, which will only yield about 30 per cent of the usual loganberry crop this year. While it is a little too early to tell what will happen to the strawberries, Mr. McCord said they were advancing nicely at present.

Daughter Accuses Father— Mrs. Martha Peters, in a charge of non-support filed in the justice court yesterday against Frank R. Stark, her father, claims that he has neglected to provide for the support of her sister and his daughter by his first marriage. The younger girl is 13 years old. Mrs. Peters told Justice of the Peace P. J. Kuntz that when her mother died a few years ago, her father re-married after a period of two months, and after living with his second wife for two months, obtained a divorce. After this he sold all his household goods and left for a visit in Germany, where he spent practically all of his money. After returning to this country he failed to provide for the support of the young girl. Stark is believed to be in Portland at present, and efforts are being made to see that he supports his daughter.
