PIERCE BOOSTS TRAINING CAMP

Governor Urges Citizens to Lend Support to Military Activities

Governor Pierce yesterday issued a statement in behalf of the citizens' military training camp to be held at Camp Lewis from June 19 to July 18.

"It is with the utmost earnestness and sincerity," said the governor, "that I urge the wholehearted support by every citizen and parent of the state of Oregon, of the citizens' military training camp to be held at Camp Lewis, Wash., from June 19 to July 18, 1924.

"This camp is conducted by the war department under the national defense act, for young men from the ages of 17 to 24, its object being to bring together men of high type from all sections of the country and thereby develop closer national and social unity; to teach the privileges, duty and responsibilities of American citizenship; to stimulate patriotism; to interest young men in the importance of military training; to teach self discipline and obedience; and to develop the physical standard of the American youth through participation in military exercises, athletic games and sports conducted under expert directors.

"I personally know the chief of staff, Colonel Whitworth, who has charge of this camp and assure the mothers of any boys that they will be under the care of a gentleman of the highest type.

"It is my intention, if affairs of the state permit, to attend the camp on Visitors' day (July 16), review and inspect the boys before their departure from Camp Lewis."

TEACHER TENURE IS TOO SHORT

So Declares Churchill in Statement—Efficiency Is Much Marred

One of the weaknesses of the public school administration in Oregon, according to J. A. Churchill, state superintendent of schools, is the instability of city superintendents and high school principals in their positions. He advocates a longer tenure of office for them.

"Under the tenure of service for city superintendents and principals can be lengthened," said Mr. Churchill, "the larger school systems of the state cannot hope to have as strong an organization and as good scholarship as each should have. Where superintendents and high school principals move every few years from one position to another, too often for little or no reason whatever, the school systems are subjected to changes in school policies that are bewildering both to the teachers and the school patrons.

Statistics were recently gathered by Mr. Churchill showing the turn-over in the offices of city superintendents, principals of standard high schools with the following results:

City superintendents in districts of the first class—Average years experience, 20; average years experience in Oregon, 15; average years in present position, 4.

Principals of standard high schools—Average years experience, 13; average years experience in Oregon, 9; average years in present position, 2.

Teachers in standard high schools—Average years experience in Oregon, 5; average years in present position, 3.
