"When a Man's a Man"

"No! When I marry
it'll be to a MAN!"

Harold Bell
Wright's
powerful novel..

is on the screen at least,
leaping through drama and romance that seldom has been equalled.

If all the millions who have read the book could tell you how they loved it we'd never have to write about it. If you are one of them, you know it.

WHAT MAKES A MAN A MAN?

Is it daring—sacrifice—power?

or

Is it brawn—appearance—character?

Here's a story of one who never knew what life could mean until it made him prove himself a man.

Presented by SOL LESSER

Directed by EDWARD F. CLINE

With John Bowers, Marguerite de la Motte, George Hackathorne, Forrest Robinson,
Robert Frazier
