Grande Ronde and is 49.3 miles from Salem.

Stop at the OLD GRAND RONDE HOTEL for a big GARDEN DINNER

After leaving Old Grande Ronde the road leads gradually upward through timber and over a well graded and well kept highway to the summit of the Coast range mountains which is 700 feet above sea level. The summit is 57.7 miles from Salem. A few miles further and you enter Tillamook county and in less than another mile you arrive at Dolph which is 61 miles from Salem.

From Rickreall take the west side Pacific highway and travel north to Amity. This road is all paved with the exception of a quarter mile where the road crosses the Southern Pacific electric line. Amity is 23.4 miles from Salem. At Amity you have your choice of traveling 14 miles by pavement or 6.6 miles by gravel road to Bellevue. If you wish the pavement route, head straight north on the highway from Amity for 6 miles where a paved road forks to the left. Distance from Salem 29.6 miles. From here you travel west for 3 miles to Bellevue. If you wish to take the shorter but gravel road from Amity, turn west and you will find a fair gravel road which will lead you to Bellevue, which is just 30 miles from Salem. This is the more direct route and all distances from Salem to the coast will be figured by this route. From Bellevue to Sheridan a distance of 6.4 miles there is excellent pavement. On entering Sheridan you cannot help but note the sign: "You Name It—We Grow It." Sheridan is 34.4 miles from Salem.

Whole Crop Will Be Four Million Bushels Short
PENDLETON, Ore., July 12.—Umatilla county's crop of wheat will be but 4,000,000 bushels this year in the opinion of Henry W. Collins, big grain farmer, dealer and miller of this city. Last year the crop was 7,000,000 bushels as computed on the basis of warehouse receipts.
Of this year's crop virtually all of it will be fall wheat as the dryness of the season ruined the spring crops. There are 200,000 acres in the county devoted to the growing of wheat and it is figured that this will not yield more than 20 bushels to the acre.
Over the entire county harvest will be well under way by July 15 in the opinion of farmers from the various sections. Many areas now have headers and combines in the field. The threshing season is about two weeks in advance all over the county due to the unusual weather conditions throughout the year.
While the crops will be considerably lighter this year it is expected that the wheat farmers will come out better than they did last year, as prices are running higher for wheat and lower for necessities and for labor. All over the county wages will be from one to two dollars a day for each man.
