These Two Young Men are Expected To Be Great Help To Cincinnati Reds in Battle for Penzant

At the left is Jakey May, star pitcher of the Vernon club of the Pacific Coast League, and at the right Tom Sheehan, obtained from St. Paul. The Yankees also tried to land May but the negotiations fell through and it was reported that Cincinnati's dough-bag was considerably deflated before the deal was closed. Sheehan, who had a try-out with the Yankees, established a record last year by winning more games than any other pitcher in organized baseball.

"Our foreman came in the other day, stating that Zerolene "F" for Fords was the oil, the one that would really stand the test, and through which the best possible results could be obtained.
