DEFEAT

I smiled a gay farewell and saw you go
Without one backward glance, and so I know
That where each sight and sound and word we shared
Will tear my heart anew, you will be spared.

I would not have you know that purple sheen
On terraced hill where pansies bloom serene
Can wrench my heart with sudden aching strain
Because they bordered sweet our trysting-lane.

With lids down-pressed to stay my longing gaze
The subtle scent of honeysuckle plays
With jasmine's Orient odor all pricked through
With pungencies which stir my heart anew.

My face to earth to shut out sight and scent
I must endure until all strength is spent
But ah, dear God, I cannot still be strong
With poignant sweet comes thrush's evening song.
—MYRTLE E. GILBERT.

Announcing, in a most delightful manner, her engagement to Mr. Willard Seton Kaufman of Seattle, Miss Ruth Barnes, was hosted at a four-course luncheon yesterday at 1:30 o'clock, placing covers for a group of 20 intimate friends. The quaint formality of the Colonial motif predominated throughout the luncheon scheme. The pastel-shaded place cards were dainty old-fashioned ladies in basques and hoop. The class basket center-piece combined larkspur, clarkia, mignonette, peronalia, and hollyhocks. Four supplementary baskets further accentuated the floral scheme. The chosen motif was again in evidence in the old-fashioned rose gages, with their frills of paper lace, which were presented to the guests preceding the last course.

Each colorful bouquet held poised a delicately tinted butterfly bearing the happy news of the betrothal. Miss Barnes, the charming and accomplished daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Barnes, received her B.F.A. degree this June from the University of Washington. She is a member of the Chi Omega sorority. Mr. Kaufman, whose fraternal affiliations are with Sigma Chi also spent his last year at the University of Washington, attending, prior to that time, the University of Illinois. The wedding will take place the middle of September after which Mr. Kaufman will take his bride to Seattle where they will make their home. Mr. Kaufman is an architect.

Assisting the hostess at the luncheon yesterday were Mrs. Frank Power, Miss Esther Paroungian, Miss Florence Power, and Miss DeLores Williams. Covers were placed for: Miss Maxine Buren, Miss Margaret Griffith, Miss Frances Hodges, Miss Josephine Baumgartner, Mrs. Frederick Deckbach (Helen Robe), Mrs. Janice Graham, Miss Jeanette Meredith, Miss Mary Elizabeth Bayne, Miss Mary Jane Albert, Miss Helen Rose, Miss Gretchen Brown, Miss Esther Paroungian, Miss Amelia Babcock, Miss Anne Lavender, Miss Ruth Ross, Miss Jenelle Vandevort, Miss Florence Cartwright, Miss Luella Patton, Miss Pauline Rickli, and the hostess, Miss Ruth Barnes.

The many friends of Mrs. F. L. Waters will be glad to learn that although she is still unable to be up, she has so far recovered from the painful injuries received in an auto accident Sunday evening, that she was able to be removed from the hospital yesterday and is now at her home at 1599 State street.

Mr. and Mrs. John L. Waters and daughter, Margery, left yesterday for a two weeks' vacation at Seaside. One of the largest affairs of the season will be the silver tea on Wednesday at the home of Mrs. John A. Carson, 923 South High street, with the officers and the executive committee of the American Legion auxiliary, assisted by Mrs. George A. White and Mrs. Carson, the hostesses. All members of the auxiliary will be members of the reception committee. The tea hours will be from 2 to 5:30. The affair is being sponsored for the benefit of the Hal-neman hospital in Portland, with all women's clubs and all patriotic organizations invited as special guests.

Delightful program numbers will be given by Mrs. W. Carlton Smith, Mrs. E. H. Hobson, Miss Gladys Cartwright, Miss Lena Belle Tartar, Miss Ruth Bedford, and a group of Mrs. Ralph White's dancing pupils. The matrons who will preside at the tea are: Mrs. John A. Carson, Mrs. R. J. Hendricks, Mrs. Mark Skiff, Mrs. F. A. Elliott, Mrs. D. J. Fry, Mrs. Carl Gabrielson, and Mrs. N. C. Kafoury.

The spacious grounds of the E. A. Miller home, 1500 South High street, formed a delightful setting on Friday evening for the annual picnic of the First Congregational church. One hundred members of the congregation gathered for the 6:30 o'clock picnic supper. The tables, arranged to the best social advantage, in the form of a hollow square—were decked with bouquets of mixed flowers from Mrs. Miller's attractive summer garden. The committee in charge of serving the basket dinner and of making these varied arrangements included: Mrs. M. D. McCallister, Mrs. H. W. Bross, Mrs. Lockwood, Mrs. R. B. Fleming, Mrs. A. N. Moores, Mrs. H. W. Donnell, Mrs. James McGilchrist and Mrs. J. L. Humphreys. The Woman's Union of the church provided both the coffee and the desert for the occasion.

Following the dinner, T. F. McKenzie, took the toastmaster's chair. The program of responses included varying talks by: D. J. Fry, Sr.; William McGilchrist, Sr.; Mrs. Jordan, Mrs. Josie Stewart, E. A. Miller, and R. J. Hendricks. The informality of the evening closed with the singing of "Blest Be the Tie That Binds."

Major James S. Dusenbury and family plan to leave the first of August for Fort Leavenworth, Kansas, where Major Dusenbury, according to a telegram just received will enroll in the Command and General Staff college for one year. Major and Mrs. Dusenbury accompanied by their two children, Violet and James, will be away until next June.

The Philatelic class and the Albright brotherhood enjoyed a joint picnic Friday evening at Hager's grove, three miles south of Salem. The women met early in the afternoon, the men's class joining the group for a picnic supper and the enjoyable evening which followed.

Mrs. T. S. Bovell and Miss Mabel Bowell of Burlington, Iowa, left yesterday morning for their home following a visit of some weeks at the home of Mrs. Bovell's daughter, Mrs. R. R. Boardman. Both Mrs. Bovell and Miss Bovell were complimented with a number of delightful social affairs while here. They will visit the Yellowstone National Park on their way to Burlington.

Attractive among the summer brides was Miss Wilma June Burgen whose marriage to Mr. Harold L. Kiln of Portland was an event of yesterday morning. The impressive ring service was read at 10 o'clock, at the lovely home of Dr. and Mrs. H. J. Clements. Reverend Ward Willis Long officiating. The bride wore a becoming traveling suit of russet with hat to match. She carried an arm bouquet of summer flowers in rich, harmonizing shades.

The house was decorated throughout with the most vivid of the summer flowers, pink larkspur, clarkia, blue delphinium, pink sweet peas, white perenniel peas, and gladiolus, from Dr. and Mrs. Clements' gardens, decking the rooms. In the dining room where the wedding breakfast was served pink candles in crystal holders were used with a glass bowl of pink larkspur and fern centering the table. Covers were placed for Mr. and Mrs. Harold L. Kiln, Dr. and Mrs. H. J. Clements, Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Kiln of Portland, and Clarence Smith.

Following the wedding breakfast, Mr. and Mrs. Kiln left by motor for Chehalis, Wash., where they were guests at a wedding dinner yesterday evening at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Burkan. Mr. and Mrs. Kiln will continue their honeymoon trip into Victoria, B. C. Mrs. Kiln, who graduated from the University of Oregon with the class of 1923, has been teaching the past year in the English department at the Washington Junior high school.

Mr. Kiln is connected with the Kiln stationary firm in Portland. Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Van Trump have as their guest, Dr. F. D. Rowell of Phoenix, Ariz., who came early in the month and will probably remain in Salem for another fortnight.

Dr. Rowell, who as well as running a stock ranch, is interested in the raising of pecans and cotton. Dr. Rowell and S. H. Van Trump were boyhood friends.

Miss Ruby Brennen returned Friday evening from a two weeks' vacation trip to Washington and California, visiting with relatives and friends in Hoquiam and Middleton.

For the pleasure of Mr. and Mrs. Paul R. Smith of Los Angeles, Calif., who are Salem guests at the W. D. Smith home, Professor and Mrs. T. S. Roberts opened their attractive music hall Friday evening to a group of musicians and music-loving friends who played and listened to the playing of their gifted guest, Mrs. Paul R. Smith, in professional circles, Evelyn Paddock Smith, is a concert pianist of considerable note. In Los Angeles she conducts a studio of decided standing. Mrs. Smith is now taking a master's course under Mrs. Frances Striegel Burke of New York City who is giving summer instruction in Portland this season. Much of Mrs. Smith's previous study has been under Mrs. Burke. Mrs. Smith has also been featured many times over radio. Last night's program, pleasing in every detail, opened with two piano numbers, "Alhamb Leaf," (Grieg) and "Russian Romance" (Frilm) by Professor T. S. Roberts. Mrs. Malcolm Ramp and R. H. Barton gave, "Oh, That We Two Were A-Maying" as a vocal duet. Miss Dorothy Pearce played MacDowell's, "Etude de Concert," a piano number. "The Secret" was sung by F. S. Barton. R. D. Barton sang; Del Rio's "Homing." After Mrs. Malcolm Ramp's solo, Neidlinger's "Rose in the Garden," Mrs. Smith played to the delight of all who heard her, choosing as her numbers, "March Wind" (MacDowell); "Juba Dance" (Dett); "Lorelei" (Seeling); and "Wandering Iceberg" (MacDowell).

After the evening's delightful program, Mrs. Roberts assisted by Mrs. Ray Leonard Smith, Mrs. Ralph Wilford Walton, and Miss Grace Elizabeth Smith served light refreshments. Sweet peas, enhanced by the soft lights, were attractive in bowls about the room.

Mrs. J. M. Skaffe has as her guest, her daughter, Mrs. Charles Ross of The Dalles.

Miss Vivian Merrifield of The Dalles is spending her vacation as the guest of her aunt, Mrs. Rachel Reeder, 239 South Cottage street.

A group of women from the local Presbyterian church including Mrs. H. E. Barrett, Mrs. W. W. Long, Mrs. W. W. Emmons, Mrs. C. A. Kells, and Miss Gertrude Eakin of Chemawa, plan to attend the annual state synod which opens on Wednesday of this week in Eugene.

Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Daniels and Zoe Daniels will be Salem guests for two weeks at Seaside.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Clifford have as their interesting guests for several days Miss Laura Hutchinson of Philadelphia, Pa.; Mrs. Kerrison, Miss Katherine Kerrison of New York City; and W. L. H. Osborne. Mrs. Kerrison is a well-informed enthusiast on the flax situation. She has developed her interests in a number of ways in the east.

Mrs. Kerrison, Miss Hutchinson and Miss Kerrison motored across the continent. They are spending the summer on the Clifford ranch in the Cascades east of Roseburg. Dr. Kerrison of New York City plans to join his wife and daughter later in the summer, with trips to Honolulu and South America planned for the future.

Two weeks from today Salem will be outstandingly privileged in the coming of Edgar C. Raine, probably the world's best authority on Alaska, who, in 12th annual tour, will present his travels in natural colors on an evening program at the First Presbyterian church.

According to all press reports this will include an exceptional opportunity to enjoy a real evening in Alaska, "the frontier wonderland of the world." Mr. Raine, who will illustrate his travel talks with 150 colored views, was a traveling companion of the great Stephansen. Mr. Raine, through actual contact, "knows more of Alaska" than any other man in the world; having resided in and traveled extensively through the territory during the past 25 years, six of which, as the representative of the United States treasury department, he visited every town and village in Alaska and many villages in Siberia; once a year.

Mr. Raine was one to pack an outfit, during the stampede of the Klondike in 1897, over the famous Chilkoot pass. He has literally seen this country of "Hardship and Romance" change "from a land of fero-banks to a land of savings banks."

The hour and a half entertainment he will afford promises indeed to be an absorbing one. No admission will be charged for the evening, but a silver offering will be taken.

Mr. Raine is filling engagements at the University of Oregon and at Oregon Agricultural college prior to his Salem date. In Eugene on July 22, and at Corvallis on July 23 he will be in Salem for 8 o'clock Sunday evening, July 27.

Miss Elizabeth Lord, accompanied by Mrs. Sarah J. W. Converse of Walla Walla, Wash., is motoring to Portland this week-end. Mrs. Converse was a guest of Miss Lord during the past week. Miss Mabel Robertson, who is also in Portland, will return with Miss Lord.

Complimenting Mrs. B. F. Hewitt of Seattle and Mrs. Charles Ross of The Dalles, Mrs. R. C. Barfield was hostess on Friday afternoon at her home on the Garden road for the members of the B. B. G. V. club, this being the first time in 15 years that the entire group has been together.

The club was a high school organization, reminiscent of school days. The decorative scheme on Friday artistically employed sweet peas and snapdragons. Refreshments were served on the lawn late in the afternoon, with a real four-leaf clover, the emblem of the club, marking each place.

The group includes Mrs. B. F. Hewitt, Mrs. Charles Ross, Miss Lucille Chase, Mrs. Charles Stigmund, Mrs. H. T. Chase; Mrs. J. N. Skaffe, Mrs. F. N. Harding, and the hostess, Mrs. R. C. Barfield.

Miss Helen Hatch of Vancouver, Wash., a cousin of John H. Farrar and a niece of Mrs. Abbie Farrar, arrived in Salem Tuesday. Miss Hatch is the daughter of ex-Senator Hatch and a member of an old pioneer family of Salem. She will be here for a number of days.

Mrs. J. N. Murray of Portland, who formerly lived in Salem, came Friday to be the house guest of Mrs. F. Jaskoski at 1051 Chemeketa street. Mrs. Murray will be here for two weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. William Henry Abel (Margaret Alden) are guests for the week-end of Mrs. Abel's parents, Deacon and Mrs. George H. Alden. Mr. and Mrs. Abel have been enjoying a brief honeymoon at the Oregon beaches. In the morning they will leave for southern Oregon where they will visit Crater lake and the Oregon caves. From Eugene they will be accompanied by Robert Schuyler Van Rensselaer, a friend of Mr. Abel's. Mr. and Mrs. Abel will continue their trip into California, spending some time in San Francisco and at southern beaches. They will be at home in Los Angeles after September 1.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Brooks left Thursday for Portland after having visited since last month at the home of Mr. Brooks' mother, Mrs. Mildred Robertson Brooks. They were accompanied to Portland by Miss Mabel Robertson. Mr. and Mrs. Russell Brooks will visit in Washington, D. C., before going to their new post at Belfast, Ireland.

Miss Mary Eyre, accompanied by her niece, Miss Rovena Eyre, according to schedule, arrived yesterday in Liverpool, England. The Misses Eyre are following an interesting continental itinerary for the summer.

Mrs. Emma Merriman and W. D. Roberts, sister and brother-in-law of Mrs. J. F. Talent, spent the week-end visiting at the Talent home in Salem. After a trip up the Columbia highway the guests returned to their home in Medford.
