SECOND GAME IS WON BY SENATORS

Salem Makes Strong Showing Against Timber Penant Contenders

Heavy clouting by Biddy Bishop's Salem Senators and classy pitching by Wayne Barham resulted in a 6 to 3 victory for Salem Sunday afternoon over the Kelso Timber Wolves of the Washington Southwest Timber league, a team that the day before defeated the Senators 5 to 1. Also Barham had in the main excellent support. To say it briefly, Biddy Bishop has brought together the best ball club in Salem's history and the forecast is a brilliantly successful season for Salem.

Salem's heaviest stick work came in the third inning when Gibson, Keene and Wilkerson in succession knocked the ball over the right field fence, bringing the Salem fans to their feet. A large crowd saw the game, and many Kelso rooters were present to see their team at work.

Kelso led off in the scoring Sunday, tallying in the first and second innings, at the end of that period leading Salem 2 to 1. But Salem was never headed after the three home run drives in the third. Kelso scored again in the fourth, but never had a chance thereafter. Salem scored two more in the fifth. With the bases full Strong, the Kelso pitcher, hit Proctor and forced Keene home. Then Frisco Edwards sacrificed, scoring Wilkerson. Strong abandoned the mound in the fifth and Baker was brought in from the outfield and pitched the remainder of the game.

The Kelso team is undoubtedly one of the strongest teams ever brought to Salem, as is evidenced by the few errors by the Timber Wolves in the two games here. The Kelso aggregation should have a good chance at the pennant in the Timber league, which is made up of some of the best cities in southwest Washington. The Kelso fans gave the team strong support and declare they are backing the Wolves to be at the top at the end of the season. The Kelso team remains in Salem until this morning when they go to Corvallis to play the OAC team.

Gehrig, College Rookie, and Hendrick Pound the Ball and Win Praise of Manager Huggins

Summary: Home runs, Baker, Gignon, Keene, Wilkerson; two-base hits, Trummer, Wilkerson; stolen bases, Miller, Eckertmeyer; struck out, by Strong 5, by Baker 3, by Barham 5; hits, off Strong 8 with 27 at bat, off Baker 1 with 13 at bat; off Barham 6 with 32 at bat. Defeat charged to Strong. Double plays, Miller to Proctor to Keene. Passed ball, Eubanks. Hit by pitched ball, Proctor by Strong. Balk, Stronk. Bases on balls, off Strong, off Baker 3, off Barham 1. Sacrifice hits, Eubanks, O'Riley. Sacrifice fly, Gibson.

Time of game, 2 hours.

Umpires, Kennedy and Harmon.

These photographs of Henry L. Gehrig (at right), the former Columbia University star, and Harvey Hendrick, utility outfielder, were made at the "Yankees" spring training camp at New Orleans. Hendrick was used last year as a pitcher and made good. Although his fielding is still crude, Huggins predicts a great future for him. Gehrig, first baseman, was farmed out last season to the New Haven club. He has been going like a house afire at New Orleans.

Loris Baker of Salem Promising Track Man

OREGON AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE, Corvallis, April 14.—Loris R. Baker of Salem on the OAC track squad is coming along well in the hurdles, according to Coach H. M. "Dad" Butler. The good weather has aided the men in getting into condition, so the coach has had a chance to see what they can do.

The milers seem to be closest to mid-season form of any of the track men. Six will try out to determine the four to make a trip to the relays in the east. Ray Dodge, Pacific northwest champion in the half mile, has already made the mile in 4:36.

As usual, there are plenty of distance and middle distance men who will hold their own in any meet. The difficulty now, says Coach Butler, is in developing men to take care of the jumps and field events.

Blossom Day Golfers Throng to Club Links

While Blossom Day was slightly overcast with clouds yet the biggest crowd of players of the season was on hand to "pep up" the golf at Hillside links. There were about 25 or 30 visitors from Portland and nearby clubs to add spirit to the occasion.

The matches were fairly well started by 8 o'clock and were going continuously until nearly sundown.

The fairways and greens were in fine shape and there is now only one sand green left, and the fairways are as delicate as a green velvet carpet.

In the qualifying rounds Sunday there was one 75 for 18 holes, two of three 80 and several under 90, all of which shows that the members are practicing earnestly for the dual scraps later in the month.

The first play-off for the Gray Belle trophy will take place this week and the matches will be announced by the middle of the week.

Owing to the enforced vacation of the very popular professional, Andrew Junor, G. P. Sharkey will have charge of the club beginning yesterday.

Fulton Athletic Club Plays Here Next Sunday

The Fulton Athletic club of Portland that twice defeated Salem last season, will be here next Sunday to play the Senators, according to announcement by Biddy Bishop. On Friday, April 25, the famous Meiji university team, champions of Japan, will be in Salem to meet the Senators. The Japanese team is making a tour of the United States.

MAJOR LEAGUE CLUBS OPEN SEASON TODAY

NEW YORK, April 14.—The schedule of major league opening games tomorrow follows:

American League
New York at Boston.
Philadelphia at Washington.
St. Louis at Chicago.
Cleveland at Detroit.

National League
Brooklyn at New York.
Boston at Philadelphia.
Pittsburgh at Cincinnati.
Chicago at St. Louis.

George Sisler regains his old form, promise to be formidable factors, but Washington and the White Sox, both under new managers, have not shown enough to rank them among the contenders.

The Giants are also generally picked to finish again in front and fulfill the ambition John McGraw once before failed to gain after winning three straight pennants. But the National league champions, forced to rebuild their pitching staff, after its collapse last fall and to reconstruct partly their infield and outfield, face a more formidable task than the Yanks.

The Cincinnati Reds buttressed by the best twirling staff in the league, but lacking some of the McGraw attack and the Pittsburgh Pirates with a strong offensive and good twirling prospects, stand out as contenders in chief. Behind them, the Chicago Cubs an aggressive outfit that has climbed upward steadily the last three years, and the heavy hitting St. Louis Cardinals loom as trouble makers while the Boston Braves, rejuvenated under Dave Bancroft and boasting a fine young hurling corps, are the "dark horse" of the race. Brooklyn and Philadelphia do not figure to escape the second division.

Thirty-Five Thousand Dollars Going to Make Salem System a Better One

The suburban lead between Salem and Liberty has been rebuilt. This covered the placing of 36 new poles and 100 cross-arms and on-wire circuit at a cost of $1500.

Repairs to the Salem-Dallas tie lead between Bruuk's corner and Rickreall will be completed at an early date, to cost $2200.

An additional toll circuit between Salem and Hill City will be provided at a cost of $10,300; this covers for the increased toll business from that section of Maricounty.

Additional office facilities have been provided at Salem by the installation of four new toll positions on the toll switchboard at a cost of $6000. Four additional positions will be installed at an early date. The company will also install a checking and observing board at a cost of $5000 to provide room for new equipment. Alterations will be necessary to the building, to cost about $2500, making a total of $53,500 for improvements.

CHURCH FILLED

SILVERTON, Or., April 14.—(Special to The Statesman)—The Methodist Episcopal church was packed Sunday evening to hear the concert given by Madame Marie Vaughn-Maxwell, mezzo soprano, assisted by Miss Eugenia Savage, on the piano and Miss El Rae Maxwell on the violin. The program consisted of sacred numbers.

Colleen Moore in Through the Dark Opens at Oregon

There is a long list of screen successes behind Colleen Moore's appearance in "Through the Dark," which opens at the Oregon theater today, which particularly fit her for the star role she plays in this attraction. In her career she has played opposite the greatest of male stars of the screen, and her work in this picture is a testimonial to the value of her wide experience.

Among the noted names may be mentioned the following: "The late Robert Haron, opposite whom she played in various D. W. Griffith productions; Wilfred Lucas, Monroe Salisbury, Charles Ray, Tom Mix, Sessun Hayakawa, Wesley Barry, directed by Marshall Neilan; John Barrymore, Antonio Moreno, Kenneth Harlan, Malcolm McGregor, and James Morrison in "The 11th Commandment."

The pretty and attractive young actress has played feature roles under the direction of D. W. Griffith, Marshall Neilan, Wesley Ruggles, Jerome Storm, Allen Holubar, King Vidor, Tom Foreman, Rupert Hughes and Frank Borzage.

SENATE VOTES FOR JAPANESE EXCLUSION

further consideration of the subject in secret, declaring the people were entitled to know what was being said and done in the senate. Senator Lodge then withdrew his motion, the doors reopened and the debate went forward.

Hughes Blamed

While no record was taken of Senator Johnson's address as the senator spoke, it was disclosed that he had characterized the Hanihara letter as "impertinent" and as a combination that would not be "tolerated" by even a fourth class power. He added that it was "monstrous" that Secretary Hughes had not replied in kind instead of transmitting the letter to congress.

Senator Lodge himself revealed after the doors were reopened that he had already informed his colleagues of his intention to vote against the committee compromise as answer to the Hanihara letter.

Asserting that he would only repeat what he had said in executive session, Senator Lodge declared he always had been very friendly to the Japanese people and had intended to do all in his power to make the legislation in the present bill as easy for them and for their feelings as possible.

Note From Oregon Jones Is Received at Prison

"You may have the feathers. I am going home. Oregon Jones, formerly of Grants Pass."

This was the brief message received Monday from M. R. Beacon, guard of the state prison, who forwarded it to Warden A. M. Dalrymple yesterday. The message was found by school children, scrawled on the oiled paper that preserves the freshness of tobacco, in an old tobacco can picked up on the highway near Canyonville, Douglas county.

That the message was written by Jones, the sixth of the convicts who escaped from the penitentiary March 28, is not doubted, for the handwriting is similar to his. It is believed Jones wrote the message while partaking of a chicken feed when still in company with Tom Murray, who was captured near Jefferson.

In addition, a dark overcoat and pair of blue overalls, thought to have been discarded by Jones, were found about a mile east of Green's bridge in Lane county Sunday.

Couple Plunge into Burning River

A shack, carried rapidly down a surging stream, the waters ablaze with burning oil.

On the roof of the building an injured man and a girl.

Suddenly the shack overturns and the couple are pitched into the sea of flames.

Following a desperate battle with the torrent, the girl brings her companion safely to shore.

This is a brief outline of one of the most thrilling situations in a motion picture. It is one of many of equal power which makes "Flowing Gold," coming Thursday to the Grand theater, one of the most talked-of productions of the season.

the pen of Rex Beach, who is noted for the virility of his stories. In "Flowing Gold" he has outdone himself, with the result that the action has been keyed up to such a high speed that the spectator finds himself gasping for breath.

The leading roles are taken by Milton Sills and Anna Q. Nilsson, who take part in the scene described above. Others in the cast are Alice Calhoun, Josephine Crowell, Charles Sellon, Bert Woodruff, Clary Fitzgerald and John Roche.
