TENNIS UNION FIRM ON PLAYER-WRITERS

Conference Brings Little Hope for Tilden—Collegiate Champ Resigns

NEW YORK, May 7.—No change in the attitude of the United States Lawn Tennis association on the player-writer issue was indicated today as a result of a conference of officials last night with representatives of the Germantown Cricket club of Philadelphia, which espoused the cause of William T. Tilden, national champion and member of the club, in the controversy.

PHILADELPHIA, May 7.—Carl Fischer, intercollegiate tennis champion tonight resigned from the American Olympic and Davis cup squads as a result of the recent player-writer rule of the United States Lawn Tennis association. His action follows closely that of William T. Tilden, II, national champion, who resigned from the two squads for the same reason.

As a recent triangular meet at Forest Grove was lost by a two-point margin after a hurdler tripped over the final obstacle, Salem expects to make a good showing Saturday.
