VASE OF HAND-CARVED OREGON WOOD ATTRACTS ATTENTION

It required several months of the spare time of Fred Kroeplin to carve the vase, pictured above with the designer and maker. The vase is made of 40 different pieces of Oregon wood, is 20 inches high and about two feet across, with an 11-inch pot. The proportions are exceptional, according to C. F. Breithaupt, local florist, in whose window the vase is on display. The vase has been painted green and black. It is valued by Mr. Kroeplin at $75. The maker plans on opening an art and wood carving shop here soon.
