Commander of World Fliers Ordered Home After Harrowing Experience in North—Hits Mountain

LEADER TO RETAIN TITLE AS COMMANDING OFFICER

Plan to Send Major Across Atlantic in Time to Lead Fliers Home

CORDOVA, Alaska, May 12.—(By The Associated Press.)—Three United States army air cruisers encircling the globe plan to hop off Wednesday from Attu island, the most western tip of the Aleutian island group to Paramashira island, in the Kuriles, according to word received here.

BREMERTON, Wash., May 12.

(By The Associated Press.)—Radiograms from the north, some of which had come in since early today, indicated that Major Frederick L. Martin, commander of a circumnavigation of the globe by a squadron of the United States army, would return to the states on the Steamer Catherine D, a cannery tender, leaving port Moller, Alaska, tomorrow and arriving at Bellingham, Wash., in a fortnight.

Major Martin and his mechanic, Staff Sergeant Alva L. Harvey, neither of whom, according to the latest reports, suffered injury from hitting a mountain with their airplane April 30 in the Port Moller region of the Alaska peninsula, from subsequent hardships, had the option before them tonight of returning part way by the United States coast guard cutter Algonquin. The Algonquin left Dutch harbor, Alaska, yesterday under orders to take Major Martin and Sergeant Harvey aboard, and should have reached port Moller last night.

The coast guard cutter Haids, which aided the three machines in departing from Atka was due tonight at Attu. She and the United States fisheries boat Elder are to do their best in furnishing reports of the weather that will enable the fliers to know if it is safe for them to make an 878 mile jump to Paramashira island, in the Kurile chain at the northern end of Japan, on Wednesday as planned. They have, however, received aid from commercial vessels in the North Pacific ocean and it was thought possible here that the Haids, by working with a powerful station on St. Paul island or through her own apparatus, which includes an emergency set of unusual strength, might be able to establish communication with American and Japanese destroyers which at the latest reports were hovering near Paramashira.

It is believed that Major Martin will choose to come on the Catherine D which will arrive in the United States sooner than the Algonquin. The Catherine D, a 2500 ton steamer with roomy passenger accommodations is owned by the Pacific American Fisheries, which has a cannery at Port Moller, where the aviators arrived Saturday night after fighting their way through a snowy wilderness for seven days, resting and feeding in a trapper's cabin for three days, and walking one day along the eastern fring of Port Moller bay.

The two aviators will be assigned to duty in the army air service headquarters temporarily but their names will be kept on the list of the around the world fliers, in compliment to the men and in recognition of the hardships they have endured in valiantly attempting to lead the squadron in the globe encircling flight.

POINCARÉ WILL RETIRE AT END OF HIS DUTIES

Failure in French Election Accepted By Premier to Mean Policy Rejection

PARIS, May 12.—(By the AP.)—Premier Poincaré accepts the country's verdict as being against him, and will not try to seek, as some of his supporters insist, a mixed majority among the groups in the new chamber. Consequently, he considers his mission ended and will merely carry on until the newly elected deputies take up their duties the first of June.

Premier Poincaré will ask his colleagues to endorse this resolve at a meeting of the cabinet tomorrow (Tuesday).

M. Poincaré's decision to obtain from all political initiative until the legal tenure of his office expires, entails, it is understood, abandonment of his visit to Chequers court, and the British prime minister, Ramsay MacDonald will be so advised after the cabinet has sanctioned his decision.

REVENUE BILL FACES CHANGE OR SURE VETO

Administration Spokesmen Notify Leaders That Vital Changes Necessary to Secure President's Approval

SIMMONS DECLARES DEMOCRATS TO FIGHT

Coolidge, Mellon and Smoot Agree That Bill Would Produce Big Deficit

WASHINGTON, May 12.—The revenue bill reached the crossroads today as administration spokesmen warned republican leaders in congress to obtain in conference modification of the legislation as passed by the senate or to accept a veto. Senate democrats at the same time let it be known that they were prepared to put up a fight to retain the principal features of their program in the measure.

Senator Simmons of North Carolina, in charge of the democratic tax reduction fight, announced today that unless he received assurance that his bill as passed by the senate would not be "slaughtered" in conference, he would wage a fight to place a majority of democrats on the senate conference committee.

Not only can the legislation not be accepted in its present form, administration leaders declared, but any tax reduction would be impossible, they insisted, if pending special appropriation bills, such as the pension and bonus measure, were enacted.

The general fiscal situation was thoroughly gone over today at the White House at a conference between President Coolidge, Secretary Mellon and Chairman Smoot of the senate finance committee.

Meanwhile the senate amendments to the revenue measure were formally disagreed to by the house and a conference ordered. The measure was not reported back to the senate for similar action, however, pending conference of leaders there on the appointment of conferees which is scheduled for tomorrow.

Socialist-Labor Party Convention Names Johns of Portland for President

NEW YORK, May 12.—Frank T. Johns, 35 years old, a carpenter of Portland, Or., was nominated for president of the United States at the national convention of the Socialist-Labor party today.

The party, represented by 40 delegates from 15 states, also nominated Verne L. Reynolds, 38, of Baltimore, for the vice presidency.

Resolutions condemning corruption in national affairs and expressing sorrow over the death of Premier Lenin of Russia were adopted. It was voted to hold a ratification meeting of the party next Saturday night in Cooper union, Johns, the presidential nominee, is a graduate of a Spokane high school. He was a farmer near Roseburg, Or., until 1913, when he became a mail carrier. During the war he was a carpenter in the Portland ship yards and has been following the trade ever since.

"I am a real representative of the working classes," Johns said, "because I earn my living by actual manual labor."

Explaining the position of his party on political questions he said:

"The overthrow of the capitalist system," was the fundamental issue, adding: "I believe in the use of the ballot, but if the will of the majority who are workers cannot prevail, then let us apply force. By force I do not mean physical force, such as shooting or mob attacks, but rather the use of industrial pressure by means of a big union."

DOW V. WALKER TRIAL PUT OFF—NO WITNESSES

Request for Immediate Trial Is Turned Down—Prosecution Unready

PORTLAND, May 12.—County Commissioner Dow V. Walker will not go to trial tomorrow on the charge under which he was indicted last Saturday of having given a bribe in connection with the awarding of the engineering contract for construction of three county bridges across the Willamette river here. On showing by the prosecution in the case that they would be unable to bring in some of their witnesses so soon, presiding Judge George Tazewell today granted a postponement of the date previously set. Walker had demanded an immediate trial on the ground that delay would jeopardize his chances for reelection in the special recall election to be held next Friday.

DE MOLAY ORDER WILL MEET HERE

State Convention Announced for Masonic Branch—250 Expected in City

Nearly 250 members of the order of De Molay, representing 16 chapters, are expected to be in Salem June 16 and 17 for the second state convention of the order. Two noted speakers will be present to address the convention. Judge Cochran, of Missouri, grand master counselor, and Frank Land of Kansas City, grand scribe, will be the visitors and will speak at the armory the night of June 16.

"As Salem is so centrally located, I feel that the selection of the city for the second annual convention of the order of De Molay is especially well advised," President W. J. Kerr, of OAC, said yesterday. President Kerr represents the supreme council of the organization and is state deputy. He was here conferring with the advisory council in regard to the state convention.

The committee on arrangements has already decided to invite the Sunnyside chapter of Portland to attend the convention in a body and to bring its famous De Molay boys' band.

RASCALS MUST LEAVE LABOR SAYS GOMPERS

President of American Federation Vigorously Attacks "Unclean Elements"

MONTREAL, May 12.—Drastic measures for ridding the labor movement of elements which Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor described as "unclean," were reported to have been introduced at today's session of the American Federation of Labor executive committee. "We must turn the rascals out," Mr. Gompers was said to have declared. "Their aims and methods are prejudicial to the interests of industry, workmen and contractors."

His arraignment of the radical groups in organized labor took place at an executive discussion of controversies in New York city between hod carriers and building laborers and the building trades council.

VIRGINIA SUFFERS GENERAL FLOODING

One Life Lost and Large Damage Done on Principal Southern Rivers

RICHMOND, Va., May 12.—One death resulted tonight from the most general flood Virginia has experienced in many years. William Lucas was drowned at Fredericksburg while trying to rescue a small boat.

Serious flood damage was reported from many sections with rivers and streams almost everywhere in the state already but of their banks or nearing flood stage as a result of the heavy rains of the past three days.

Charlottesville, where several bridges in and around the town have been washed away and several manufacturing plants flooded, appeared to have suffered the heaviest damage. With the Rappahannock river 25 feet above normal, street highway and electric light service in the town was paralyzed.

With the Shenandoah river higher than it has been for 50 years, widespread damage was reported in that river valley, while the Rappahannock is 14 feet above normal stage, and warnings of a rise in the James river have been issued and at Lynchburg. Scores of residences in the lower sections along the Shenandoah are flooded and inhabitants in other threatened lowlands are removing their possessions. In the Fredericksburg section, where the Rappahannock has left its banks considerable damage has resulted.

The young people are to hold a street service at State and Liberty tonight at 7 o'clock. They are to meet at Kimball school at 6:40 to march down to the place of service. A street meeting on Sunday afternoon interested several hundred people. Other such meetings are to be held during this week.

Because her urgent message material would not go in three lectures, Mrs. Demarest is to offer a fourth free address to women only on Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock. This will be free as the others have been, and will discuss the training of children and many other subjects of home and social life that are vital to know. Her experience makes her an adviser and authority in home and social relations, and her talks have all drawn capacity houses—5000 women turned out to hear each of the last two addresses.

Last night the evangelist spoke on the parable of the leper who was healed because he had faith to come and pray for healing. "Sin is like leprosy, in so many startling ways," said the speaker. "It has small beginnings it is unclean; it is contagious; and humanly speaking it is incurable. The speaker told of her aunt, Emma B. Booth-Tucker, who was a missionary in India. One morning she heard a terrible scream outside her window, and looked out to see a splendid young man struggling in the grasp of four officers.

A woman stood near by, pleading for just a chance to kiss him, but the officers were flint-hearted and would not wait a second. He had just been discovered to be a leper, only a tiny white spot on the unmistakable mark of the uncleanness that would end only in death.

"Sin begins like that. It may start with a little lie, a little cord game, any of a thousand things little of themselves, but they grow and grow, and man cannot cure them of his own power. The American mother who took her little son to the dentist, told him to close his eyes and open his mouth and she would put something nice into it. He did so—and in his losing faith in his mother because she lied to him, he became an infidel who led hundreds of other men down to hell."

MEN ONLY TO HEAR ADDRESS BY EVANGELIST

Mrs. Demarest, Who Has Seen All Sides of Life in World's Greatest Cities, to Bring Message

CALL FOR CONVERTS BRINGS BIG RESPONSE

Sin Likened to Leprosy in Address to Large Audience Last Night

Tonight at 7:30 Evangelist Mrs. Demarest is to speak to men only at the tabernacle.

Mrs. Demarest has seen almost everything there is of life to see. As an evangelist, a Salvation army worker, a war nurse and worker, a social worker in the worst slums of Paris, London, and most of the continental cities, she knows the worst as well as the best there is of life. She speaks with the fervor of one who believes in her message of love and repentance as the one thing that will serve the world. She has no false, foolish, damning prudery. What she has to say to men for their own good, she can say with a clean heart and an understanding heart. The men of Salem have never heard such a message as that laid up for them tonight. The women have crowded the tabernacle at each of the meetings, especially for them the men should do at least as well—and they need it infinitely more.

A meeting for women only is planned for the First Methodist church tonight at 7:30, conducted by the Lay Women's alliance. It will open with a 30 minute Bible study on prayer, led by Mrs. R. M. T. Histed. All women are urged to bring Bibles and writing tablets. A message in song will be given by Mrs. Ward Willis Long, this to be followed by a short, soul-stirring message on prayer, by Rev. Mianic Miller of the South Salem Friends' church. The evening will close with a short prayer service.

The young people are to hold a street service at State and Liberty tonight at 7 o'clock. They are to meet at Kimball school at 6:40 to march down to the place of service. A street meeting on Sunday afternoon interested several hundred people. Other such meetings are to be held during this week.

BURIED MINERS NEAR RESCUED IN ZINC MINE

Food Passed to Men Entombed by Sliding Rock—Will Be Freed Soon

GILMAN, Colo., May 12.—Five miners entombed in the Empire Zinc Mining company's property near here last Saturday still were underground tonight, but all reported to rescue workers outside that they were well and cheerful. During the day water, coffee and food was passed to the men through an opening made by a diamond drill and fresh air was pumped in to them.

Work of scores of men trying to dig into the mine was interrupted several times by sliding rock and timbers, but tonight officials were confident the men soon would be reached.

During the day one of the miners was asked by a member of the rescue party if he had any message for "his girl." The entombed man replied: "All O. K., but I'll see her myself."

The entombed men laughed and joked with the workers, urging them to "hurry up so we can go home."

SENATE VOTES ADJUSTMENT IN FREIGHT RATES

Interstate Commission Directed to Assume Regulation to Relieve Agricultural Depression

FARM BLOC DETERMINED UPON FARM RELIEF BILL

If McNary Measure fails Leaders Will Propose Other Aid for Farmer

WASHINGTON, May 12.—Urged by the farm bloc, a joint resolution was quickly adopted by the senate today directing the interstate commerce commission to adjust freight rates to relieve depression in any basic industry, particularly agriculture. It was adopted with virtually no debate, Senator King, Democrat, Utah, alone questioning the wisdom of the policy.

Farm bloc legislation is an outstanding issue in congress with the farm bloc standing against an adjournment until some measure is enacted to aid agriculture. The first fight will be made on the McNary-Haugen bill which will come to a test soon. If this measure fails, the bloc is prepared to champion the Norris-Sisclair bill, while the Curtis-Aswell bill is in the offing and may receive attention although it has not been reported by the senate agriculture committee.

The rate adjusting resolution was introduced by Senator Smith, Democrat, South Carolina, chairman of the interstate commerce committee, and was supported by Senator Cummins, Republican, Iowa, who explained the purpose of the resolution was to give the support of congress to the interstate commerce commission to act as the authority now vested in it.

Speakers for the farm bloc said the resolution "would mark a great step forward in aiding the farmer, in that quick, easy transportation would be afforded for farm products.

Senator Capper, Republican, Kansas, one of the farm bloc spokesmen in a statement said he would oppose adjustment of congress until a "real effort has been made to help the farmers of this country."

"Pending now in congress are four measures for farm relief," the statement continued. "Three are designed to assist in the stabilizing of farm prices—not in arbitrary fixing of farm prices as they are often deliberately misrepresented. They propose to try to restore a parity between farm prices and general commodity prices approximating the ratio that existed during the pre-war years.

Any one of these measures will be of great assistance to farmers. "The principles of the McNary-Haugen bill are economically sound. The bill is nothing more than a workable plan for making the protective tariff effective in maintaining a fair domestic price level for crops of which we produce a normal surplus. The enactment of this emergency measure would mean better prices for the farmer immediately.

"The farmer needs all the help the government can give him along sound and practical lines, and he needs it at once."

The McNary-Haugen bill would create a $200,000,000 export corporation to buy farm products at a ratio price derived from the average price existing during the period from 1905-14.
