Today and Yesterday

By Anna Van Horssen Nelson

At evening yesterday I laid me down
And dreamed of morning and the brown
And sweet, warm earth and springtime sun:
But spring had vanished when I rose again.
And yesterday I had a friend who smiled,
And all with merriment the heart beguiled.
And with a simple goodness made life sweet—
Nothing seemed hidden, answer came complete
To every question—bright, not blurred but clean:
Today a shadow fallen lies between.

ONE of the most attractive contributions to the week's list of social affairs was the luncheon and afternoon of bridge which Mrs. George G. Brown sponsored Wednesday afternoon, the guest list being made up of members of the Capitol bridge luncheon club.

Luncheon preceded the game, and was served in the yellow room of the Gray Belle. Seasonal flowers ornamented the tables, Canterbury bells and lupins predominating. An interesting incident of the later afternoon was the awarding of bridge finals for the club year. Mrs. Edwin L. Baker received the grand finals, Mrs. F. L. Griffith scoring second. For the afternoon Mrs. W. H. Dancy scored high. The club will disband for the summer, resuming activities again in the fall.

The matrons of the bridge luncheon club, one of the oldest of the clubs, are Mrs. E. L. Baker, Mrs. George G. Brown, Mrs. Joseph Baumgartner, Mrs. Frank W. Durbin, Mrs. W. H. Dancy, Mrs. L. F. Griffith, Mrs. O. C. Locke, Mrs. Milton L. Meyers, Mrs. Frank Meredith, Mrs. H. H. Olinger, Mrs. George Rodgers, Mrs. R. E. Lee Steiner and Mrs. W. Carlton Smith.

Salem's premier flower show will open at the Armory Tuesday evening and will extend through Wednesday afternoon and evening. Of course there have been other shows in the city in which flowers have been featured, but never any exhibit just like the one now contemplated. For this one is to include every flower in bloom at this time. Programs of talks and music will be arranged for each day, with the opening hour Tuesday set for half past seven o'clock.

Women of the city who not only specialize in certain kinds of flowers, but who have done much to create and spread interest in floral beautification of the capital are sponsoring the event. An admission of ten cents per person will be charged, this to be used to cover rent of the armory.

A general committee headed by Mrs. W. E. Anderson, includes Mrs. J. A. Churchill, Mrs. A. M. Vassal, Mrs. E. N. Gillingham and Mrs. C. C. Swabb.

Mrs. W. H. Burghardt has been asked to supervise the general arrangement of tables. Mrs. H. C. Schultz will take charge of the short stemmed exhibits; Mrs. W.

Miss Elizabeth Levy, Salem violiniste, who has just returned from study under Caesar Thompson in New York City.

P. Lord, the hardy perennials; Mrs. Ennis Walte, baskets; Mrs. Bliss Darby, best collection of wild flowers; Miss Edith Hazard, sweet peas and iris; Mrs. R. L. Marsters, rose; Mrs. Vassal, peonies and Mrs. C. C. Swabb all entries.

Of especial importance to the music loving public of Salem will be the pipe organ recital at the First Methodist church on Thursday May 5, at 8:15. At that time Prof. Roberts will present a group of his advanced organ pupils assisted by Mrs. Malcolm Ramp and R. D. Barton, soloists. These recitals are an annual event for Salem, and are looked forward to with much interest. The public is cordially invited to attend.

The work of pupils of this well-known musician is marked by its artistic finish and musical quality. The assistants also promise to add much to the program which has been most carefully arranged. It will be as follows:

- a. Polonaise Militaire... Chopin
- b. Shepherd's Pipes... Harris
- c. Entrancing Dream... de Lillie
- Forrest Wax
- Melodie, Op. 8, No. 3... Paderewski
- Caroline Cheely

- b. Gigue from Orchestra Suite in D...
- c. Reverie... Flagler
- d. Gavotte... Martini
- e. Festive March in... Smart
- Malcolm Medler

Miss Dorothy Livesley, who has been attending the Castilleja school, Palo Alto, California, is expected to arrive home Wednesday with a school companion from Seattle, both girls to be chaperoned by one of the instructors from the school.

Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Cross and their children are the guests of the Frank Durbin at the Durbin cottage at Neskwinn.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas A. Livesley and their children will spend the week-end at their cottage at Agate Beach, leaving for that place yesterday. Mrs. Livesley has just returned from Vancouver, B. C., where she was called by the illness of her mother, Mrs. George DeBeck, who is not very much better.

Mrs. Merrill Ohling has issued invitations for two afternoons of bridge this coming week. The first affair will be on Friday afternoon, the second on Saturday. Four tables will be employed on each occasion.

Mr. and Mrs. Dan Fry, Jr., motored to Foley Springs Thursday night, planning to spend Memorial day and the week-end there.

Members of St. Paul's guild will meet at the residence of Mrs. Benjie Clark, 540 North Winter street, Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Miss Margaret Osburn of Portland came up Thursday night to remain over Memorial day as the guest of Miss Helen Pearce.

Guests the latter part of the week at the Thomas B. Kay residence were Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Todd and C. A. Wallace, who came up for Memorial day and remained over until last night.

Mr. and Mrs. Hollis Huntington spent Memorial Day at Neskwinn.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Canfield left for Portland Saturday. They will be the guests today of Mr. and Mrs. William Cravatt on a motor trip to Mt. Hood.

An unusually interesting event scheduled for Monday night is the senior recital of the department of public speaking of Willamette University, which will take place in Waller Hall, at 8:15 o'clock.

Students to be presented will be Pauline Remington, who is remembered by her excellent work in "Polly With a Past"; Zeldia Mulkey, who is gifted with an unusual dramatic sense; Lloyd Waltz reader for the W. U. Men's Glee club, and Richard Briggs, who also distinguished himself in "Polly With a Past," essaying a difficult double role.

- The program will be as follows:
1. The Man on the Curb... Alfred Sutro
 - Time: The Present
 - Scene is laid in Joseph Matthew's home in the West End of London.
 - Characters
 - Joseph Matthews... Loyd Waltz
 - Mary (his wife)... Zeldia Mulkey
 2. The Story of the Faithful Soul... Procter
 - Musical Accompaniment... Miss La Raut
 - Pauline Remington
 3. The Sleeping Car... William Dean Howell
 - Richard Briggs

Cleo Walker, Inez Wood, and Beryl Bond were hostesses to a bevy of young women who gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. A. Bond on Wednesday evening to honor Miss Winifred Lucas, bride elect, with a miscellaneous shower.

Much amusement was afforded during the evening by a mock wedding, after which Miss Lucas opened her many pretty gifts. Refreshments were served at a later hour.

Beside the honor guest those enjoying the evening were: The Misses Florence Varley, Irene Larson, Hattie Brown, Claire Jennings, Dorothy Ellis, Ruth Roeder, Frances Wiederkehr, Lucy Beck, Fann Milburn, Elvira Gould, Velna Gilliam, Ola Volkel, Katie Reinhardt, Esther Erickson, Esther Thompson, Eunice Brown, Elsie Victor, Maimie Victor, Catherine Vincent, Mrs. Keezer, Mrs. Dora Aufranc, Maude Savage, Nancy Savage, Pearl Pike, Cora Talkington, Mrs. Perry, and the hostesses, Cleo Walker, Inez Wood, and Beryl Bond.

Mrs. Earl Fisher is the guest of relatives and friends in Albany.

Mr. and Mrs. B. J. Miles, accompanied by their grandson, Brantson Miles, returned home Saturday. Over memorial day they were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Will Knight at their attractive home on the river bank, where an all-day gathering was held of employees of the Knight Shoe Company, who are banded together in the Knight Shoe Club. One hundred participated in the activities of the day, which featured a picnic lunch.

Mrs. Ora F. McIntyre will go to Portland tomorrow, where she will speak at four sessions of the meeting of teachers of city vacation bible schools, the sessions to cover both Monday and Tuesday. Mrs. McIntyre will explain the outline for the junior department of a course which is being prepared from the Abington series.

A number of local educators are listed in the group of names of those who have reported their intention of attending the national Educational Association, to be held in Washington, D. C., June 29 to July 5. Among them are Superintendent J. A. Churchhill, Superintendent George W. Hug, Caroline Hrubetz and Frances Hrubetz.

Other well-known Oregon folk who will attend are E. D. Ressler, O. A. C. Corvallis; A. C. Strange of Astoria, superintendent of the Astoria city schools. Two Silverton young women, Violet Crofoot and Anna Kendall will also go East for the event.

Mrs. J. H. B. Royal, wife of one of the early Methodist circuit riders, is spending a brief time in the city, and while here is the house guest of Mrs. H. H. Vandevort. Mrs. Royal is now of Mt. Tabor, Portland, but formerly resided in Polk county, where her late husband had one of his charges. Yesterday with the Vandevorts she was an attendant at the Brush College Home Coming.

The Missionary society of the First Christian church will meet Friday afternoon, at half past two o'clock, in the church parlors. Mrs. D. B. Simpson is chairman of the program committee, Mrs. Harley White heading the social committee.

A luncheon is announced for members of the American Association of University Women, next Saturday, the time and place to be named later. This will be the last meeting of members for the present season.

FOR DAYS WHEN THE SUN IS HIGH

Bithely simple and yet distinctive in every way—these modish frocks breathe the spirit of Summer.

Printed Voiles in dots and designs with lace collars and front and back panels seem to be most popular while plain voiles in the pastel shades are chosen by the office and college miss.

$3.95 to $10.75; Others up to $14.75

Wash Linens this year are exceptionally keen, being made up with linen collars and cuffs of contrasting colors with just a bit of black velvet ribbon here or there to make them look their best. These come in many colors in plains and two tone combinations.
