Moore's Will Speal—

"Memories of Salem" will be the subject of a talk Monday by Charles B. Moore at the Chamber of Commerce luncheon. The days when the red brick jail stood on the courthouse grounds, when the stores opened at 6 o'clock in the morning and closed at 10 at night; when tallow candles and kerosene lamps were the accepted means of lighting the pioneer homes after sundown. P. H. D'Arcy will be chairman of the meeting and 16 pioneer residents of Salem will be special guests of honor.

August Knutson Is Now—

Doing developing and printing exclusively for Nelson & Hunt, Court and Liberty. Films in at 8:00 out at noon; in at 1:00 out at 5:00.—a27.

Pleased With Local Camp—

That the local camp grounds were the best they had stopped in was the opinion expressed by C. A. Curtis and J. C. Hershberger, of Fergus Falls, recent visitors at the auto camp grounds. They were also highly pleased with the treatment they had been accorded by Salem people. The men were traveling in a specially built well-equipped motor house, costing several thousands of dollars. As are nearly 90 per cent of the tourists, if they speak the truth, the two men were very much disgusted with California in general.

Restrictions Deported—

Governor Pierce was yesterday in receipt of telegrams from the Medford Chamber of Commerce and from private citizens, requesting that Oregon regulations on foot and mouth disease be made to conform to government regulations. The Chamber of Commerce there recently adopted a resolution declaring that while the control methods being used are commendable in motive, the wide publicity is detrimental to Oregon business and the first tide of tourist travel is being turned back. A telegram from Charles A. Brand of Roseburg, representing the fruit growers of that district, offers cooperation in any move that is made to keep the disease out of Oregon.

Political Aspirants Speak—

State and county political office seekers generally responded to an invitation from J. M. Martin, of Macleay, to appear at Macleay hall Friday night in order to give the residents of that locality an opportunity to meet the aspirants. Nearly 20 of these took advantage of the invitation and were present. They were limited to 10 minutes each in which they could tell of their platform. A short musical program was furnished by Mr. and Mrs. Madsen. Those making talks in order were Stallard, of Portland; Will E. Purdy, Peter Zimmerman, Judge W. H. Downing, Ed Jory, Porter, O. V. White, Z. J. Riggs, Robin Day, Mark McAlister, Dr. Slaughter, Ralph Thompson, Carl T. Pope, Brazier C. Small, J. E. Benjamin, B. S. Martin, P. J. Kuntz and Hal D. Patton.

Kozar Is Sued—

George S. Shepard of Portland on Saturday instituted in the circuit court for Marion county mandamus proceedings to compel Sam A. Kozar secretary of state, to have Shepard's slogan printed on the ballot as a candidate for the Republican vice presidential nomination. Kozar has left this off because it is not customary to print slogans after the names of presidential and vice presidential candidates. Shepard's slogan is "World court; American merchant marine; deep water to the sea." Judge Bingham signed an order requiring Kozar to appear Monday and show cause why the slogan should not be printed.
