One other splash in the unusually tranquil convention pond was by the Wisconsin followers of Robert M. LaFollette who made a public demand that the party platform formally condemn the official records of Albert M. Fall and Harry M. Daugherty and commit the president to an extra session this summer to pass farm relief, reclamation and railroad legislation.

A suggested platform which will be offered with La Follett's approval would commend the republicans who voted against the Mellon tax plan and would single out for particular praise various members of the senate insurgent group for their individual activities during the session of congress just closed.
