AUDRED BUNCH
Phase 104

SCOTCH BROOM

Heaps of treasure line the roads,
Bits of yellow gold,
More than all the galleons
That sailed the seas could hold.
All the moulding gunny sacks
Pirates ever filled,
Could not hold a mole's eye
Of all the treasure spilled.

Only bandit breezes tug
Lustily to lift
Armfuls of the scattered hoards
Beside the roads that drift.

—Clara Virginia Barton.

Mrs. J. E. Allison of Eugene is a guest of her sisters, Mrs. Frank E. Brown and Mrs. D. H. Craven.

The MacDowell club will hold their final rehearsal of the season Wednesday evening at 7 o'clock and on Wednesday evening, April 16, will give a concert at the Monmouth Normal school, at 8 p.m. Miss Nellie Schwab, soprano; Mrs. A. J. Rahn, contralto; Iva Clare Love, violin; and Franklin B. Launer, piano, will be soloists.

The WCTU will meet on Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, at which time any of the political candidates of the vicinity are especially asked to be present and speak concerning the platform they uphold. The public is also invited to attend the meeting. Each lady is asked to bring a card or string of buttons for the children's farm home.

Miss Grace Elizabeth Smith, assistant attorney general, spoke very interestingly yesterday afternoon at the April meeting of the Salem Woman's club. She traced with some detail the history of woman in relation to her sociological problems, then through the common law, and finally to her place of modern opportunity and therefore responsibility. Miss Smith called attention to the fact that Oregon laws are exceptionally liberal, also that the majority of them were made before the granting of woman suffrage.

Mrs. Carlton Smith sang very beautifully "Rose in the Bud" and "M'avourell."

At the business meeting a resolution was passed to the effect that the Woman's club desires to go on record as opposed to the recent pardons granted. Copies of the resolution will be sent to Governor Pierce, Judge Kelly, and the parole board.

Nominations for the new officers were made as follows: President, Mrs. C. K. Spaulding; vice-president, Mrs. W. I. Staley; recording and corresponding secretary, Mrs. E. A. Pearce of Aumsville; financial secretary, Mrs. E. M. Page; treasurer, Mrs. R. J. Valiton; director on board, Mrs. C. F. Hamilton; board of trustees, Mrs. F. A. Elliott.

A special Easter concert will be given next Sunday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock in the First Baptist church under the direction of Miss Minnetta Magers. The usual choir will be considerably augmented. The Schubert octette will sing and also a special trio will give numbers.

Miss Nina McNary will resume her Bible class at the YWCA beginning Monday evening at 6:30 o'clock in the parlors. All girls who have attended her class, or who would like to join, are very welcome.

Miss Christina M. Harold accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Karl G. Becke as far as Albany for the week-end. Miss Harold will be the guest of Clifford Harold and family. Mr. and Mrs. Becke motored on to Eugene.

A large crowd was present at the meeting of the Floral society Friday evening in the Chamber of Commerce rooms when Professor Sweetser gave a delightful informal lecture on "The Preservation and Restoration of Wild Flowers." His pictures were in color and were seasonal in their arrangement. Beginning with the pussy willow catkins, Professor Sweetser followed the floral cycle through the spring and summer, showing over a hundred pictures in all. He particularly emphasized the importance of gathering flowers away from the roadside rather than along the edges of the highway.

The following refrain to the tune, "A Long, Long Trail," was appropriately introduced and sung during the evening, the words being original with Professor Sweetser:

"Oh, the breath of the fragrant
Pine trees,
Oh, the winding mountain trail,
And the purple haze o'er the distant hills
Whose glories never fail.
A friend who is true and trusted,
The song of the lark at dawn,
And the soft refrain of the falling rain—
And that is Oregon."
Miss Gladys McIntyre, accompanied by Miss Volena Jenks, sang "The Year's at the Spring," and "In My Garden."

Through the extension department at Eugene, plans are being made to interest the public school children in the preservation of native wild flowers and shrubs. About the middle of May, a flower show will be held at the armory with both professional and personal exhibits. Numerous cash prizes will be given for amateur entries.

National Garden week will be observed April 20 to April 26. The bureau of education is urging emphasis in the schools. It is announced that in New York city last year food valued at $33,000 was produced in the school gardens.

The above are some of the numerous projects in which the Floral society is expressing interest. The membership of the society numbers 116. The organization hopes for 500.

Miss Lorlei Blatchford, principal of the Klaber high school, is spending the week-end at the home of her parents, Dr. and Mrs. B. Blatchford.

Mrs. Elizabeth Paulus returned last night from a brief visit to Portland. While there she attended the "Better Home" show at the Auditorium, and also a lecture by Mrs. Sennett of the Parent Teachers' Association which was particularly instructive. Mr. Paulus will return later in the week.

Mr. and Mrs. Irving Cleade and Miss Hazel Jean Cleade of Spokane, Washington, were the dinner guests Friday evening of Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Forkner. The Cleades are visiting at the Cox home on Norway street.

The semi-annual meeting of the Marion County Federation of Women's clubs will meet at Silverton on Saturday, May 17th, at 10 a.m. Five delegates from each club in the county will be in attendance.

A musical program of interest will be given this morning at 11 o'clock in observance of the first anniversary of the new St. Paul's church. Palms will decorate the church for the occasion, and the vested choir will render:

"All Glory, Laud and Honor"
(Procession of Palms) M. Teshner.
"The Palms" (Anthem) Faure
"Venita" Nevin
"Benedictus" Read
"Jubilata Deo" H. Aldrich
"Ride On, Ride On" (Anthem) Scott
"Presentation" Anonymous
"Foot-Fold Amen" Neukomm
"Ride on in Majesty" (Recessional) J. B. Dykes

The April Writer's Digest, a literary journal published at Cincinnati, contains an article by Edna Garfield on the appearance here, under the auspices of the local Elks' club, of the well known poet and lecturer, Douglas Malloch which article the editor pleasingly entitles "Salaam to Salem, Oregon." In a personal letter of appreciation to Miss Garfield he states he has known Mr. Malloch for many years; also that he has heard much of Salem, and is very interested in its Writers' club, whose work he has observed in various national periodicals for some little time.

He solicits more information on the activities of the Salem club.

Mrs. Hazel Newgent on Friday evening, entertained the members of the Woman's Benefit association in West Salem for the regular monthly social. Music and games were the diversions, after which the hostess served a delicious luncheon. Red cut flowers were used in bowls about the room. About 35 members of the association were present for the meeting. The committee in charge included Mrs. Bessie Boeringer, Mrs. Hazel Sloper and the hostess, Mrs. Newgent.

Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Hodge, Ernest W. Hodge of Cornwall, Canada, and Mr. and Mrs. Merle Rosecrans are spending a few days in Napaxin, Wash., as the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Todd.

Miss Eva Carey became the bride yesterday morning at 11 o'clock of Ben Rider, son of Mr. and Mrs. U. S. Rider, Rev. U. S. Crowder performing the ceremony. Following the service, dinner was served at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Carey, the parents of the bride. Only a few friends and relatives were invited. Mr. and Mrs. Rider

THIS FROCK OPENS ATHLETIC SEASON

Since it is difficult to tell just when you will be called upon to play in a game of quoits, it is well to keep in practice with your bracelets, seems to be the opinion of the lady in the picture who is just about to ring the stake with her amber circlet. Sets of from four to eight bracelets have become part of the equipment of the smart Parisian women, according to Henri Creange, the fashion authority. Sometimes they are all of the same material, sometimes a rainbow of iridescent glass. If a number are to be worn they must be quite small unless you wish to cripple yourself. For the single bracelet a wide, old-fashioned gold band is often seen.

The dress illustrated, of rose colored Frantkrepe, a substantial crepe weave with a characteristic sparkle, itself offers scope for athletic achievements. It hangs loosely from the shoulders, the belt being a decorative rather than a confining influence. The short sleeves are loose and the neck line, with its wide rolling collar and V offers a great deal of freedom to the neck. The pleats, which summer always brings upon us are present in full force. In this frock they are however combined with plain material in a most interesting manner. The pleated panel down the front and back is framed in plain material which follows the V in front and makes a straight yoke across the back. The tunic flies loose over a light undershirt which, it should be noticed is slit at the beltline to allow the belt to go under it and buttons up on the waist in a tab about three inches wide.
