Accepts a Palpit—Rev. U. S. Crowder who for the last several months has been a resident of Salem has been drafted back into the ministry in Wyoming. A letter from him states that he will be the pastor of the Methodist church in Manville. This is one of the best churches in the state and when a vacancy occurred Bishop Meade wired Mr. Crowder to take the place. Being a good soldier he at once left for the work although he had other plans and will preach his first sermon in the new charge on Sunday. The appointment lasts until September when he expects to return to Salem to be with his family. Mr. Crowder made friends rapidly when in this city and many people will miss him although they will be glad that he has been given such a large recognition.

Bits for Breakfast
Primary election day.

May the best men win. In the multiplicity of candidates, there will be some good losers; may they be good losers.

There was a new idea in the Slogan pages of yesterday that was commended—the idea that is the duty of Salem and the Salem district to grow great and prosper; a moral duty; one we owe to ourselves and the wide world.

The use of her white coal will lead the way in making Salem the whitest spot on the commercial map of this country and of all the world. And keep it so, forever and a day.

Some one has been telling cock and bull stories about Congressman Hawley being likely to lose in Yamhill and Polk counties. There is nothing to it—not one thing. Congressman Hawley will not lose a single county in his district.

There are so many different kinds of colors of tickets that the voters in the primaries of today will for the most part do their own marking, and the result will not be a vindication of the practical working of the direct primary according to the way it was specified when it was voted into our Oregon system. It shows up many faults. But this is not a complete condemnation of it. The convention system also had many faults. Any system that could be devised, to be worked by fallible human hands and minds, would show faults. We will not swear reach perfection in this world; nor, till the millennium, any thing approaching perfection. And the millennium is a very long time in the future.

There are to be at least thirteen flax pulling machines at work in the Salem district the coming season; twelve new ones and the one that was brought here last year.

That is the present program. There may possibly be two or three more; and they will all be needed, if we get our June rains.

Ouster of Minto Demanded
By Former Chief of Police
Ouster proceedings against Chief of Police Frank A. Minto have been instituted by W. W. Birtchet, former head of the police department, and the complaint will be filed within the next few days, probably Saturday. The complaint names Minto and the city of Salem as defendants.
That he was duly elected marshal in the general election of November, 1922, for a term of two years is the contention set forth by Mr. Birtchet. He began his work January 1, 1923, and continued in office until the first Monday in January, 1924, at which time he charges, the mayor and city council, without cause or reason, took away his insignia of authority and removed him from his office. The following day Mr. Minto was acting as chief of police by virtue of a protracted appointment by the mayor and council, Mr. Birtchet declares.
The complaint demands that each of the defendants be required to show by what right and authority Frank Minto holds and occupies the office of marshal and asks that upon final judgment he be declared entitled to the office.
