

CITY NEWS IN BRIEF

Another Birth Reported—Mr. and Mrs. Frank J. Eckley, 960 North Twentieth, are receiving congratulations over the arrival of Robert Harold, born at a local hospital on May 9. Mr. Eckley is an accountant.

Seats for Cinderella—Play on sale at Grand theater today at 10 o'clock.

Street Flusher in Action—Painted a vivid red, the recently purchased street flushing equipment was in operation Wednesday. The equipment was ordered in Portland and is equipped with the latest devices. A special pump will force water from Mill creek into the large tank so that the water will not be taken from the watermain.

Telephone Picnic Planned—Approximately 400 employees and members of the Willamette Telephone club will be in Albany June 15 to attend the annual picnic held in Bryant park this year, according to an announcement made by W. H. Dancy, manager of the Pacific Telephone & Telephone company here. Offices from Salem south are represented in the club. It is also expected that a number of Portland employees and other friends will attend the picnic.

Yes, We Are Selling—Lots of paint. This week only for cash we are making a reduction of 10 per cent on Sherwin-Williams paints, varnishes and brushes. Get in on the deal. Falls City-Salem Lumber Co., 349 S. 12th street, near depot.

Banks Close Friday—Salem banking institutions will be closed all day Friday for the primary election. The state offices are also expected to be closed during the day.

Liquor Causes Arrest—A pint bottle, partly filled with moonshine, caused the arrest of three Salem men Tuesday night, and as a result P. N. Eskow, driving the automobile, is being held for the justice court on a charge of possession of liquor; H. S. Grimes was fined $10 for being drunk and the charges against "Frisco" Edwards were dropped and his case dismissed Wednesday. The trio were arrested by Officer Sproed.

Scott Speaks Today—John H. Scott will tell members of the Marion-Polk County Realty association his impressions of a recent trip through the west as a part of the regular meeting of the association at the Marion hotel today noon. The remainder of the luncheon hour will be given over to a round table discussion.

Rotary Endorses Bonds—The Rotary club added its endorsement to the proposed $16,000 bond issue to come before the voters of the city Friday relative to the purchase of adequate equipment for the fire department. Plans for the coming year were discussed as a feature of the meeting, there being no speaker.

Say It With Your Vote—Vote X-99. W. E. DeLong for constable.

Winslow Again Sues—Continuing his fight against the state game commission relative to their change in the dates of the open deer hunting season, W. C. Winslow, Salem attorney, has filed another suit against the offending commission and asks that the court issue a temporary restraining order to prevent them from putting their order into effect, as they propose to do. Mr. Winslow sets forth the fact that he has obtained his 1924 hunting license and may kill two deer. But the game commission has changed the open season to be from September 10 to October 31, and promises to prosecute those hunting from August 20 to September 10.

Juniors On Picnic—The junior class of Willamette university deserted classes and work yesterday for a trip to Silver Creek falls. In celebration of the annual "flunk" day, the picknickers left early in the morning by truck, spent the entire day at the falls, and returned home at a late hour last night. The secrecy which usually attends the trip was lacking. As a result many of the juniors at campus houses found doors locked, buttons cut off hiking trousers, and other impediments put in their way.

To the Voters of Marion County—If you appreciate the services of an official who is too busy with duties connected with the office to conduct a personal campaign, vote 85X. Mary L. Fulkerson, County School Superintendent.

Lions Raise Signboard—Members of the Salem Lions club turned out last night to erect an 8 by 20-foot signboard at the Salem camp grounds. The board is located just west of the superintendent's office, and will advertise Salem. The Lions club emblem will crown the top of the board. F. Ray Felker, a member of the club, has volunteered to attend to the painting. A called meeting was held for the purpose of endorsing the $16,000 bond issue to come before the voters of the city Friday for the purchase of more adequate and needed fire department equipment, including a hook and ladder truck. Announcement was made that John L. Brady would speak on "Better Homes" at the Friday noon meeting of the club. A picnic dinner was served the workers by the wives of members.

Medics Hit Oleo—The Southern Oregon Medical society, at its recent meeting in Roseburg, adopted a resolution endorsing the laws passed at the last session of the legislature against oleo. The medical men held that oleo is injurious to the health and that it retards the economic development of the state by conflicting with the dairy industry.

Can the Voters—Beat this? Mary L. Fulkerson and Oscar Bower, impartial and fearless law enforcement; Oscar Steelhammer, Just taxation.

Speeder Pays Fine—C. R. Lombardy paid $10 in the justice court Wednesday. He was arrested for speeding on the highway.

School Exercises Held—Presentation of two diplomas to pupils in the Labish school was made last night by Mrs. Mary L. Fulkerson, county school superintendent. Mrs. Fulkerson will speak at the commencement exercises at Brooks tonight, when seven pupils are to graduate. All of the pupils are completing the work in the eighth grade.

Eschwig to Succeed Ivie—C. F. Eschwig, a Willamette university law student, will succeed Merie Ivie as clerk of the circuit court when the latter resigns the latter end of this week. Eschwig is receiving instructions in his new duties. Arthur Tasto, owing to ill health at present, decided not to accept the position. Mr. Ivie has been at the court house for nearly four years and is leaving for a position with the Shell company.

Bedding Plants—In all varieties. Greenhouse open evenings, 15th and Market street. C. F. Brethaupt, Florist.

Clothesline is Robbed—Several articles of wearing apparel were stolen from her clothesline Tuesday night, it was reported to the police yesterday by Mrs. O. B. Gingrich, 725 North D street. The Hillman Fuel company Hood and Broadway, reported the theft of eight tanker jacks. U. Q. Wolfert, 1941 North Fifth, re-he met several automobile loads of training school boys on their way home from the services at the tabernacle. They turned around and gave chase, locating the inmate a few hours later. Two other boys, George Kline and Noble Everett, who escaped from the institution, have been returned to the school, it was announced Wednesday by L. M. Gilbert, superintendent.

Fruit Surveys Ordered—United States Senator Charles McNary has advised the Oregon Growers association that the senate agricultural committee has adopted his amendment making available a sufficient appropriation to conduct surveys bringing apples and prunes within the provisions of the warehouse act. At present dealers in these two fruits cannot obtain credits from the federal intermediate credit bank because they must be licensed under government inspection before securing such credits. Apple and prune men have been denied this assistance on account of a lack of funds in the department of agriculture.

Father Escapes Punishment—Because of his youngster and wife, J. E. Boyd, recently arrested when caught in the act of shoplifting, will not be punished for his crimes. The case was dismissed when it came before P. J. Kuntz, justice of the peace, upon motion of John Carson, district attorney. Boyd and the police have been busy since his arrest Saturday night in returning articles that were stolen in Salem. When his victims learned of his youngster, they were satisfied with receiving their property and refused to prosecute.
