Roach-Freeman, mimic and characterist, the Raleigh Entertainers, in a varied program of solos, duets, dramatic sketches and readings and the Guatemala Marimba Band, Central American musicians, will also appear during the eight day program.

The name of Edward Amberst Ott heads the list of lecturers. He will present his famous "Sour Grapes," a classic on the marriage and divorce evils. Other prominent names are those of Arthur Waiwyn-Evans, brilliant and forceful Welsh orator; Sam Grathwell, in his "hoodoo" dispeller, "Betting by your Hoodoo" and Nipo Strongheart, hereditary chief of the Takima Indians, who tells a remarkably interesting story of the life, customs and traditions of his race.

CANNERY DOING RAPID PACKING

Improvement at Silverton Results in Bigger Returns Less Labor

SILVERTON, Ore., June 25.—(Special To The Statesman.)—Strawberries are being rapidly replaced by loganberries at the Silverton cannery now, although the strawberries, which are still of a very good quality, are expected to last through this week and possibly into next. It was thought that the loganberries would be greatly affected by the drouth but the berries coming in at this time are well filled out and grade quite high. It is not expected that the season for logans will be very long, however.

The cannery recently made some additions to its equipment in order to be able to handle the loganberries more readily. At the east end of the cannery a room 30 feet square was built in which to place the sorting tables. These tables, two in number, are a great saving both in time and labor. It is said that they add 50 per cent to the efficiency of the loganberry workers. Thirty-six women handle all the berries on the tables. Without them double the number of women would be required. The cannery is short of help as it is and has been advertising for more women.

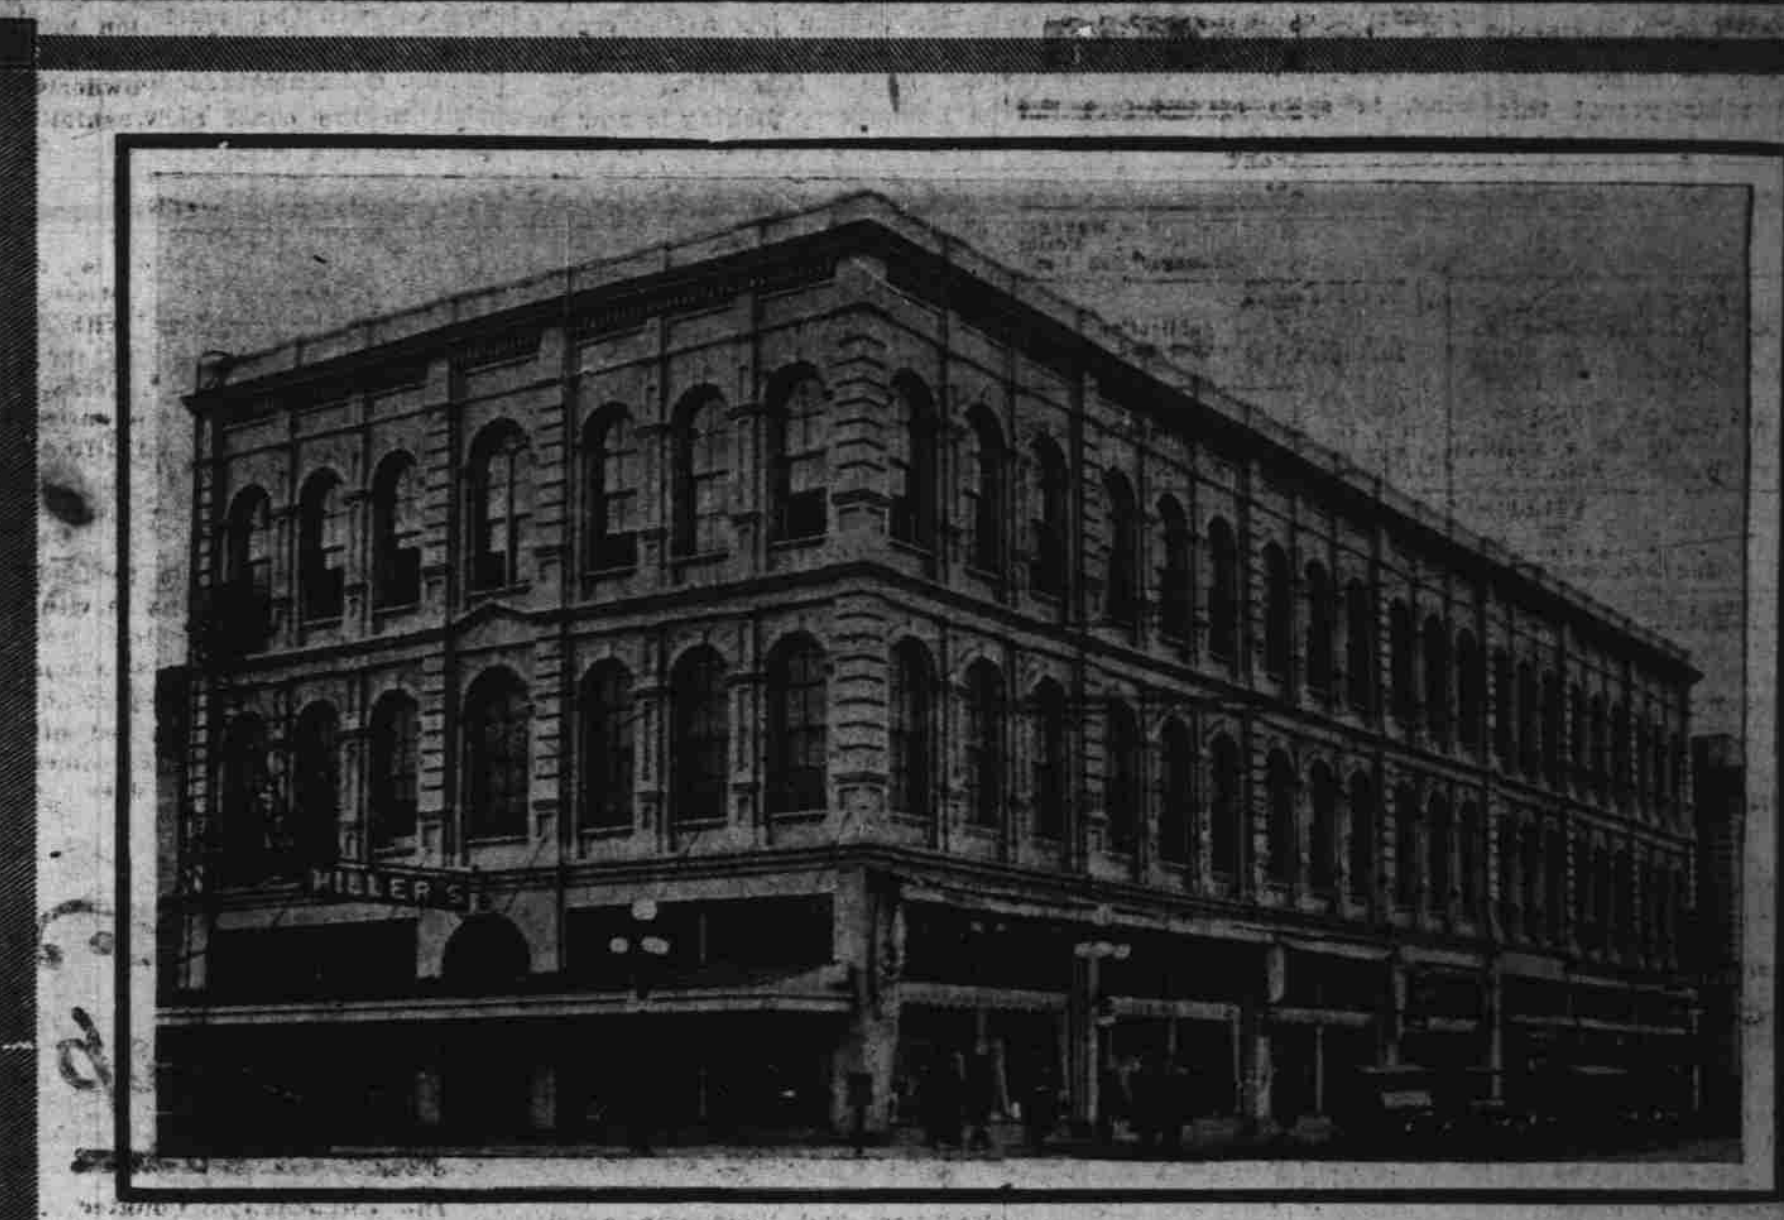

An agreement was entered into by the Silverton cannery and the Oregon Growers' association of Salem today whereby the cannery is to pack 40 tons of loganberries for the association. Had not the additional room and equipment been added this would not have been possible. The record run of the season was made on Friday when 13,391 cans were packed besides a number of cold pack barrels. Most of the cans were No. 2s, which are the fancy and choice, there being 11,000 of them. Some No. 10s and a number of five-gallon cans were also packed. The No. 10s are packed in water. Besides the logans and strawberries some raspberries and cherries are being received.

OLSON—At the Old Peoples' home Tuesday, June 24, 1924, Nicholas P. Olson, age 82. Funeral services will be held Thursday, June 26, 1924, at 10 a. m., from the Rigdon mortuary. Interment in Lee Mission cemetery. Dr. Blaine E. Kirkpatrick will officiate.

RIGDON & SON'S MONUMENTARY

A stranger said to us this morning

"I want a pair of HOLEPROOF stockings. I want HOLEPROOF number 870 in tan. I think the price was $1.00 pair back east." "Yes," said our saleslady, "our price is $1.00, too; you see this pair is of standard brand and sells the world over at this price."

The above is an example of what takes place in this store every day. For, if it's not HOLEPROOF it's ONYX, MUNSINGWEAR, PERRIN, KAYSER, PRINTZ, CONDE, BRADLEY, BETTY WALES, GOSSARD, CLOTHCRAFT, VANITY FAIR, BOTANY, MALLINSON, CORTICELLA, ARCHOPEDIC, ROYAL SOCIETY, GORDON and so many others, one may call for an article here by "trade name" and be assured of getting their money's worth.

Contrast the above with

"Yes, I paid 98c for this at so and so's. They did not tell me, though, what I wanted to know about the quality. They did tell me it was 'awfully cheap.' I can still hear that word CHEAP, wished I had my 98c back. I am sure this will fade the first time it is washed, and wear out after the second washing. 'Oh, well, what can you expect for 98c, anyway?' Thus, the conversation ended. We might have added that one should come pretty close to getting a dollar's worth for 98c, especially in these days of keen competition. YOURS FOR QUALITY.

BITS FOR BREAKFAST

Bargain days begin tomorrow.

Nearly everybody will be in town tomorrow, and everybody Saturday.

The wholesaling and jobbing houses of Salem are getting better and better and bigger and bigger every day, and more of them every year.

Slogan man told you Salem was to become a wholesaling and jobbing center. It shines as such now, but will shine more and more to the end of the chapter.

Any way, the democrats can turn to BHF Bryan, any time they cannot agree on any one else. He is a possibility from everlasting to everlasting.

You cannot convince any of the cannery or barrelling men that Salem is not the cherry city of the world. They are literally covered up under a high mountain of cherries.

Salem is going to be the head lettuce center of the world—the head of the lettuce on both quality and quantity.

Salem barber back from his vacation says that even in this day of sunny hair cuts it is easy to 'pick' out the men on the beach. They don't mind getting their bathing suits wet.

The democrats are between the devil of dryness exceeding the heat of the Sahara and the deep sea of wetness beyond the souping fens of the Atlantic ocean.
