SOUTHERN PACI

Regardless of promises made the public service co sion by the Southern Pacific company last Saturday that its train service between Salem and west side points and be-tween Salem and Silverton would not be curtailed, but would remain as its has been until proper arrangements were made to serve the public, the company went ahead and made the change Sunday, no trains operating on either line.

The service commission claims this was done contrary to Trail Through 13 States
Leads to Lair of HoldUp Couple

The service commission claims this was done contrary to law, and that some of the stage lines that the company has entered into contracts with for substitute service have not complied with the law. An adequate substitute service has not been provided, the commission says.

The company's excuse for making the changes regardless of the commission was that it had made arrangements that could not possibly be altered, its train crews having been sent elsewhere. The commission it is said leaks authority to law, and that some of the stage lines that the company has entered into contracts with for substitute service have not complied with the law.
