Next after auto camps come municipal radio stations.

As to age, Radio may be an infant industry, but in the matter of size it is already a giant.

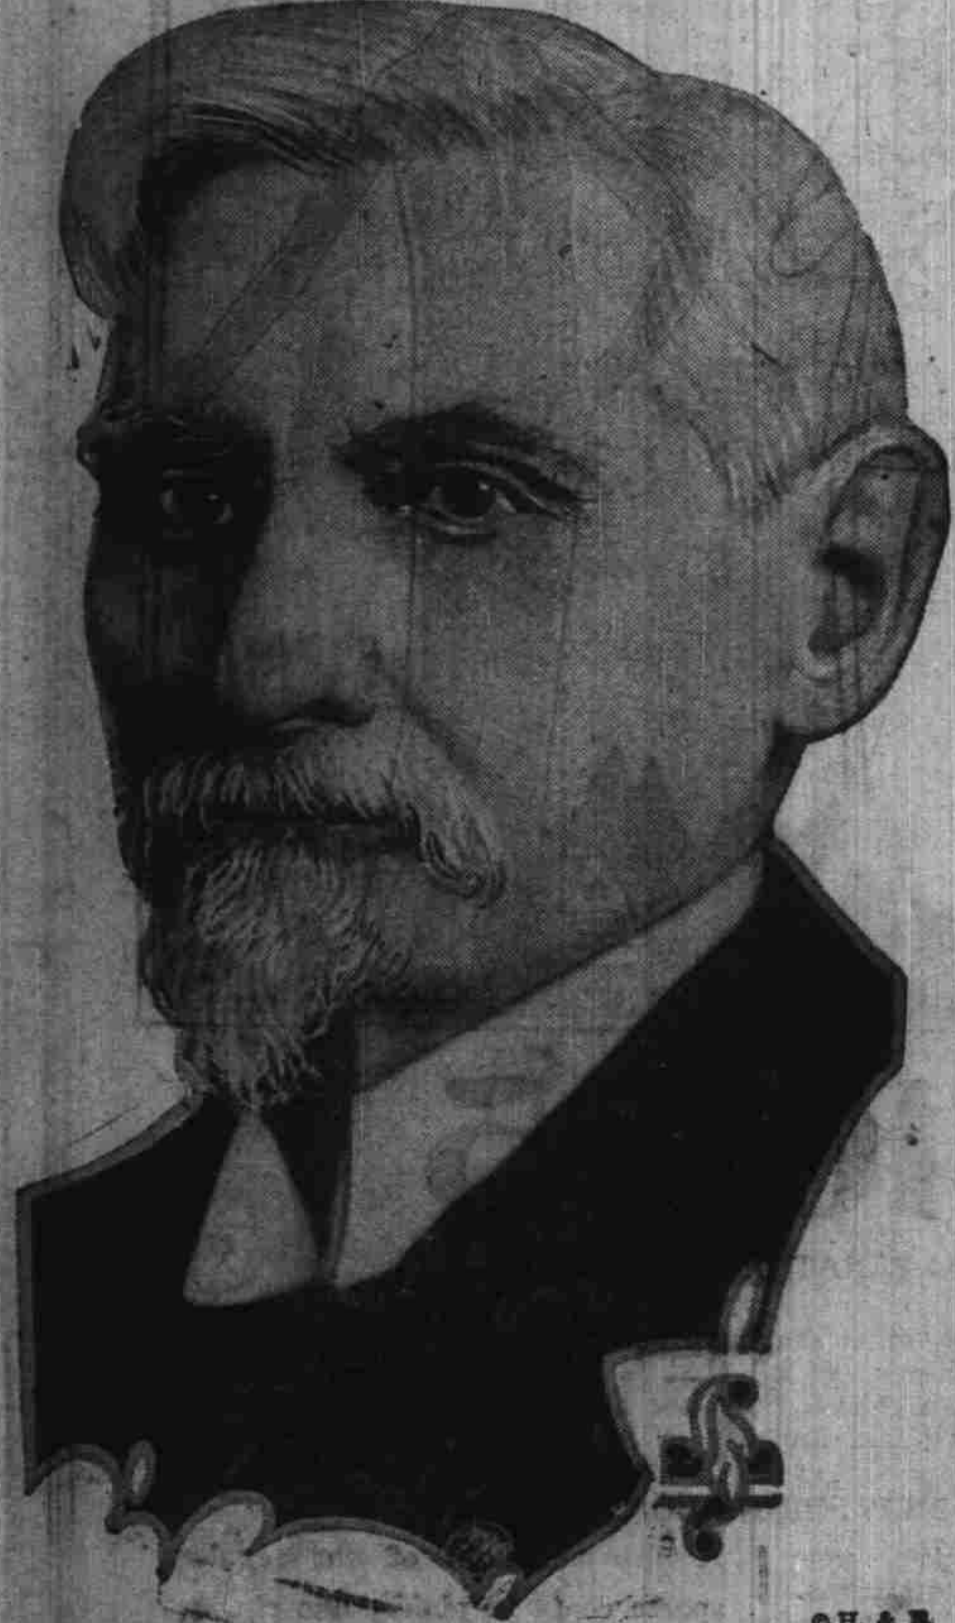

The superheterodyne is rapidly gaining in favor over the neutrodyne. However, the "super" is rather a difficult circuit for the fan to assemble and adjust.

NEW WORLD'S CHAMPION, ABE GOLDSTEIN, WHO WON TITLE FROM JOE LYNCH

Little Abraham Goldstein is the king of the bantam weights by virtue of knocking the crown off the wobbling head of Joe Lynch in a 14-round bout in New York which attracted a great throng of fans to Madison Square Garden.

One of the most popular appointments made by the late President Harding early in his Administration was that of General Washington Gardner as Commissioner of Pensions.

right in the same town, is easily tuned out.

The new line of superheterodynes being put on the market by the Radio Corporation of America, under the trade name of "Radiolas" are perhaps the newest development of the "super."

A set of this kind is practically impossible for an amateur to construct. The displacement of a wire a fraction of an inch from its normal position, or making a wire connection a trifle too long or too short will render the whole set inoperative.

"The explosion of an atom" was once a mere laboratory phase of scientists to indicate a purely hypothetical release of energy.

There are 250 broadcasting stations in this country sending out news and special information expressly in the interests of the farmers. It is impossible to estimate what may be the tangible results of this broadcasting in improved and increased crops, more profitable management of farms and happier men, women and children whose lives are spent on farms.

Radio as an alleviation of drudgery is winning new fame for itself.

The White bill is of sufficient interest to the general public to warrant the reading of it by every individual. The two sections of major importance follow:

"Be it enacted by the senate and House of representatives of the United States of America in congress assembled that the ether and the use thereof for the transmission of signals, words, energy and other purposes within the territorial jurisdiction of the United States is hereby reaffirmed to be the inalienable possession of the people of the United States and their government, but privileges to enjoy such may be granted by law as provided not to exceed two years.

Section 2. "In the event of war or during other national emergency the president may, in his discretion, terminate the privilege of any or all licenses to use ether for any purpose under the provisions of licenses granted by authority of congress and without rendering the United States liable to damages to anyone whomsoever."

Your representative in congress will appreciate a letter or telegram from you expressing your desire regarding the passing of the bill. Such a message should be sent immediately to be of value.

M. E. GENERAL CONFERENCE FACES IMPORTANT PROBLEMS

Unification, Status of Episcopacy and Reorganization of Benevolent Boards after $100,000,000 Centenary Movement Among Important Matters to Be Decided Upon.

Membership Half Lay and Half Ministerial, Women Delegates To Be Present in Larger Numbers Than Ever Before.

The General Conference of the Methodist Episcopal church, scheduled to meet in Springfield, Mass., throughout the month of May, next, will be one of the most important in the history of the denomination. There will be approximately 350 delegates from all parts of the United States and from 44 nations and territories abroad. Delegates from the foreign field elected to represent the various national groups of Methodists abroad number 78, among whom are nine women.

The delegations consist of an equal number of ministers and laymen from 162 annual conferences which elect them. Their number is determined by the membership included in the annual conferences.

The plan for unification with the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, which was drawn up by commissions from the two denominations, will be considered by the General Conference. It is understood that the outlook is considered favorable by officials whose opinions are of weight. It provides for the churches to be united into one church with two jurisdictions. If the plan is accepted by the General Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church in May at Springfield, the General Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, which normally meets in 1925, will probably be called in special session to consider the plan.

Whole Status of Episcopacy to Be Reviewed

Another question to be reviewed by the General Conference and which will attract the attention of the entire Christian world is the status of the episcopacy of the denomination. The entire system of episcopal supervision will be considered. It is impossible to predict what turn this action would take but all regard it as one of the most weighty before the church today.

Entire Benevolent Organization to Be Reviewed

The entire organization of the benevolent boards of the denomination is to be considered and the plans debated for reorganization. Several plans have been discussed in various sections of the church and a commission was appointed to study the question. The general conference will decide whether the present ten highly specialized boards will be combined into a single general board with many departments, combined into a smaller group of four or five, or left as they are.

Church folk throughout Christendom are interested in the machinery with which the Methodist Episcopal church will undertake its world service program after the conclusion of the five-year centenary expansion movement for which $70,000,000 was given, and which is the largest and most successful benevolent enterprise in systematic giving in the history of Christianity.

Game Fish From America To Stock English Waters

LONDON, Mar. 26.—Thousands of American game fish will be imported into England to fill the depleted streams and add to the limited variety which now make up the angler's bag.

The fact that their membership has gradually fallen off and there has been little interest in angling caused many of the clubs to look about for the reason for this very un-English interest in the home of angling.

The clubs soon found out that there wasn't a game fish within 50 miles of London, and even where the fish are fairly plentiful they are confined to roach, dace and perch. There are plenty of fishing streams throughout England and Scotland which could be filled with game fish and the clubs owning them are preparing to refill them with fish from the United States.

Most English fishermen are well acquainted with the various kinds of American fish and they are anxious to import some of the better known species, which it is known will settle in English streams. Some of the clubs, paying attention also to the eating qualities, therefore have decided to import black bass, silver bass, strawberry bass, crappies, pike and pickerel, and certain species of trout.

The fish will be purchased from American breeding associations and brought to England in specially built tanks.

MATHEWSON AND McGRAW, FRIENDLY BASEBALL ENEMIES, AND THEIR WIVES SEE GIANTS AND BRAVES BATTLE

Christy Mathewson, president of the Boston National League club, and John J. McGraw, manager of New York's champion Giants, held a reunion recently at St. Petersburg, Fla. McGraw took his team over from Sarasota to meet the Boston club, which for the second season is under the direction of his old-time pitching star. Incidentally, the Braves beat the Giants.
