

CITY NEWS IN BRIEF

Resuming Dallas Trains—
Train service between Salem and Dallas will be resumed July 27, it was announced Saturday by local Southern Pacific officials. Two round trips will be made daily under the new schedule, with headquarters for the crews to be established in Dallas. The trains will leave Salem for Dallas on the return trip at 9:30 o'clock in the morning and the second train at 6:30 o'clock at night. Stage connections will be provided at Derry to take passengers for the red electric cars. The service that had been in force between the two cities was suspended April 20 and was resumed upon promise of Dallas merchants to ship their freight by rail and not by auto stage and truck.

Miss Garfield Returns—
Miss Edna Garfield has returned from attendance with the Oregon delegation at the national Republican convention at Cleveland, briefly visiting enroute back with relatives in Michigan and Minneapolis, her former home, also stopping with Mrs. C. P. Bishop at Lake Louise and Banff. While at the latter place they met, through Chicago friends, the Thomas Melghan party, who were filming "The Alaskan," at the glacier district in the Canadian Rockies. It may be mentioned that Miss Garfield won three Thomas Melghan, and four Mary Pickford, a Jackie Coogan and two Richard Barthelmess prizes in a national limerick contest this season conducted by FilmDun Magazine. At Vancouver, B. C., was witnessed the imposing arrival of the British fleet. Crossing the border the federal revenue officer arrested six women for illicit transportation of liquor, the details of which were highly amusing. While in Seattle, Dr. Robert E. Speer, noted missionary, lecturer and author, was heard at the Presbyterian Synod, also the address before the Seattle Republican club of Nicholas Murray Butler.

ment was made that William C. Reasner, administrator of the estate of Parson Gleason, had been awarded judgment of $7890 damages against Bud Thompson for timber cut on Clackamas county property in 1920-22. Damages were asked, but not awarded, as the complaint had just been filed and papers not served for nearly a week later. Mr. Thompson has been a resident of Clackamas county since 1896 and about three years ago he purchased a farm near Hubbard, where he now lives. According to Thompson's attorney, Gordon E. Hayes, he has a good defense for the action brought by Gleason and will file his answer in the near future.

Typos Will Picnic—
Members of the Willamette Valley Typographical conference and their families will spend the afternoon at the Brookside auto park, miles north of Salem on the Pacific highway. About 30 parties, from Salem, Corvallis, Eugene, Albany and Portland are expected to be present. Prior to the picnic a meeting will be held at the Labor hall here.

Examinations Slated—
Examinations to fill positions of assistant examiner in the United States patent office at Washington, D. C., will be held in Salem August 20 and 21, according to word received by John Farrar, postmaster. The civil service examinations include such subjects as physics, mathematics, modern language, some branch of engineering and an interpretation of mechanical drawings.

Convict is Returned—
Johnny Tuel, trusty who escaped from the prison brickyard the night of June 12, is again confined in the penitentiary, having been brought back to Salem from Bend by Deputy Warden J. W. Lillie. The trip to eastern Oregon was made by automobile. Tuel, at the time of his escape, had but 31 days to serve and was one of the mainstays of the prison baseball team. Owing to his forfeiting of all good time, he will have to serve about three months.

Eminent Churchman Coming—
Walter Squires, head of the department of education of the Presbyterian church in the United States, with headquarters in New York, will be in Salem next Thursday. He will attend the prayer meeting at the church, and then attend a conference of the Salem Council of Religious Education. He is an outstanding man in the religious life of the nation and is the author of several books, also has instituted many original investigations. He is attending the Presbyterian synod at Eugene.

Willson Park Services—
Union church services will be held in Willson park as usual this afternoon, with Dr. William S. Klein, of New York City, head of the National Presbyterian board, the speaker of the day. Dr. Klein was brought back to Salem Saturday morning by C. A. Kells, general secretary of the YMCA, both of whom have been attending the Presbyterian synod in Eugene. They will return Monday. The soloist for the day will be arranged by Lena Belle Tartar. Jack Vinson will direct the group singing. Rev. R. L. Putnam of the Court Street Christian church will give scripture reading and prayer.

Lester Day and Wife Visit—grade, for the reason that the elevation of the railroad track is several feet above the surrounding country, and there is a steep grade on both sides of the railroad track on this highway.

No. 4 is located about a quarter of a mile west of the proposed overhead crossing. It is also an extra hazardous crossing because of the fact that the highway crosses the railroad tracks at an oblique sharp angle, and the vision is not good, and there is a cut north of the location of this crossing, the banks of which also impair the vision.
