ALL THINGS GROWING

I love the motion of all things growing,—
Fast and yet free.
The leaves and grass together flowing,
A verdant sea.
The wind among the tree-tops blowing
Loves them like me,
And stoops to hear them whisper in their going
All rustlingly;
Dear! familiar, yet, beyond my knowing,—
A mystery;
Rooted, yet like strange ships, sails blowing,
Set out toward sea.

ANNA VAN HORSSEN NELSON.

MASTER ASAHEL BUSH was a Fourth of July host at one of the most delightfully entertaining of the week's affairs. Fourteen young friends were his guests at dinner at the home of Miss Sally Bush on Friday evening with the table arranged out of doors under the trees near the tennis court. After the 7:30 dinner, the group assembled for an evening of fireworks, with multi-colored rockets and Roman candles transforming the night.

Miss Alice Welch arrived home the latter part of the week from Los Angeles where she has been attending library school. She will visit in Salem until August, at which time she will go to Portland to accept a position in the Portland library. Miss Welch is a graduate of Willamette university with the class of 1921. She has had a year of introductory experience in the work at the state library.

A wedding of particular interest to a large number of Salem friends was that performed at 8 o'clock Monday evening at the East Side Baptist church when Mark Skiff, Jr., took as his bride Miss Thelma Dykes of Portland. The impressive ritual was read by the Reverend W. B. Hipson, pastor of the church with which Mr. Skiff has his membership. Only immediate relatives were in attendance.

The bride, a dark-haired girl, of lovely personality, striking in her charm, is a graduate of the Oregon Agricultural college with the class of 1921. She is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John D. Dykes. Her vocational aptitude is in domestic science, she having taught her major subjects, since her graduation, in the Portland high schools.

Mr. Skiff is the son of Dr. and Mrs. Mark S. Skiff, Sr. A graduate of the Salem high school, he has for the past three years been connected with the Dental college in Portland. He will receive his degree in 1925. Mr. Skiff fraternizes to the Psi Omega dental fraternity. Mr. Skiff, Jr., is also an overseas man, having seen a year's outstanding service abroad with the 65th coast artillery corps. He was further connected with the war-time radio work in the field of some of the largest battles fought.

Mr. and Mrs. Skiff, Jr., left early Tuesday morning for a month's honeymoon. They will visit the Yellowstone National park, continuing their trip to Lake Louise in the Canadian Rockies. They plan to return to Salem the first of August to join Dr. and Mrs. Mark Skiff, Sr., for a month at Breitenbush springs.

After September 1, Mr. and Mrs. Skiff, Jr., will be at home in Portland.

Guests for the Alden-Abell wedding, one of the outstanding social events of the season, which will take place at 8:30 o'clock Wednesday evening, will arrive at the home of Dean and Mrs. George H. Alden early in the week, from Los Angeles, San Francisco, Seattle, Portland and Sherwood.

Today the groom, Mr. William Henry Abell, will come from Los Angeles, accompanied by Mr. Robert Schuyler Van Rensselaer. Arriving also today will be Mrs. Viola S. Page, Miss Mary E. Page, and Miss Gertrude West from Seattle.

On Tuesday, Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Richardson of Sherwood, Mr. Donald Parker, and Dr. and Mrs. Prince Page of Portland are expected. Mr. Parker, who is second violinist in the Portland symphony orchestra, with Miss Bruce Putnam, also of Portland, will play the wedding marches.

On Wednesday, Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Abell of San Francisco will come for the ceremony.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Roberts and daughters, Helen and Mildred, are enjoying the week-end at Rhododendron lodge.

The Salem delegation to the annual YWCA college conference at Seabeck on Puget sound arrived home last night after ten outstanding days. Miss Marian Wyman, Miss Jennelle Vandevort, and Miss Faith Friday attended the conference from here.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank W. Durbin are expected home from Yellowstone National park the middle of the week. They are making the trip by motor, having left last month.

Interesting word received from Mr. and Mrs. B. C. Miles, sent their fourth day on the water, was received by Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Kells late in the week. Mr. and Mrs. Miles are accompanied by their daughter, Miss Eva Miles, who is a delegate to the international London Friends conference in England. This same conference was attended by Mrs. Kells four years ago. In New York the Miles were joined by their daughter, Mrs. Lyra Dann, and her husband. The party, planning to spend three months abroad, landed at Cherbourg on Friday morning. Passage was taken on the "Olympic," Mr. Miles writing particularly of the crowded condition of the boat.

While the Miles family will visit in various European parts probably as interesting a visit as any will be that in Ireland when they will go to the former home of Mrs. Kells.

Judge and Mrs. Henry J. Bean are spending the week-end at Newport.

The little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Socolofsky, born on June 23, has received the name of Sonia Marie. Mr. and Mrs. Socolofsky were very popular as students at Willamette university. Mr. Socolofsky is a graduate of the class of 1921. Mrs. Socolofsky, before her marriage, was Miss Veona Belle Williams.

Mrs. Robert R. Boardman entertained at two of the week's most charming luncheons on Wednesday and Thursday. Nasturians and gladitoli formed colorful centerpieces. Covers at each luncheon were placed for eight with the guests of honor each time the mother and sister of Mrs. Boardman, Mrs. T. S. Bovell and Miss Mabel E. Bovell, of Burlington, Iowa. The afternoons were delightfully occupied with conversation relating to Miss Bovell's missionary experiences in China, Miss Bovell landing in Seattle a month ago on her first furlough. Mrs. Bovell has been a guest of Mrs. Boardman for the past two months. Mrs. Bovell and Miss Bovell plan to leave for their home in Iowa the middle of July.

The Yomarcos class will hold their picnic on Tuesday at the E. B. Millard home at 2011 D street. Mrs. Hawley, Mrs. White, and Mrs. Hickerson are in charge. The men will join the club for picnic dinner.

Mrs. H. N. Aldrich of Portland is the house guest of her sister, Mrs. C. J. Bright. Mr. and Mrs. Aldrich came to Salem for the wedding of their niece, Miss Bernice Bright, one of the most attractive of all the June brides, to Mr. Richard Slater, the son of Mrs. Josie Stewart, a week ago yesterday, the bride's uncle, Mr. Aldrich, giving her away. Mrs. Aldrich and two daughters, Helen and Lois, remained for a week's visit.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Hauser and Mr. and Mrs. Albert Smith have chosen Newport for their beach vacation.

Newport has attracted a number of Salem people for the week-end. Among those going from here are Mr. and Mrs. Earl H. Anderson and Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Lalson.

Officers for the Jason Lee Ladies Aid society were elected Wednesday as follows: President, Mrs. L. H. Roberts; vice president, Mrs. Emma E. Roberts; secretary, Mrs. Bert Waller, and treasurer, Mrs. Effie Fuestman.

Mrs. James Teed has as her interesting house guest during the run of the film "The Chechacos" at the Grand theater Miss Gladys Johnston, the star and heroine appearing in person in the picture. Miss Johnston and Mrs. Teed were girlhood chums, both being very musical.

Mr. and Mrs. Francis Newberry, after a large number of farwell compliments on the part of their many friends who are sorry to have them go will leave this morning for Santa Rosa, Cal. Mrs. B. L. Darby will take them by motor as far as Grenada.

Mr. and Mrs. William Brown, accompanied by their small grandsons Chandler and Werner, left yesterday morning for Seal Rocks where they will occupy their lovely summer home.

A group spending the Fourth of July at Neskwim included: Mr. and Mrs. C. T. McIntire, Mrs. Grace Thompson and daughter, Fay Louise, Mrs. Harry Rowe and daughter, Kathryn; Mrs. Alsa N. David and two daughters, Jean Frances and Ann Joyce of Atlanta, Georgia; and Floyd McIntire. Mr. McIntire joined the group from Portland.

Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Daughterty and family are spending the week-end at the coast. Mr. Daughterty is superintendent of mills at the local post office.

Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Gillette and Mrs. J. A. Bishop plan to return tomorrow from their beach-vacation at Newport.

Dr. and Mrs. Frank E. Brown are expected to arrive home tomorrow from a ten-day northern trip.

With the Ladies' Aid of the First Evangelical church meeting so close to the Fourth of July holidays, the meeting on Wednesday at the church was attended by only a small group. The time was spent with quilting. The society will continue its meetings throughout the summer, meeting again on the first Wednesday in August.

Mrs. C. J. Bright has taken a summer apartment at 1444 Center street. Her many friends will be glad to find her at the H. C. Wyatt address.

Dr. and Mrs. William H. Lytle are Newport guests at the R. M. Hofer cottage for the week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. Mason Bishop and Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Elgin are spending the day at Cascadia. They motored up yesterday afternoon.

A large group of local people attended the Presbyterian Fourth of July picnic Friday in Albany, motoring down for the day. Among those participating in the varied affairs of the occasion were Rev. and Mrs. Ward Willis Long and little daughter Lois Evangelina; Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Kells and family; Mrs. R. M. T. Hester and son, Mr. and Mrs. Glen Adams and family; Dr. and Mrs. Altman, Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Bishop, Dean and Mrs. George H. ing year and write for the Oregon Magazine along the line of Indian research. Miss Lawrence, a successful contributor to a group of the eastern sports magazines, will write during the year success stories concerning different growers in the valley.

The pictorial beauty of Mrs. W. P. Lord's inspirational garden at 736 South High street, is reproduced in an effective manner in the July number of "House and Garden" with an entire page given to photographs of various sections of the grounds. The page is headed with the words "Two Seasons in a Western Garden," and the sub-title, "The Garden of Mrs. William P. Lord."

Many Salem friends remember the garden with distinct pleasure as it appeared late in June when both Mrs. Lord and Miss Lord graciously conducted all who called about the lovely grounds.

Bricks Brought Bishop Into Prohibition Fold

LONDON, July 4.—(AP.)—Brickbats were the chief cause of the conversion to teetotalism of the Bishop of London, this prelate said recently at a public gathering.

"I was led to become a teetotaler in a fit of youthful enthusiasm 40 years ago," the bishop declared, "because I saw brickbats being hurled at women trying to hold a temperance meeting in a town I will not name. When I saw that these devoted people had the whole of the publicans in the place heaving bricks at them, I said to myself that a cause that wanted backing up with brickbats was not the cause for me. I have been a teetotaler ever since, and I am glad of it."

The June 30 issue of the Oregon Magazine, Salem's distinctive publication edited by Murray Wade, features a number of Salem authors including Albert Richard Wetjen, Ruth Mae Lawrence and Marjorie Mellinger.

Mr. Wetjen is interestingly written of in a column "Of and About Oregon Writers" his picture in characteristic pose appearing with the article. Something is told of the remarkable success this young author, who, born in London in 1906, has achieved in the field of commercial fiction writing.

A review of Mary Carolyn Davies' new book, "The Skyline Trail," by Mr. Wetjen, is included in this issue of the Oregon Magazine.

A quatrain, by Edna Garfield, called "Child-Voices," emphasizes in this number a pretty sentiment. Articles by both Miss Marjorie Mellinger and Miss Ruth Mae Lawrence are anticipated for later issues. Miss Mellinger, whose specialty is the Indian folk legend, will diverge a little for the com-

Countess Sued by Two Husbands at Same Time; 17 Year Old Girl Is Seeking Her Second Divorce

Countess Maxine von Viardigan and Mrs. Helen Hamburg are providing unusual cases for the court. The countess (at right), married four times, is being sued by two of her husbands for divorce, each charging bigamy. Mrs. Hamburg (at left), obtained a divorce from her first husband, Louis von Hofman, some time ago, declaring that she realized they were both too young to be married and charging non-support. She was but 16 then. Six months ago she married John Hamburg. In her present suit she charges desertion and non-support.
