

100TH STORE TO BE CELEBRATED

Western Auto Supply Company Will Hold Open House Here Tonight

Between 7 and 9 o'clock tonight the Western Auto Supply company will hold open house at its headquarters at High and Court in observance of the opening of the 100th store in this great system of auto accessory stores. The Salem branch was opened two years ago and records made show that business last year made a remarkable gain over that of the previous year.

CHICHESTER'S PILLS

THE FAVORITE REMEDY FOR COLIC, BRUISES, PAIN, RHEUMATISM, NEURALGIA, MIGRAINE, DYSPEPSIA, CONSTIPATION, AND ALL AFFECTIONS OF THE BOWEL.

If You Find It Hard to Save

It is hard to save if you have no incentive in view. Saving is made easy if you set your mind and endeavor towards the attainment of some desire—a home, education for your youngsters, your own business, or for the comforts of the later years.

With one or more of these purposes in mind, start your savings account here at the United States National. Then add to it every pay day—not at odd intervals when you have a surplus on hand. Once started, you will have so much satisfaction in seeing your balance grow that you will never want to stop your saving.

The United States National Bank

Salem, Oregon

TEACHERS SEND BIDS FOR JOBS

County Superintendent's Office Flooded With Many Applications

The county superintendent's office is flooded just now with applications from teachers over the state and especially from eastern points, according to Mrs. Mary Fulkerston. Reports so far filed from various school districts indicate that Marion county will have few vacancies, Mrs. Fulkerston says.

While all districts have not reported to the superintendent's office regarding election of teachers those so far reported indicate a large number of teachers have been re-elected for the coming year.

Re-elections and new elections reported so far are: Donald—Letha Cone, primary, re-elected; Mrs. Kirkpatrick, principal, new.

Middle Grove—All teachers re-elected; Lloyd O. Miller, principal; Adelaide S. Erskine, intermediate; Augusta Condit Denham, primary.

Rosedale—Anna V. Robbins, primary, re-elected; Maceley—Lola Millard, new; teaching in Ricker this year.

Jefferson—Thomas Davis, Ella England, Muriel Wilson, Mrs. Elmer Burt, Mrs. A. R. Burt, Wauanita Kitchen, Mary Chute Lamb, re-elected; Frances Byron and Gladys Thurston, new teachers.

Marion—Louise Beers, re-elected; Emma E. Mattike and Helen F. Benedict, new teachers.

Gates—All re-elected: Fred W. Jones, principal; Mrs. Anna Powell, Floyd A. Boyington, Mabel G. Boyington and Genevieve Scott. Pringle—Helen Commack, new.

Brooks—Both re-elected: E. B. Fletcher principal and Lavina Anderson. Pratum—Carrie Branch, principal, re-elected.

Grassy Pond—Cecyl Jones, Lueck, re-elected. Butteville—Two new teachers, Harold Aspinwall and Ollivet Olson.

Hazel Green—Carl T. Morris, principal, re-elected; Beatrice Burton, new. Prospect—Grace Sehon, re-elected.

Liberty—Dorothy Erskine, new. Scotts Mills—John Rodman, principal; Elizabeth Kinser and Katherine S. Kelle, all re-elected.

Mehama—Clyde Hoffer principal, re-elected. Turner—J. R. Bidgood principal.

Shaw—Mrs. W. H. Walton, re-elected. Kelzer—All re-elected: Mabel Albee, principal; Georgia Albee and Nellie Huffaker.

Hayesville—Barbara B. Snyder principal, and Gertrude Neet, both re-elected.

Union—Vivian E. Tindall, re-elected, and F. Gall Trieber, new, principal. Victor Point—Jessie Hartley re-elected.

Salem Heights—Roscoe L. Van Orsdal, principal, and Ethel McCoy, both re-elected.

Cloverdale—Georgiana Spicer, re-elected. Buena Crest—Ethel Craig, re-elected and advanced to principalship.

Waconda—Gladys Brown, new. Talbot—Esther Cornell Matthews, re-elected.

Riverview—Mrs. W. H. South, re-elected.

MY MARRIAGE PROBLEMS

Adelle Garrison's New Phase of REVELATIONS OF A WIFE

Copyright 1921 by Newspaper Feature Service, Inc. CHAPTER 154.

WHAT DICKY DID TO HELP MADGE AND YET SORELY DISTRESS HER.

We had a quiet, uneventful journey home, Dicky, Katie and I—a journey which I could not help contrasting to my trip into the city, with its bizarre incidents.

The memory of the mysterious foreigner, with his knowledge of me and mine, haunted me more than I would have been willing to admit to any one.

I had no reason for wishing that I had not described him to Dicky so minutely, and when I thought of repeating that description to Lillian the conviction came to me suddenly that I must do nothing of the kind.

"Dicky," I said suddenly, "just what did you tell Lillian about that unknown woman's telephone to you concerning me? I have a reason for asking."

"Just what I told you," he answered, imitating my low tones, for though Katie was three seats off, immersed in her favorite "movie magazine," we both had reason to know the keenness of her ears, especially when something was discussed which she had no business to hear.

Not that Katie knowingly would ever betray knowledge so gained, but her loyalty and truth were counterbalanced by her voluble indiscretion, so that we gave her no opportunity to reveal our secrets, innocently or otherwise.

"Does Lillian know that I registered as Mrs. Black at the hotel?"

"Naturally not!" Dicky retorted a bit savagely. "It wasn't anything I would have been particularly anxious to spill, and as it happened, I didn't really grasp the delectable fact myself until I was on the train. So Lillian simply got my first impression that you were at the hotel under the care of some woman named Black."

"I see," and then for a long five minutes while the scenery slipped by, I went over the story Dicky had told Lillian, planned what to add to it, tested it from every angle, and at last looked up to find Dicky's eyes quizzically fixed upon me.

Dicky makes a suggestion. "What's the big idea?" he asked. "You look as if you might be Wells of Galworthy in the throes of composition."

"I'd like either one of them to tackle the job of fooling Lillian," I returned pettishly. "Oh-h!" Dicky whistled. "That is the trick, is it? What is it you don't want her to know?"

"Anything about that man on the train," I rejoined. "I'll tell you why sometime; please don't ask me now."

"Have it your own way," Dicky agreed indifferently. "But why all the mental strain to fix up a story for old LI? Simply tell her these facts, part of which she already knows. Train delayed—you caught in mob at station—felled by swinging door—stunned—and picked up and carried to waiting room. Recovered consciousness—kindly woman named Black helping you.

MY MARRIAGE PROBLEMS

Adelle Garrison's New Phase of REVELATIONS OF A WIFE

Copyright 1921 by Newspaper Feature Service, Inc. CHAPTER 154.

WHAT DICKY DID TO HELP MADGE AND YET SORELY DISTRESS HER.

We had a quiet, uneventful journey home, Dicky, Katie and I—a journey which I could not help contrasting to my trip into the city, with its bizarre incidents.

The memory of the mysterious foreigner, with his knowledge of me and mine, haunted me more than I would have been willing to admit to any one.

I had no reason for wishing that I had not described him to Dicky so minutely, and when I thought of repeating that description to Lillian the conviction came to me suddenly that I must do nothing of the kind.

"Dicky," I said suddenly, "just what did you tell Lillian about that unknown woman's telephone to you concerning me? I have a reason for asking."

"Just what I told you," he answered, imitating my low tones, for though Katie was three seats off, immersed in her favorite "movie magazine," we both had reason to know the keenness of her ears, especially when something was discussed which she had no business to hear.

Not that Katie knowingly would ever betray knowledge so gained, but her loyalty and truth were counterbalanced by her voluble indiscretion, so that we gave her no opportunity to reveal our secrets, innocently or otherwise.

"Does Lillian know that I registered as Mrs. Black at the hotel?"

"Naturally not!" Dicky retorted a bit savagely. "It wasn't anything I would have been particularly anxious to spill, and as it happened, I didn't really grasp the delectable fact myself until I was on the train. So Lillian simply got my first impression that you were at the hotel under the care of some woman named Black."

"I see," and then for a long five minutes while the scenery slipped by, I went over the story Dicky had told Lillian, planned what to add to it, tested it from every angle, and at last looked up to find Dicky's eyes quizzically fixed upon me.

Dicky makes a suggestion. "What's the big idea?" he asked. "You look as if you might be Wells of Galworthy in the throes of composition."

"I'd like either one of them to tackle the job of fooling Lillian," I returned pettishly. "Oh-h!" Dicky whistled. "That is the trick, is it? What is it you don't want her to know?"

"Anything about that man on the train," I rejoined. "I'll tell you why sometime; please don't ask me now."

"Have it your own way," Dicky agreed indifferently. "But why all the mental strain to fix up a story for old LI? Simply tell her these facts, part of which she already knows. Train delayed—you caught in mob at station—felled by swinging door—stunned—and picked up and carried to waiting room. Recovered consciousness—kindly woman named Black helping you.

MY MARRIAGE PROBLEMS

Adelle Garrison's New Phase of REVELATIONS OF A WIFE

Copyright 1921 by Newspaper Feature Service, Inc. CHAPTER 154.

WHAT DICKY DID TO HELP MADGE AND YET SORELY DISTRESS HER.

We had a quiet, uneventful journey home, Dicky, Katie and I—a journey which I could not help contrasting to my trip into the city, with its bizarre incidents.

The memory of the mysterious foreigner, with his knowledge of me and mine, haunted me more than I would have been willing to admit to any one.

I had no reason for wishing that I had not described him to Dicky so minutely, and when I thought of repeating that description to Lillian the conviction came to me suddenly that I must do nothing of the kind.

"Dicky," I said suddenly, "just what did you tell Lillian about that unknown woman's telephone to you concerning me? I have a reason for asking."

"Just what I told you," he answered, imitating my low tones, for though Katie was three seats off, immersed in her favorite "movie magazine," we both had reason to know the keenness of her ears, especially when something was discussed which she had no business to hear.

Not that Katie knowingly would ever betray knowledge so gained, but her loyalty and truth were counterbalanced by her voluble indiscretion, so that we gave her no opportunity to reveal our secrets, innocently or otherwise.

"Does Lillian know that I registered as Mrs. Black at the hotel?"

"Naturally not!" Dicky retorted a bit savagely. "It wasn't anything I would have been particularly anxious to spill, and as it happened, I didn't really grasp the delectable fact myself until I was on the train. So Lillian simply got my first impression that you were at the hotel under the care of some woman named Black."

"I see," and then for a long five minutes while the scenery slipped by, I went over the story Dicky had told Lillian, planned what to add to it, tested it from every angle, and at last looked up to find Dicky's eyes quizzically fixed upon me.

Dicky makes a suggestion. "What's the big idea?" he asked. "You look as if you might be Wells of Galworthy in the throes of composition."

"I'd like either one of them to tackle the job of fooling Lillian," I returned pettishly. "Oh-h!" Dicky whistled. "That is the trick, is it? What is it you don't want her to know?"

"Anything about that man on the train," I rejoined. "I'll tell you why sometime; please don't ask me now."

"Have it your own way," Dicky agreed indifferently. "But why all the mental strain to fix up a story for old LI? Simply tell her these facts, part of which she already knows. Train delayed—you caught in mob at station—felled by swinging door—stunned—and picked up and carried to waiting room. Recovered consciousness—kindly woman named Black helping you.

Classified

The Oregon Statesman

CLASSIFIED SECTION

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISEMENTS
One week (six insertions) 25c
One month 1.00
Six months 5.00
12 months 10.00
Rate per word: 2c
Per insertion 1c
Three insertions 2c
Minimum for any advertisement 25c

MONEY TO LOAN

On Real Estate
T. K. FORD
(Over Ladd & Bush Bank)

AUTO REPAIRING

Welding
We guarantee all our work
H. H. HARRIS 2-a20
175 So. Liberty

IF YOU TRY US ONCE YOU'LL BE SURE AND COME AGAIN.
JACK DORFFER MOTOR REPAIR
410 S. Com'l. 2-a20

RUNNING BOARD LINOLEUM 25c a square foot. Max O. Buren, 178 N. Commercial. 2-ap20

AUTO TOPS

MODERNIZE YOUR OLD FORD with one of our NEW ONE-MAN TOPS
O. J. Hull
256 State St. 6-ap20

FOR RENT

PASTURE—PHONE 925W. 4-may4
FOR RENT—5 ACRES GOOD BLACK soil, close in. Inquire 960 Broadway. 4-ap20

SPACE FOR RENT—173 SOUTH LIBERTY ST. 4-May1
FOR RENT—FOR 1-3 OF THE CROP, 160 acres, fair buildings; 100 acres in cultivation. 2 miles south. SOCOLOFSKY, Realtor. 241 State St. 2-ap20

FOR RENT apartments

FOR RENT—APARTMENTS; 411 North Front. 5-may4
NICE FURNISHED APARTMENT. Close in, 495 N. Commercial. Phone 1757W. 5-may1

FOR RENT—8 APPTS. CLOSE IN. NO objection to children. Mrs. Meyer, 147 N. Commercial, Room 6. 5-ap20

STRICTLY MODERN FIVE ROOM heated apartment, unfurnished. Garage. Reasonable price. 1444 Center. Phone 1877J. 5-ap20

FURNISHED APARTMENT WITH PLUMBING and water and heat. Patton Apartments. Call Patton's Book store. 24-2

FOR RENT—DOWNTOWN APARTMENTS with water and heat. Patton Apartments. Call Patton's Book store. 24-2

FOR RENT—APARTMENTS, 891 NO. Commercial. 5-may1

FOR RENT rooms

NICE FURNISHED MODERN Rooms, 404 N. High St. 6-may4

LARGE WELL FURNISHED ROOM—Private bath and garage. 248 North Summer. 6-may2

FURNISHED ROOM, BREAKFAST FURNISHED. Two blocks from State House. 234 N. 13th. Phone 395V. 6-ap20

FOR RENT houses

FOR RENT—FOUR ROOM HOUSE, close in. Inquire at 220 Marion St. 7-ap20

FOR RENT—CLEAN FIVE ROOM BUNGALOW at 1115 Jefferson street. Call Wednesday afternoon or phone 2024J, anytime. 7-a20

7 ROOM MODERN HOUSE WITH GARAGE, 710 N. Winter. Phone 768M. 7-ap20

FOR RENT—A HIGH CLASS BUNGALOW, 850 South Cottage. Phone 2070, 1513M. 7-may2

FOR RENT—8 ROOM FURNISHED house, east Salem. 7 room unfurnished house. 6 room house. GERTRUDE J. M. PAGE 499 N. Cottage. 7-ap20 ce ment concrete pavement in accordance with the plans and specifications therof which were accepted by the Common Council April 21st, 1924, which plans are now on file in the office of the City Recorder and which are hereby referred to and made a part hereof.

The Common Council hereby declares its purpose and intention to make the above described improvement by and through the Street Improvement Department of the City of Salem.

By order of the Common Council of the 21st day of April, 1924.

M. POULSEN, City Recorder. Date of first publication hereof is April 23rd, 1924.—m4.

Notice of Intention to Improve Alley in Block 81 of Original Plat of City of Salem, Oregon.

Notice is hereby given that the Common Council of the City of Salem, Oregon, deems it necessary and expedient and hereby declares its purpose and intention to improve the Alley in Block 81 of the Original Plat of the City of Salem, Marion County, Oregon, at the expense of the abutting and adjacent property by bringing said alley to the established grade and paving same with a six inch cement concrete pavement "fourteen feet wide with a crowned center in accordance with the plans and specifications therof which were accepted by the Common Council April 21st, 1924, and which are now on file in the office of the City Recorder and by reference made a part hereof.

The Common Council hereby declares its purpose and intention to make the above described improvement by and through the Street Improvement Department of the City of Salem.

By order of the Common Council of the 21st day of April, 1924.

M. POULSEN, City Recorder. Date of first publication hereof is April 23rd, 1924.—m4.

WANTED employment

FOR TRACTOR WORK PLOWING AND dicing, call 1007J. 12-a20

WANTED—BY BELLAH YOUNG man, spare time work. Evenings and Saturdays, 2004, care Statesman. 12-ap20

RELIABLE PARTY WANTS SEVERAL small sets of beds. 12-ap20
Box 1060, care Statesman. 12-ap20

WANTED miscellaneous

A HORSE TO WORK EITHER SINGLE or double, reasonable. Phone 827J, evenings. 12-a20

FOR QUICK SALE LIST YOUR HOME with me. I need more listing right now. Mrs. Meyer, 147 N. Commercial, Room 6. 12-ap20

DISPERSAL SALE of the Hyde Herd of Registered Jerseys

On the Hyde Farm Three Miles North of Corvallis on the Albany Road

SATURDAY, MAY 3

The Herd consists of Twenty-six Registered Jersey Cows, 16 of which are now in milk and 10 choice young Heifers, and 4 Young Bull Calves.

Every animal has been T. B. tested, U. S. Government Inspected and Accredited.

The older calves are rich in the blood of such grand old leaders of the breed as HOOD FARM POGIS 9th with 79 register of merit daughters and 35 producing bulls, sires of 323 R. M. cows; HOOD FARM TORONO, ex-champion gold medal sire, with 72 tested daughters and 28 producing sons.

This sale contains 15 Daughters and Grand-daughters of the great bull, LA BELLE'S PRINCE whose dam, La Belle Sibericus, was one of the most celebrated cows ever imported from the Island of Jersey. Starting test at 5 years and 7 months of age, she produced with very ordinary care, 816 pounds of fat from approximately 11,100 pounds of milk. She is dam of two noted sons, most celebrated of which is La Belle's Oxford Lad, first prize aged bull at the Pacific International in 1921 and sire of six tested cows with records as high as 700 pounds of fat. She is dam of the medal of merit cow, La Belle's Girl, 901 pounds of fat, who in turn is dam of St. Maves Lad's La Belle, with a first calf record of 728 pounds of fat and gold medal. These great cows are the attractions at the McKee and Loughary sales on the 20th and 21st of May.

FREE LUNCH AT NOON

THE HYDE HERD INCLUDES in addition to these, numerous descendants of GOLDEN FERN'S LAD, the most celebrated bull the Island of Jersey ever produced, three of whose sons have sold at auction for $27,700.00; GOLDEN GLOW'S CHIEF, sire of 40 tested cows including VIVE LA FRANCE and Old Man's Darling 2d, both known the world over; and GOVERNOR MARGOLD, one of the greatest bulls ever brought to Oregon from the noted C. A. Sweet herd of New York.

TERMS OF SALE: Sums less than $50; cash; over $50, six months' time on approved notes.

LLOYD HYDE, Owner

COL. A. L. STEVENSON, Auctioneer
MATT WILHELM, Clerk

AMAIZO OIL

The Perfect Oil

Your Grocer has it

For Frying — For Shortening
For Mayonnaise

FREE! Send for a copy of the AMAIZO Cook Book

Eleven Advantages of AMAIZO OIL

1. Free beautifully, deliciously and quickly.
2. Does not smoke at cooking temperature.
3. Does not carry the flavor of one food to another so can be used over and over.
4. Cleans quickly.
5. Measures easily and accurately.
6. Boils rapidly with other ingredients.
7. Necessitates no straining.
8. Makes delicious, delicious cakes or is an ideal shortening.
9. Makes the delicious cream of soups.
10. Does not turn in unappetizing lumps.
11. Does not burn, makes easy to handle and store.