AUDRED BUNCH

WITH CATHEDRAL SOLEMNITY the ceremony uniting in marriage Miss Kathleen Isabella Harriett Walsh and Mr. Edward James Cleary was performed in accordance with the ritual of low mass at 9 o'clock yesterday morning at St. Joseph's Catholic church. Father Keenan, assisted by Father De Roven of Sheridan, administered the sacrament.

With the ringing of the wedding bells the altar candles were silently lighted. Slender vases of glad-oli were arranged against the glowing background of the crucifix. The bridal party approached the lighted altar to the stately strains of the Lohengrin procession.

Byron D. Arnold presided at the organ throughout the service, playing the Lohengrin march both before and after the ceremony, as well as subdued improvisations, and the beautiful accompaniments of the "Ave Maria."

The bride, a charming girl, wore satin crepe with a filmy full-length veil caught into a bandeau with pearls and sprays of orange blossom. She carried the handkerchief used by her maternal grandmother at her marriage and wore the bracelets worn by her grandmother Walsh on her wedding day. Her bouquet was of Geell Brunner roses and pink carnations arranged with fern and satin streamers.

Two little Colonial flower girls led the wedding procession, followed by the four attending bridesmaids, a third little flower girl, the maid of honor, and then the bride on the arm of her father, who gave her away.

The maid of honor, Miss Anna Karst, wore green Russian crepe with a picture hat and carried pink roses. The bridesmaids, Miss Neva Cooley, Miss Ruth Ross, Miss Faye Sparks and Miss Margaret Evans, in pastel shades of apricot, coral, turquoise and rose, carried arm bouquets of old fashioned flowers.

The two little girls who preceded the party, carrying sweet peas in frills of paper lace, were dressed in ruffled dresses of orchid and turquoise with bonnet hats to match. Mary Colman Wycoff of Portland, wearing the lace dress of orchid, and Genevieve Karst the attractive frock of blue. Miss Jane Hoyt of Portland, daintily dressed in pink ruffled organdy with a shirred hat, carried a tulip basket, scattering flowers in the path of the bride.

The groom was attended by the bride's brother, William Walsh, as best man. Ushers were Harold Boulig and Edward Heenan.

The "Ave Maria" was sung by Miss Fay Sparks.

Immediately following the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served at The Spa, with dainty wedding cards marking covers for 40 relatives and close friends. Baskets of gaily daisies, carnations and snapdragons were used, a cordial and gold motif being artistically worked out. The bride's table was centered with miniature kewpies dressed as bride and groom.

In the afternoon from 2 to 4 o'clock a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents. Mrs. M. C. Nelson presided at the punch bowl, assisted by Mrs. C. E. Shuneman. Mrs. H. W. Quinlan of Walla Walla and Mrs. K. Wycoff, and Mrs. J. O. Hoyt of Portland assisted in the receiving. Other out of town guests present for the wedding were Mrs. Dan Mohr and Mrs. John Walsh of Portland. Many lovely gifts were on display throughout the afternoon. Mr. Arnold pleased with musical selections.

Mrs. Cleary is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Walsh. She is a student at Willamette university where she has one more year. She is a member of the Chrestomathean literary society. Mr. Cleary, after a business education, has a position as bookkeeper at Hunt's packing company. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Cleary. Both have innumerable friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Cleary left early in the evening for Walla Walla. After a two week's honeymoon they will be at home on North Fifteenth street.

Judge and Mrs. John R. Rand, accompanied by Judge Rand's brother and wife of Little Rock, Ark., who have been guests here, are spending the week-end in Portland.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul V. Johnson, accompanied by their little daughter, Julia, and their guest, Miss Zoe Stockton, motored home from Nye Beach Monday. The Johnsons opened their cottage the middle of June, having as their guest for the last two weeks Miss Zoe Stockton.

Complimenting two honor guests, Mrs. Floyd Maxwell of Portland and Mrs. Richard Slater, Mrs. Gus R. Hixson entertained yesterday at one of the week's most charming bridge and luncheon affairs. Covers were placed for twelve at the 1 o'clock luncheon. A basket of yellow blossoms centered the table, with place cards in the pastel shades.

Those invited to make up the three tables of bridge which followed were Mrs. Richard Slater, Mrs. Floyd Maxwell, Mrs. Orris Fry, Mrs. Donald Young, Mrs. Clifford Farmer, Mrs. John Carson, Mrs. Allan Carson, Mrs. Clifford Irwin, Mrs. Paul Hendricks, Mrs. Hollis Huntington, Mrs. Karl Becke and the hostess, Mrs. Hixson.

Miss Evelyn Stevenson has returned to her desk in the office of the supreme court clerk after a sojourn of three months in Los Angeles, San Francisco and other California cities.

Mr. and Mrs. Monroe Gilbert were guests yesterday in McMinnville, motoring over for the evening. While there they met Mr. and Mrs. F. D. Eason, formerly of Salem. Mr. and Mrs. Eason are now making their home in McMinnville.

Many old friends were greeted and various points of special interest visited by Dr. E. S. Hammond of the Kimball School of Theology, in his recent three months' trip through California and the east. Mrs. Hammond accompanied Dr. Hammond as far as Vallejo, Cal., where she stopped for a visit with her son, Wesley, who is assistant chemist at the Mare Island navy yard. Mrs. Hammond returned to Salem in June.

Continuing his trip to Massachusetts, Dr. Hammond visited in Springfield, Quincy, Holbrook and Boston, in Springfield attending the general conference of the Methodist Episcopal church. In Quincy Dr. Hammond met William Nichol who, before going east held a number of different pastorates in the valley. In Holbrook Dr. Hammond visited with Rev. Murray C. Keefer.

Dr. Hammond visited especially the different theological seminaries of the denomination located in Los Angeles, Denver, Chicago, Madison, New Jersey and Boston.

An interesting feature of the trip was the visit Dr. Hammond made at the Ohio Wesleyan university, from which he graduated in 1891.

Prof. and Mrs. Robert M. Gatke at Washington, D. C., were among those acting as hosts to Dr. Hammond. Professor Gatke is a student at the American university and director of the Foundry Methodist church. Before her marriage last summer Mrs. Gatke was Estelle Satchwell. Both have many friends here.

In Chicago Dr. Hammond had the pleasure of meeting Prof. and Mrs. Donald Riddle, who expect to come to Salem in August. The return trip was made by way of Yosemite national park and the Grand Canyon.

Miss Elizabeth McCleary has been the house guest since Tuesday of Mrs. Lenta Westcott. Miss McCleary formerly head of the English department at the Salem high school, comes from Olympia, Wn. She is making a three weeks' stop in Salem following a trip to Crater lake with friends from Seattle.

Miss Grace Vehert, who has been a guest here from San Francisco, left yesterday for her California home.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Ostrander accompanied by their daughter, Miss Dorothy Ostrander, left on Tuesday for Corvallis to be the guests of Prof. and Mrs. Thurman Starker of the college. Mrs. Starker is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ostrander.

Breakfast this morning was enjoyed at Spang's landing by a group of friends of Miss Florence Jones. The group included Miss Jones, her house guest Miss Ruth Miller, Miss Miriam Lovell, Miss Lucille Moore and Miss Leah Ross.

Mrs. William Ashby and Miss Macyle Hunter will be guests over the week-end at Newport.

"Migrant Work" will be the theme of the meeting this afternoon of the woman's home missionary society of the First Christian church. Mrs. John L. Brady will present the subject. Considerable interest has already been shown in Salem in connection with this worthy and somewhat new phase of social service. Having to do especially with labor conditions, kindergarten work and yard recreation, the movement is closely related especially to local berry fields, hop yards and prune orchards.

Invitations have been extended to the different missionary societies of the valley, including Dallas, Independence, Turner, Silverton and Jefferson to send representatives to this meeting. All interested are very cordially invited to attend. The meeting today is for the partial carrying out of a resolution adopted at the last meeting of the interdenominational missionary committee of which Mrs. W. C. Kantner is chairman, to more thoroughly inform the town of the real nature of this movement through the medium of the different auxiliaries.

The loyal women's class of the church, which was scheduled to meet yesterday, postponed their gathering in order that they might attend the meeting today.

Miss Eugenia Zeiler has as her house guest Miss Jane Campbell of Eugene. Miss Campbell and Miss Zeiler are both popular members of Kappa Alpha Theta sorority.

Miss Elsie Hop Lee was hostess for a pre-nuptial shower on Tuesday evening complimenting Miss Kathleen Walsh, whose wedding was yesterday's largest social event. The gifts were all of china. The evening was spent making tea towels. Summer flowers decked the rooms. Light refreshments were served late in the evening.

Those present were Miss Kathleen Walsh, Miss Ruth Ross, Miss Neva Cooley, Miss Anna Karst, Miss Margaret Evans, Miss Faye Sparks, Miss Theresa Albright, Miss Paloma Prouty, Miss Beryl Marsters, Miss Zelda Mulkey, Miss Josephine Bross, Mrs. G. E. Schuneman, Mrs. William Walsh, Miss Helen Gatke and the hostess, Miss Elsie Hop Lee.

Mrs. T. B. Thatcher, who has been a Salem guest while making arrangements for this year's chautauqua, left yesterday morning for Washington. Mrs. Thatcher was also in Salem last year.

Mrs. John W. Palmer of Cincinnati left on Tuesday for the east. Mrs. Palmer, who is the sister of Prof. J. C. Nelson, has been a guest here for the past three weeks. This was her first trip west, and one that was especially delightful. After a brief stop at Rainier national park Mrs. Palmer will join her husband in Chicago. Professor Nelson accompanied Mrs. Palmer as far as Portland, returning yesterday.

Miss Marian Emmons, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Emmons, is leaving Chicago this morning for Salem. She will spend the summer here, returning in the fall to resume her work at the conservatory. Miss Emmons has already won considerable recognition as a violinist.
