MISS MARY EYRE will be accompanied to Europe this summer by Miss Rovena Eyre, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David W. Eyre, of 1026 North Summer street. Friends from Portland and Los Angeles will join them in Chicago. Miss Eyre will leave Salem a week from tomorrow. They will take the lake trip in eastern Canada, sailing from Montreal on July 5. Landing in Liverpool, they will spend the larger part of a week in London. After touring the Isles, they will follow an itinerary through France, Germany, Belgium, Holland, Switzerland, and Italy. They will be in Paris the latter part of August to witness the Olympic games. Sailing for New York City on September 1, they plan to be in Salem again on the 15th.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Burghardt are spending the week-end at Rhododendron lodge near Mount Hood, having left yesterday in company with Mr. and Mrs. George Tracy.

Of more than ordinary interest to Salem friends is the announcement of the engagement of Miss Martha Powell to Ralph Wilson, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Wilson. The news was given at an attractive dinner party, Thursday evening, in the Anna Mann dining room at Reed college, where Miss Powell is a student who will register for her senior year next fall. Miss Powell is the eldest daughter of Rev. and Mrs. C. H. Powell of Vancouver, Rev. Powell being a former rector at St. Paul's church. Both young people are

JUNE
Floods of warm, mellow sunshine; Thistledown riding lazily on soft breezes,
Fragrant with the scent of roses; Myriads of tender, green leaves, Now stirring gently, now fluttering madly
On staid, gray branches, Twit, twit, of young robins Timorously forsaking their out-grown nest;
The call of a bobolink to his mate; The joyous song of a tiny, yellow warbler
Balancing adventurously on a slender Scotch thistle; And through and over and permeating all,
The hum of honey bees, gathering unerringly
Their nectar from the myriad flowers;
This is Summer!

graduates of the Salem high school with the class of 1920. Mr. Wilson graduated with honors this month from the naval academy at Annapolis.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl T. Pope are receiving many congratulations upon the birth of a daughter, Dorothy Virginia, weight eight pounds, Friday, afternoon, June 13, at their home, 1035 Belmont street. Mrs. Pope, before her marriage, was Dorothy Chambers.

Children's Day will be observed in a delightful manner at 7:15 this evening at the First Congregational church when the children of the Sunday school will present an exceedingly well-planned program under the supervision of Mrs. Oscar Gmigrich, assisted by Mrs. Mark McCallister and Miss Cora Talkington.

A group of eight boys will dramatize the "Healing of Naaman." Special Children's Day music will be given by a group of girls from the classes who will occupy the choir for the occasion. Another feature promising interest is the interpretation in costume of "Lead Kindly Light" by a group of six Miss Joy Turner, one of Salem's prominent music teachers in both violin and piano, will leave next week for New York City where she will spend the summer in intensive study. Prior to this she will present her advanced and junior pupils in recital, the first group on Wednesday and the second group on Thursday evening of this week. Miss Turner will return to Salem the middle of September, resuming her classes at that time. In New York City she will study personally under Mrs. Dunning, originator of the Dunning Kindergarten system for beginners. Her further piano study will be under Mrs. A. M. Virgil.

pupils of the intermediate age. Rev. Kautner will augment the program with a few films especially appropriate for the occasion.

Mrs. Dale A. Perry of St. Helens was a week-end guest in Salem, coming down for the high school commencement exercises.

Sixteen members of the class of 1919 of Willamette university gathered at the Henry J. Millie home, 450 North Capitol street, on Tuesday evening for their first reunion, planned by Lelia Johnson, Faye Bolin Millie, and Lester Sparks of this city. This was the class hardest hit by war, nearly all its young men enlisting. At the time of graduation it had only twenty-nine members.

The crowd gathered early and went first to call on Vesta Mulligan, a member who has for many months been ill. On returning they found an oracle, dressed like the mysterious Alexander, ready to solve any mental, physical, spiritual, domestic, social, occupational, financial, or any other problem. He gave to each a booklet having on the cover a spirit picture. Some had difficulty in recognizing this as an old snapshot of themselves taken while on a picnic. Inside were questions regarding age, occupation, attainment, and aspiration, with directions for the answers, which any oracle must have before he can make revelations. Most engrossing, though, was the page left blank for "What you would like to know." Then the man of mystery began to tell startling things about the past and future, using a teakettle for his crystal.

A romantic thrill was lent to the occasion by the approaching marriage of several members, particularly that of Miss Gladys Nichols to Mr. Paul Elliott of Newberg, which is set for Wednesday, June 18.

Letters from absent members were read and officers for the next five years were elected. Lelia Johnson will succeed Louis Stewart as president and Margarette Wible Walker will follow Faye Bolin Millie as secretary-treasurer. Each year since graduation a class letter has been published.

A color scheme of rose and blue was carried out with decorations of sweet peas, delphinium, and pinks combined with grasses.

A delicious two-course midday luncheon concluded the happy hours of reunion.

Those present were: Gladys Nichols, Mary Paroungian, Glenna Teeters, Charlotte and Elizabeth Tebben, and Motta Walker of Portland; Helen Goltra Bagley of Pasadena, Cal. Helen Moore of McMinnville; Margarette Wible Walker of Sheridan; Louis Stewart of Athens; Paul Elliott of Newberg; Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Lien (Fay Wells), Lelia Johnson, Faye Bolin Millie, and Lestie Sparks of Salem.

Mrs. Beatrice Crawford Newcomb and little daughter, Joan, accompanied by Miss Edith Snider, have just returned from a week's motor trip to Cannon Beach and Portland, the first part of the week being spent at Porter cottage and the latter days in attendance at the Rose festival.

In honor of Miss Lucille Allen and Miss Katherine Good, Mrs. Angeline Allen and Mrs. Good were hostesses on the eve of graduation at the John C. Scott home in violin Miss Turner plans to register with Franz Kneisel. In addition she will take up some theoretic work.

Miss Turner has previously studied in Boston with Karl Baerman, Louis C. Elson, and Eugene Gruenberg, spending a year at the conservatory.

The trip east this month will be made via the southern route. Stops will be made in San Francisco and Texas. From New Orleans, Miss Turner will make the trip to Washington, D. C., by water. She will come home by the interior route, visiting friends in Baltimore, Minnesota, and South Dakota.

for friends of the girls. A varied musical program was arranged. Miss Ruth Scott, Miss Lucille Allen and Miss Mary Allen giving vocal solos, Miss Helen Crawford a violin number, and Miss Katherine Good a piano group. Sweet peas in profusion were used with roses and canterbury bells about the rooms. The class colors, blue and gold, were effectively used in the color scheme. Delicious refreshments were served at the end of the evening. Those present for the occasion were: Mr. and Mrs. Frank Good, Miss Josephine Good, Miss June Hastings, Miss Ruth Scott, Morgan Woodruff, Miss Mary Allen, Miss Helen Crawford, Mrs. Mary Crawford, Miss Luella Kellogg, and Mrs. Angeline Allen, Miss Lucille Allen, and Miss Katherine Good.

Miss Caroline Hurst attended the Rose festival two days last week. While in Portland she was the guest of her sister, Mrs. Harry Albert.

Mrs. Fred Lavender of Pendleton, who has been the house guest for two weeks of Mrs. H. F. Shank, returned to her home after having enjoyed the Willamette university commencement activities. She came for the graduation of her daughter, Miss Anne Lavender.

Mr. and Mrs. John Palmer, accompanied by their daughter, Miss Phyllis Palmer, and Fred Patton, will leave Wednesday for a month's motor trip through southern California and Colorado. At Long Beach they will visit Mrs. H. C. Graves, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Palmer.

Miss Mary Cupper was hostess for the pleasure of the senior girls of the KC club of the high school following the Commencement exercises at the tabernacle on Friday evening. Dancing and informal chatting were the diversions of the evening. The club colors, lavender and yellow, were effectively used in the decorating, the same scheme being carried out in the refreshments. Poppies and canterbury bells were the flowers used.

The guests of honor were: Miss Charlotte Zeller, Miss Pauline Knowland, Miss Helen Arpke, Miss Louise Nunn, Miss Louise Pierson, Miss Elizabeth Taft, Miss Dorothy Hobson, Miss Lucille Pettijohn, and Miss Vivian Elker.

Other members of the club present were: Miss Elysa Franklin, Miss Doris Nye, Miss Helen Roberts, Miss Loretta Fisher, Miss Florence Power, Miss Maureen Stokes, Miss Virginia Dorcas, Miss Neva Millard, Miss Mildred Pugh, and Miss Mary Cupper.

The annual picnic of Chapter G of the PEO sisterhood was held Tuesday evening at Chemawa, with Mr. and Mrs. Harwood Hall the hosts for the occasion. Baskets of marguerites were used effectively on the outdoor picnic table, with numerous Japanese lanterns adding both light and color. An inspirational radio program completed the evening.

Those meeting for the picnic were: Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Woolpert and Mr. Woolpert, Sr., Mrs. F. W. Solee, Ellen Jean Moody, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar E. Price and their two sons, J. W. Moore, Kelley and Al-leen Moore, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Moore and their two daughters, Dorothy and Lucille, Mr. and Mrs. B. J. Miles, Mr. and Mrs. William McGilchrist Sr., Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Ladd, Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Kuntz and their two daughters, Mr. and Mrs. Harwood Hall, Dr. and Mrs. W. H. Byrd, Dr. and Mrs. D. X. Beechler and George and Vera Beechler, Dr. and Mrs. A. C. Parr, Mrs. Laura Grant Churchill and Mrs. Mary Long of Portland, Mrs. Parks, Mrs. Brickell, Miss Skipton of Chemawa, and from Chapter AB, Dr. Mary Rowland, Mrs. W. D. Smith and Grace Elizabeth Smith.

Mrs. Lena Waters presented her piano pupils in recital last Monday evening at the Swedish M. E. church, corner Fifteenth and Mill streets. Mrs. Waters was assisted by Miss Elsie Hinkle with vocal solos and Miss Helen Burg with violin; Miss Lita Waters accompanied. The program was as follows:

The annual banquet of Willamette university alumni was one of the most successful and enjoyable affairs of the week, held at the First Methodist church on the evening of Commencement day.

Entering the profusely decorated dining room at 7 o'clock, the speakers of the evening, followed by the faculty and board of trustees, led the procession, after which the classes entered according to the year of their graduation. The 70 members of the 1924 graduating class were guests of honor of the evening, marching in and out of the hall while their hosts stood in greeting. Miss Anna Howell played the piano professionally. With the entire group standing, Miss Beryl Holt, '16, introduced the class of '24. Miss Alma Wells, vice president of the graduating class made the expressive response. The blessing was asked by Rev. Milton A. Marcy, '16. Miss Kathryn Kirk gave a number of sparkling violin selections.

The office of toastmaster was filled in a genial way by Ronald C. Glover, '06. Preceding the toast Miss Mildred Grant played "Spanish Dance" at the piano. In answer to an insistent invitation, Miss Kathleen L. Rait, accompanied by Miss Bedford, sang again the traditional song of adieu, "Farewell, Willamette."

Rev. Gabriel Sykes, in paying honor to the classes of '25 and '26 years ago, called for representatives to stand, one by one, in order of the year they graduated. Each as he stood announced both his
