

PETS PARADED ON PLAYGROUND

Children Revel at Lincoln School Ground—Colonel Hofer Entertains

Pets dear to the hearts of children and upon which had been lavished much childish love and care were entered by the proud owners in the big pet animal circus Saturday under the direction of Miss Danta Robbins, supervisor of the Lincoln playground, in South Salem. Including a number of parents, there were nearly 350 persons present. A parade was staged.

Col. E. Hofer, who is always willing to contribute to the success of any event centering around animals, made a special trip over from Newport to tell the youngsters three animal stories. The first of these was the story of "Sammy," Colonel Hofer's pet bulldog. The second was the story of "Bobbie," the famous Silvertown Collie that returned home after

WORK SEEKERS EXCEED DEMAND

Less Than Half of Men Applying at Bureau Receive Employment

Job seekers outnumber places nearly two to one, according to the weekly report of Sim Phillips, in charge of the United States employment bureau at the YMCA. During the week ending Saturday there were a total of 283 men and women seeking work, with demands for only 123. Less than half the men and more than half the women were placed.

Agricultural laborers headed the list, for the men, with 110 registering and demands for but 51. These were all referred and 46 reported placed. Coming a close second were common laborers, 81 of whom called, with demands for 20, of which 27 reported placed. Twenty-four farm hands registered, with demand for 15, of which 13 were placed. Only four places were open for the 17 woods laborers, and these were filled.

There was no demand for truck drivers, though eight registered. Of the five salespeople seeking places, one was in demand and placed. Agricultural labor called for 33 of the 38 women who registered. There were openings for 20, and this number was placed. Four cooks registered, with one in demand and placed. One pantry worker registered, was in demand and placed.

Good Grape Crop Is Silvertown Indication
SILVERTON, Ore., July 19.—(Special to The Statesman.)—A very good yield of grapes can be looked for near Silvertown this fall if conditions do not change between now and the time of gathering the grapes. Despite the long spell of dryness vines have made a splendid growth and are well covered with heavy clusters of fruit, the grapes appearing to be larger than usual for this time of the year.
Last year the crop promised to be a good one but some disease attacked many vines a month or two before the fruit was ripe and the grapes dried or dropped off leaving a few to each cluster. Many of those remaining on the stems were more or less affected and had an unpleasant taste. It is hoped the disease will not appear again this year.

MOUNT ANGEL STORES LOOTED

Goods Valued at Several Hundred Dollars Taken Friday Night

Loot valued at several hundred dollars was taken some time during Friday night from three places of business at Mt. Angel. The burglars are believed to be members of a gang which has been operating through neighboring valley towns for the past few months.

The Mt. Angel garage, owned by E. G. Young, was robbed of 17 tires and 13 tubes. All the tires were large valuable models. The sheriff's office believes that they will be hard to trace because no record of the serial numbers was kept by the garage.

A pool hall in the city was entered. The proprietor reports the loss of several packages of cigarettes and other small articles. The Oswald grocery was ransacked and electrical goods to the amount of $50 were taken. Entrance to the buildings was gained by the use of a pass key.

PORTLANDERS TO SEE FLAX WORK
Also Several Washington Citizens Will Visit Here Next Friday
Through an invitation issued by the Chamber of Commerce and the courtesy of P. E. Thomason, prominent flax grower, between 50 and 75 Portland and Washington men interested in the flax industry, will get their first glimpse of developments now under way when they visit Salem, Friday. Plans are being made to lay places for nearly 100 at the Thomason ranch, where the party will be entertained with a chicken plate luncheon at noon.

The trip is being made in automobiles, and the caravan is due to arrive here about 10 o'clock. They will be escorted to the penitentiary to see methods of retting, handling and storing flax. From here they will proceed to the Thomason ranch, in the center of about 500 acres given over to flax products. Mr. Thomason will demonstrate the success that has met his efforts to raise flax under irrigation. Two flax pullers will also be in actual operation for the visitors. After the luncheon trips will be made to other fields in the district, including the Carlson and Bradley places. The party expects to leave about 4 o'clock.
In the absence of Governor Walter M. Pierce, R. J. Hendricks has been named to represent the governor, who will be in southern Oregon. Talks will be made by Frank E. Anderson, president of the Portland Chamber of Commerce, W. D. B. Dodson, manager of the Portland Chamber of Commerce; Colonel Bartram, Canadian flax expert and T. B. Kay.
And yet the critics who scorn America might be induced to scorn anything at a nickel a word.

The Charm of Good Furniture

Good Furniture tells its own story in a reasonable sort of way. It seems to speak like a sincere man with a message of which he has no doubts. Good Furniture is a persistent speaker, too, for it carries its message into every home, and it will keep repeating it from year to year, perhaps from generation to generation. There is always a freshness and charm to the thing that is genuine—the thing that is an outward and material result of the true and sincere desire of somebody to produce something really and truly good and serviceable. Sincerity and goodness are best expressed in the sort of furniture to be found at Hamilton's.
