GOODIN SALARY FIXED BY BOARD

New Superintendent of Adult School for Blind to Receive $2500

The state board of control at a session yesterday afternoon, fixed the salary of R. B. Goodin, newly elected superintendent of the adult school for the blind in Portland at $2500 for himself and his wife, the latter to receive $1500 a month and his wife $700 a year.

Goodin, who for many years secretary of the board of control, was elected yesterday by the board as superintendent of the state adult school for the blind in Portland. W. A. Delszell of Klamath Falls was elected to succeed Goodin in the board of control. The change is now effective.

Governor Pierce and State Treasurer Myers voted favorably on the election of both men. Secretary of State Koper objected to Goodin's leaving the board of control and did not vote.

Goodin has for several months been in charge of the blind school in Portland, having replaced former Superintendent J. F. Myers. Delszell has been an Oregon resident for 19 years. For nine years he was postmaster of Klamath Falls, eight years under the Wilson administration and one year under Harding. He is a Democrat in politics. He has been interested in banking and farming at Klamath Falls and owns a farm a few miles out of the city. He came from Oklahoma to Oregon. In the former state he was in educational work and also in the banking business. In 1912 he returned to Oklahoma temporarily to do special work in the office of the state auditor.

Governor Pierce will call a special meeting of the board of control today in an effort to get the board together for the selection of a site for the new training school.

Secretary of State Koper was instructed to draw resolutions thanking Mr. Goodin for his service as secretary to the board through many years, and State Treasurer Myers was instructed to draw up resolutions on the death of his predecessor, O. P. Hoff.

STATE HOSPITAL TO BAR VANDALS

Gates Authorized at Entrances to Grounds By Board of Control

For the reason that fruits and vegetables are constantly being stolen from the grounds of the state hospital for the insane and hilarious night parties are held in the hospital grounds, Dr. R. E. L. Steiner, superintendent of the hospital, yesterday asked the state board of control to authorize him to have gates installed at the entrances. The board complied with the request. The state penitentiary has suffered similarly and the one open entrance to the prison grounds also will be equipped with a gate.

Dr. Steiner explained that the gates would be closed after dark. He said he regretted to take this action inasmuch as it will deprive many people of the pleasure of driving through the grounds early in the night for perfectly legitimate reasons, but that it seems necessary for the protection of the property of the institution and even of the patients to some extent.

4000 LISTEN TO SERMON FOR YOUTHS

where the commander determined to stamp out Christianity in his ranks. Sixty men professed Christianity. They were sentenced to be stripped naked and sent out on the ice—it was winter time, and they were camped beside the frozen sea—and they were to freeze to death unless they should recant. One by one they went out, the later ones even anticipating the command and voluntarily giving up their garments to go out into the bitter death. The commander hoped they would recant. He had a hut with fire and clothing at the lake shore ready for any who should come back. For a while they sang. Then the voices became fainter, and most of them were past the power of persuasion. One miserable survivor crawled back to the hut—only one out of the 60. The watcher in charge, convicted by courage of the men who had remained faithful, took him into the hut as he had been ordered—and then he cried: "I will go and take your place!" And so 60 soldiers died for their faith!

"What is the secret of such strength? Purity! Sir Galahad, in 'The Idylls of the King,' said: 'My strength is as the strength of ten, because my heart is pure.' A conscience void of offense can be had only through the purity of Jesus Christ and his religion."

"There is a great difference between pleasure and happiness," said Mrs. Demarest. "When you go out joy riding of nights, the devil sits in the back seat, and you have no lasting happiness. I don't understand any self-respecting girl going out joy-riding late at night. I can't imagine any clean, decent young man asking a girl to go. And I don't understand the parents who allow it. If my boy were 21 he shouldn't do it! Nor my girl, even if she were 23. God made the clean, beautiful day for joy, and the night for sleep. Have fun in the daylight—clean, joyful enjoyment that will stand the sunlight of God's beautiful day but at night go to bed! The devil does his best work at night, with all the little demons from hell helping him on!"

The applause from the audience—from every part of the audience—juniors, high school students, collegians, married young people, unclassified young folks of every kind—was simply deafening. "There's a nasty taste in your mouth after these things. As one gets a glance of one's self in the mirror there is a blush of shame. It doesn't pay! It doesn't pay!" The speaker drew a vivid picture of the young man who loses, his clean, open look in the maze of cigarettes and other dissipations, and takes on the slouchy, sloppy, jellyfish look of the one out of touch with the beautiful world about him. "The pigs and the cows and the dogs all look to the earth. When you dabble in sin, you get that look also."

The speaker pointed out one beautiful compliment paid by Jesus Christ himself, who, when he saw Nathaniel approaching, said: "Behold, a man in whom there is no guile!" "It was the steadfast look of a clean man who had never soiled his soul by sin," said the speaker.

The meeting was a great religious success. It was a fervid success, for hundreds of young people came forward, to crowd both of the inquiry rooms in their earnest search for the better life. From the rapt attention paid all through the long address, and from the eager response at the final call, it promises to be one of the most profound services ever held in Salem. There were nearly 200 definite decisions made.

The sermon tonight is entitled, "A Young Fool." It is for old and young, but it is especially a continuation of last night's address. Mrs. Demarest went out to the girls' industrial school Tuesday afternoon, and out of the 50 inmates 22 professed their desire to live sincere Christian lives.

BOISES HAD GOOD TRIP OVER OCEAN

Writing at 2:30 p. m. April 18 from the steamship Leviathan to a Salem friend, R. P. Boise, who, with Mrs. Boise, is on a trip to Europe, says:

"We are now in the English channel with the coast of England in sight and numerous vessels around us. We arrive in Cherbourg, France, at 8 o'clock tonight. We should have gotten there about noon, but the ship for some time after leaving New York was slow on account of some new machinery.

"She is some vessel, her gross tonnage being 59,957, the greatest in the world; the next largest ship, the Majestic, is registered 56,551 gross tons. Length of Leviathan 950 feet 7 inches, breadth 100 feet 3 inches, keel to top of stack 184 feet, draft 39 feet 6 inches, normal speed 23 knots; has gone 27.48 knots per hour. There are nine decks, having an area of seven and a half acres. Six of these decks are connected with four passenger and two freight elevators. There are 46 boilers and 230 furnaces, four bronze propellers 16 feet in diameter, each weighing 38,500 pounds. Passenger capacity, 3379; crew and officers 1145.

"On this trip there are only 824 passengers, as the big tourist travel is not yet on. There is a fine library room, gymnasium, swimming pool, etc. Numerous games are going during the day, with movies and dancing in the evening. Two bands furnish music. A daily paper is gotten out with wireless telegrams. If there is anything that the U. S. shipping board has overlooked in the attempt to make this ship FIRST on the seven seas of this globe, I cannot think what it might be.

OAC BALL CLUB HERE SATURDAY

Strongest College Team in Conference to Play Bishop's Senators

The Oregon Agricultural college baseball team, probably the strongest college club in the conference, will be seen in action in Salem next Saturday afternoon when they are to meet the Salem Senators at Oxford field. This will probably be the only game OAC will play in Salem this season, since they are not scheduled to play Willamette. The game will begin at 4 o'clock, so that everyone in town will have an opportunity to see the battle.

Next Sunday afternoon the Knights of Columbus team from Portland will be here to play the Senators. The schedule for the coming week-end gives Salem fans an opportunity to see some excellent baseball. Both the OAC and the KC teams defeated the Japanese Meiji university team by 7 points, the KC's 9 to 2 and OAC defeated them 7 to 0. Yesterday OAC beat the University of Idaho team 11 to 0.

Manager Biddie Bishop of the Senators has completed a schedule up to and including June 8, all of the games to be in Salem except the one on June 8. The schedule follows:

Saturday, May 10—Oregon Agricultural college. Sunday, May 11—Knights of Columbus of Portland. Sunday, May 18—Pacific Fruit & Produce of Portland. Sunday, May 23—Kendall club of Portland.
