ALBANY EDUCATOR ADDRESSES CLUB

Responsibility Necessary to Young People Declares Dr. Greene

Had the two Chicago youths being held for murder been taught habits of industry they would not be in their present predicament. According to President Greene of Albany college, who spoke on "Industrial Education" at the Kiwanis club luncheon at the Marion hotel Tuesday, Dr. Greene is a member of the Albany Kiwanis club.

"The best product from the halls of higher education are the young folk who have carried some responsibility during their high school or college courses," Dr. Greene said. "To many enter life as drifters and are not able to articulate their lives to the great laboratory of life itself. Parents are often at fault for they are prone to take away all responsibilities from young people."

Speaking upon work in the student self-help colleges Dr. Greene said that educators had been particularly successful in handling the problem. Means devised to assist students were through cooperation with student committees to find work in the community, development of industries controlled by the college itself and efforts to interest capital to come to cities in which colleges are located and to employ student help. Two plans have been adopted in some places, the speaker said, one of which was the student working part time and attending classes and the other alternate work and study, with full time given to each activity.

"Prepare the young people for work in life after graduation while they are in college," Dr. Greene said in closing. "We must develop correct and wholesome attitudes toward life. Idealism is vital to prevent recurrence of the recent Chicago tragedy. A spiritual balance must be maintained along with the practical training. It is the duty of parents to study the development of responsibilities in youth and industrial education is not merely to train the intellect, but to include the spiritual along with the mental development."
