LEGION TO AID MEMORIAL DAY

Will Attend Special Church Services and Participate in Parade

Cooperation with the GAR for Memorial day plans was pledged Monday night by Capital Post No. 9, American legion. These plans include attending special services at the First Baptist church on Sunday, preceding Memorial day, and a division in the parade. The post will meet at McCornack hall prior to the church services, and attend in a body.

Five delegates to the state convention in Portland, June 11 to 14 inclusive, were elected as follows: Clifford Brown, Robin Day, Brazier C. Small, Carl Gabrielson and Allan Carson. I. W. Lewis, Miles H. McKey, Mort Pilkington, C. J. Green and Carle Abrams were named alternates.

Senators and representatives in congress will receive the official thanks of the post in their stand for the bonus bill. It was reported that orders had been placed for 90 palm beach suits, which will distinguish Salem at the state convention.

Members of the Ladies auxiliary, which met at the same time as the legion, furnished the sandwiches and home-made pie for the feast that followed the meeting. The Ladies auxiliary now has 42 members and is growing constantly. They will hold their next meeting at the chamber of commerce rooms, Thursday night, June 5, and the second meeting of the month on the third Monday at McCornack hall, with the legion.

POWER MEN ARE BANQUETED HERE

Program and Dinner for PEP Department Heads at Marion Last Night

Nearly 50 employes and heads of various departments of the PEP company of Portland, were entertained at the monthly meeting of the Foreman's club by the Willamette division at the Marion hotel Monday night. C. C. Simeral, formerly of Salem, is president of the club and presided at the banquet Monday night. The PEP company is the new name for the old PRL&P company, of which W. M. Hamilton is district manager.

Each month heads of the various departments tell of the activities of their department and the work and its relationship to other departments. Progress of the work in the Salem division was emphasized Monday night and Portland men given an opportunity to see what was being done here.

The talks were given by H. H. Stanton, superintendent of the gas plant; D. A. Wright, superintendent of the line department, and R. W. Simeral, superintendent of the power plant. The visitors were taken through the plants here and in order to learn more about civic conditions, were presented with individual copies of the "Trail 'Em to Salem" booklet published by the chamber of commerce.

In addition to the regular program in charge of employes of the Salem division, F. Ray Felker, Lloyd Strasbaugh and Fred Wilkinson provided special entertainment for the visitor. The Portland men drove back home after the banquet.

Unusual Circumstances in McConville Death

H. McConville, a well known resident of Rouge river, in Josephine county, fell dead on Monday, May 13, and was buried in the Home cemetery on Tuesday, May 14. Five ministers, each one a special friend of the deceased, conducted the funeral ceremonies.

There was something unusual in the death of Mr. McConville. He had gone to meet his wife, who was returning from spending some time in California. As they reached a neighbor's house a heavy rain came up and they were persuaded to stay overnight. The next morning family prayers were held, Mr. McConville giving one of the prayers. After the prayers they sang "Rock of Ages." In the midst of the song Mr. McConville dropped dead. His head fell on a pillow upon which was printed "At Rest." There is always a tragedy in sudden death, but it would be hard to find a more beautiful one than this.

Mr. McConville was a brother of Mrs. L. C. Dennison, 351 Cottage street, and was well known in this city. His work as an artist has attracted more than ordinary attention.

Strawberry Barreling Firm Lines Up Labor

Baker, Kelly & McLaughlin is opening the strawberry barreling season with headquarters at the Salem Fruit Union plant, and is now lining up women to work during the season. The concern has about 200 acres of berries signed up this year.

Due to the shortage of rain, small berries are expected this year, according to R. I. McLaughlin. The present conditions are not yet serious, as it is believed that the ground contains sufficient moisture, but a continuation of the dry spell will make it a poor season and similar to 1922, when the berries were small.

Early Orégons are already beginning to arrive at the plant.

LILLIAN GISH IN "THE WHITE SISTER"

Bebe Daniels in Zane Grey's 'The Heritage of the Desert'

Someone Rises To Defend Hollywood

"Hollywood is the most moral city of its size I have ever lived in," says Pola Negri.

"It has more beautiful churches and schools than any city in Europe equal to it in population. Its people have a saner, cleaner outlook and the whole tone of its life is infinitely more wholesome. How it ever got its reputation, I do not know. It deserves to be known as a kind of 'Spotless Town.'"

"The only wickedness which takes place, so far as I can see, is what is done by the players on the studio stages in filming a story. And as a rule, the motion picture teaches one great lesson, that wickedness does not pay."

Miss Negri plays the role of a Parisian apache in her new Paramount starring picture, "Shadows of Paris," produced by Herbert Brennon. Featured in her support are Adolphe Menjou, Charles de Roche and Hyntly Gordon.

Mae Murray Coming in Mexican Picture

Mae Murray comes to the Oregon theater Monday in her latest picture, "Mademoiselle Midnight," which is said to give her the best role she has ever had. The story, written by Carl Harbaugh and John Russell, concerns the daughter of a Mexican ranch owner, who is afflicted with an odd midnight madness. With this as a premise, the film works up to many thrilling moments. Miss Murray has an opportunity to wear gowns of the Spanish style and she introduces some sensational dances.

Vesuvius Eruption in "The White Sister"

It isn't often you can get a volcano to work when you want it to, but Henry King, the director of "The White Sister," starring Lillian Gish, which will be shown at the Grand theater starting tomorrow was able to photograph a violent eruption of Mt. Vesuvius just in time for the final scenes of the F. Marion Crawford story, which call for exactly the kind of an explosion that happened.

"THE MASK OF LOPEZ"

A Harry J. Brown production. Here's one that gets you right on the jump and holds you all the way. That's the most essential thing in the entire make-up of a moving picture and Fred Thompson digs right in and keeps going all the way. Thompson's long holding of the world's all around athlete championship practically made him a great big sort of a superhero and his strengths of feat in "The Mask of Lopez" makes you marvel at his endurance. The special stunts that he displays are marvelous. To be seen at the Liberty theater today and tomorrow.

FIVE ZOOS ROBBED OF PARROTS

STUTTGART, Germany, April 28.—Thieves have recently made a specialty of parrots which are the local zoological gardens and the zoos in Berlin, Frankfurt, Nuremberg and Dresden have reported thefts of birds, and in all cases valuable parrots were taken.
