MAY-TIME

I sit beneath the boughs of fragrant trees,
While twittering birds flit gaily overhead;
A droning music comes from bumble-bees
At work among the clover blossoms red.
The sunshine, sifting brightly through the leaves,
Makes lacy patterns on the daisied grass,
And smiling May bends low to kiss a rose,
That blushes crimson at the light caress.

THE MEETING of the Women's Republican Study club at 2:30 o'clock Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. C. P. Bishop, 765 Court street, will be a gathering of particular note. This will be the last regular social meeting of the club until fall, although, if necessary, call meetings may be in order. John L. Brady of The Statesman will be the speaker of the afternoon, taking as his subject, "Women and Politics." It is probable that a large crowd will be present at 2 o'clock to hear the address, which will be supplemented by short talks by a number of the club women. A social half hour will precede the main talk of the afternoon. Afterward tea will be served. The hostess-group for the day includes Mrs. George M. Brown, Mrs. George H. Alden and Mrs. Frank Power.

Special music numbers will be a part of the afternoon. It is especially desired that a large group be in attendance for the meeting tomorrow. For the special musical numbers Mrs. Percy Cupper and Mrs. W. P. Babcock will sing.

Heenan, Margaret Simms, Nancy Savage, Myrtle Shippe, Dorothy Bell, Fay Wolz, Luella Patton and Mrs. Ralph White.

Yesterday afternoon Mrs. White was hostess for 40 of her younger pupils, the group including the members of the Saturday and Monday dancing classes. Instead of a picnic, which would have been given had the weather been clear, the group gathered in Derby hall for a most delightful afternoon of games and dancing.

ent toward many worthy programs Salem people will doubtless attend in large numbers. The farewell benefit concert which will be given under the auspices of the Salem MacDowell club, Professor Launer, a pianist of high ability and achievement, will continue his musical study this summer, and throughout the following winter abroad.

Professor Launer, who for the past two years has been professor of piano and theory at the Willamette university school of music will sail for Paris June 18 from New York on the steamer La France, having been granted a year's leave of absence by the board of trustees.

He will study at the American Conservatory at Fontainebleau, France, during the summer months under Isidor Philipp, and spend the winter at the Conservatoire Nationale in Paris.

Professor Launer will leave Salem June 8th or 9th, visiting friends in Chicago, Buffalo and New York, arriving in France June 23. The Fontainebleau school opens June 25. It is of interest to note that the school is housed in the elaborate Chateau d'Fontainebleau built by Louis XIV as a hunting lodge and enlarged by Louis XV. It was here that Emperor Napoleon and Josephine held court during the empire.

The American conservatory was founded in 1920 to further the interest of American students engaged in foreign study, and is under the high patronage of the French government. It occupies the Louis XV wing of the palace.

Professor Launer, who is an accomplished artist-pupil of Mrs. Lillian Jeffreys Petri of the Petri studios in Portland, has won much deserved popularity in all musical circles with which he has been connected. He has studied with great success under Percy Grainger in Chicago. Before becoming the pupil of Monsieur Philipp, Professor Launer will give several farewell concerts. Of immediate interest is the concert tomorrow night. The program which will try all the musical powers of the pianist will include numbers from Schumann, Liszt, Saint-Saens, Arensky and Chopin. Byron D. Arnold will be at the second piano. Afterward a reception will be held for Professor Launer on the third floor of Waller hall, with friends invited. The hosts for the reception will be the members of the Philodorian society.

The Past Matrons' association of the Chadwick chapter of the Eastern Star met for their May meeting at the home of Sister Ida Godfrey. The session was a most enjoyable one. During the evening Sister Emma Murphy Brown, who has recently returned from a number of months spent in Washington, D. C., was initiated into the order. The delightful initiation requirement was that Mrs. Brown relate experiences she had while in the national capital, telling of her various automobile trips in the vicinity and of her visits to places of historic note.

Sister Mabel Settlemyer, an honorary member of the order, present from Woodburn, gave a very interesting talk.

Sisters of the order who were present for the evening were: Lotta Smith, president; Eugenia Gillingham, vice president; Cordelia Cupper, secretary; Josie La Fore; Marian Derby; Josephine Vass; Hazel Gillette; Mary Johnson; Mabel Settlemyer of Woodburn; Alice Coolidge; Estelle Smith; Marie McCall; Eleanor Steiner; Ida Niles; Ida M. Godfrey; and the hostesses, Alice Meyers; Ruth Brown; Minnie Moeller; and Elizabeth Shafer.

Following the meeting a very delicious luncheon was served. The large, square table at each corner of which was seated a hostess, was centered with a beautiful basket of vari-colored blossoms. The favors were tiny yellow May baskets.

The next meeting of the Past Matrons will be June 27 with Sisters Cordelia Cupper, Estelle Smith, Margaret Wetchen and Ida Niles composing the hostess-group. No meetings will be held then until September.

Complimenting Mr. and Mrs. Roy Mills, who are leaving early in June to make their home in Portland, Dr. and Mrs. W. H. Darby were hosts at an attractive dinner party Friday evening. A bowl of pink roses centered the table with pastel shades further used in candles and dainty place cards. Five hundred was the diversion of the evening, with Mr. and Mrs. Paul Johnson winning the playing honor. The guest prize was awarded to Mrs. Roy Mills.

The dinner group included Mr. and Mrs. Roy Mills, the guests of honor, Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Cornoyer, Mr. and Mrs. Walter L. Spaulding, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Johnson, and the hosts, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Darby.

The third and final night of the Apollo club concert season Tuesday at the armory will occasion the first public appearance in Salem of the Euterpean octette, a women's singing organization, the personnel of which includes a group of local soloists. Those singing in the octette, under the competent direction of Dr. John R. Sites, include Mrs. Harry Harms and Mrs. D. W. Eyre, first sopranos; Mrs. R. H. Robertson and Mrs. W. H. Prunk, second sopranos; Mrs. J. J. Roberts and Miss Trista Wenger, first altos; Mrs. Ethel Lau and Mrs. Grace Taylor second altos. Miss Elizabeth Campbell is the accompanist.

Soloists who will be heard at the concert are Mrs. Harry Harms, soprano; Miss Ruth Bedford, pianist; James Smart, basso, and Lyman McDonald, baritone. The Apollo quartet, H. B. Glaisyer, Richard Robertson, Albert Gilie, and A. B. Hansen is also included for several popular selections. The concert will be of a popular nature and will be quite different from the usual Apollo club affairs for those that no outside talent has been employed to assist on the program. Owing to the popularity of the club and of the local assisting artists, a crowded house is anticipated for the event.

Mrs. W. D. Evans and little son Billy, Jr., have gone to Santa Fe, N. M., to visit Mrs. Evans' parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. P. Harrington. On the return trip they will stop at Denver to visit a sister of Mrs. Evans.

The members of Chadwick chapter of Eastern Star will enjoy a social afternoon Tuesday, with Mrs. Paul Hauser, Mrs. George King, Mrs. John R. Sites, Mrs. O. Keadrick and Mrs. Wayne Henry hostesses for the day. Something unusual in the way of entertainment may be expected. Refreshments will be served as a part of the social hour.

Mrs. Lewis Nelson of Los Angeles is visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Johnson, Jr., 355 North Church street.

Miss Kathleen La Raut, soprano, will be presented by Prof. E. W. Hobson of the Willamette university school of music, in one of the most attractive vocal recitals of the season at 8:15 o'clock Wednesday evening at Waller hall. Miss La Raut will be assisted by Miss Jean Hobson, who will also be her accompanist. Miss La Raut, a member of the

A patriotic program will be given at 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, May 28, at the state school for the blind. The public is extended a special invitation to attend the entire program, which will include song, recitation and address, and flag-raising and salute.

Guests in Portland for the "Poet's Jubilee" last evening were Dr. and Mrs. F. G. Franklin, Mrs. F. S. Barton, Miss Minna E. Harding and Mrs. Gertrude Robinson Ross.

One of the distinctive affairs of the week was the Daughters of the American Revolution luncheon yesterday at 12:30 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Elmo S. White. Mrs. Seymour Jones was the guest of honor for the occasion. A yellow color scheme predominated throughout the rooms, with yellow candles and bowls of yellow lilies on the tables where covers were placed for 33. Guests in attendance were Mrs. Isaac Lee Patterson, Mrs. Winard, Mrs. C. L. Pohle and Mrs. Bayne. Mrs. Pohle and Mrs. Bayne both belonging to the chapter at The Dalles.

Mrs. La Moine Clark was toast-mistress of the day. The program of responses follows:
"Echoes from Washington, D. C."—Miss Anne Lang.
"The Name and Playing the Game"—Mrs. Seymour Jones.
"Beginnings"—Mrs. Isaac Lee Patterson.
"Infancy"—Mrs. S. C. Dyer.
"Growing Pains"—Mrs. J. G. Heitzel.
"Well on the Way"—Mrs. U. G. Shipley.

Miss Alta Jones was hostess on Thursday afternoon for the pleasure of Miss Jean Duncan, entertaining at 1 o'clock luncheon and an afternoon of Mah Jongg and bridge. The color scheme was in pink and green, with pink roses on the luncheon table. Covers were placed for twelve.

Misses Hester, Hilpot, Cleo Walker and Ola Volkel were hostesses at a miscellaneous shower given in honor of Miss Eunice Brown at the Hilpot home, Monday evening May 19.

The table representing a huge basket, in which many gifts were laid, and the artistically arranged bouquets of flowers carried out the color scheme of lavender and yellow.

Miss Eunice Brown will be a June bride and will be missed by her many friends in the secretary of state's office.

The guests for the evening were Margaret Pierce, Mamie Victor.
