THE RESIDENCE of Mr. and Mrs. George Wood at 211 South 18th street was the scene on Sunday of a family reunion honoring Mrs. Wood's mother, Mrs. Sarah Rebecca Rodgers who celebrated her 82nd birthday on that day. Pink carnations, and gladioli were attractive throughout the house. Music and conversation added to the day's diversion. An elaborate birthday dinner was served at noon, a vase of gladioli centering the table, with a large birthday cake adorning the board.

Those enjoying the hospitality of Mr. and Mrs. Wood were: Mr. and Mrs. Silas Reed, Mark Reed, Miss Echo Reed, Mr. and Mrs.

Anderson and son, all of Corvallis; Mr. and Mrs. C. N. Rodgers, Dean Rodgers, Fay Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. Clair Rodgers and daughters, Virginia and Lucille, Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Rodgers and son, Cecil of Portland; Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Rodgers and family, Coleman Rodgers, Miss Kathleen Rodgers, Miss Rosaline Rodgers, Miss Zerilda Rodgers, Miss Alice Rodgers, Miss Barbara Rodgers, Miss Helen Rodgers, Paul Rodgers, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Newgent and son, Robert; Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Edwards and children, June and Leroy of Mill City; Mr. and Mrs. Grant Ashby, of Portland; Mrs. Fred McIntire and daughters, Cordenia and Margaret of Kelso, Wash.; Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Macy, Mr. and Mrs. B. W. Macy and children, Roland, Virginia and Marian; Mr. and Mrs. Edward May, and Miss Lillian Lyman.

Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Creech and children, John and Julia, are leaving this morning for a 10-day trip to southern Oregon. Miss "Jackie" Jarman will accompany the family as far as Grants Pass where she will be the guest of her sister, Mrs. Bayard Findley. Mr. and Mrs. Creech will visit in Ashland at the W. H. Day home.

Complimenting Mrs. Frederick Decker and Mrs. Richard Slater, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Griffith were dinner-guests of Friday. A basket of lavender and pink sweet peas centered the table. Mari-golds were used in the living rooms where Mai Jongg was the after-dinner diversion.

Covers were placed for 14 including Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Decker, Mr. and Mrs. Claud Steusloff, Mr. and Mrs. Breyman

Boise, Miss Olga Gray, William Paulus and the hosts, Mr. and Mrs. Griffith.

Mrs. D. H. Craven is spending a few days in Eugene as the guest of her sister, Mrs. J. E. Allison.

Miss Grace Taylor and Miss Gladys Steele returned home Sunday morning from an interesting six week's trip which had as its major objectives two national conventions. Leaving on June 11, Miss Taylor and Miss Steele made the first stop in Chicago where they remained a number of days. After a week at Detroit in attendance at the national Nurses' convention which took place the latter part of June, Miss Taylor left for the meeting of the National Education Association in Washington, D. C., from June 29 to the 4th of July. From Washington Miss Taylor made an interesting trip to Mount Vernon, after which she went to New York, meeting Miss Steele for the trip to New Orleans. The delightful trip, taking five days, was made by steamboat.

New Orleans, Miss Taylor describes as an old and interesting city. In the older sections, negroes were seen carrying bricks for their buildings on boards held across their heads. The older French quarters show the markets as they were 150 years ago, open as they are both day and night. Much architecture with its old, decorative iron work was found in this city. Miss Taylor mentioned the tiny gardens that were here and there visible at the end of the narrow courts. Sections of New Orleans give quite the impression of an Old World French city. Two days were spent here, after which Miss Taylor and Miss Steele left for Los Angeles and San Francisco. Several days were spent in each place.

Many interesting features of filmdom were seen at Hollywood. Nowhere did the tourists encounter the heat to any great degree, although Miss Taylor was caught in the Ohio storm. The boat trip was enjoyable. While an ocean voyage, the vessel was nowhere very far from land, at Florida coming within a mile of Palm Beach.

Miss Taylor characterizes both conventions by their excellence. It was estimated that 5000 nurses were in attendance at Detroit. The Washington convention was even larger with probably 30 delegates going from Washington and Oregon. One of the most excellent of all the addresses was given by a Portland teacher.

Others from Salem attending the Washington convention included Superintendent and Mrs. J. A. Churchill, Superintendent George W. Hug, and Miss Caroline Hrubetz and Miss Frances Hrubetz.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester S. Day arrived in Salem last Friday from Boston, making the trip by motor. Mrs. Day will be remembered as Emma Shanafelt, Willamette university May Queen in 1923. Both Mr. and Mrs. Day are graduates of Willamette. Since their marriage a year ago in June they have made their home in Boston where Mr. Day has been employed the past two years in YMCA work. Mrs. Day will visit for a few weeks at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Shanafelt, south of Salem. Mr. Day left Saturday for San Francisco where he has accepted a position as secretary of the central boys' branch of the YMCA.

Miss Elaine Oberg and Miss Adelia White of Portland, with Ralph Emmons and Robert Norson made up a party enjoying Sunday at Pacific City.

Mrs. Lenta Westcott has as her guests Mr. and Mrs. Fred Stolz and daughter, Catherine, and son Howard, of Dayton, Ohio. Mr. and Mrs. Stolz arrived Saturday

Betty Compton at the Oregon Tomorrow

Betty Compton traveled half way around the world to play the role of the girl in "The Stranger." At the time that it was announced that John Galsworthy's "The First and the Last" would be produced under the title of "The Stranger," Miss Compton was enjoying her first glimpse of Paris, having just recently completed two British-made productions, both filmed in the vicinity of London.

Returning to Hollywood from the French capital, she began work at once in the role of a pretty girl cast on the streets of London, the city Miss Compton
