One of the attractive wedding ceremonies of the month was that performed last Thursday evening when Miss Selma Mathis became the bride of James A. Gorton of Silverton. The ring service was used, the ritual being read by Rev. E. H. Shanks of the First Baptist church at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Mathis, 161 South Fourteenth street, at 5 o'clock in the afternoon.

Immediately before the ceremony, Mrs. E. H. Shanks sang, "O Promise Me," Miss Lucille McClain playing the accompaniment. Miss McClain also played Lohengrin's wedding march, the bridal party taking their places against a floral background of ocean spray and pink roses.

The bride was becomingly frocked in gray canton crepe embellished with lace drapes. She wore a corsage of Cecil Brunner roses and fern. Mrs. Harold White, ma-

Scarcely a painter in all the history of art has been so vilified, so passionately abhorred as Paul Cezanne (1839-1906). The salons were closed to him; his private exhibitions were success de scandale; through connivance with the heirs, the Louvre managed to avoid owning the three paintings by him in the Caillebotte collection.

SHERIFFS AGAINST JURY EXEMPTIONS

Conventions Votes to Demand Service of Qualified Professional Men

SEATTLE, July 22.—Removal of exemptions that allow special classes of professional and business men to shirk jury duty and substitution of compulsory jury duty and substitution of compulsory jury service for all qualified persons, exemptions to be granted only under the most pressing need by the trial judge, was the most important of five recommendations reported by a committee at today's sessions of the northwest association of sheriffs and police anti-crime conference here.

The committee in submitting the report declared that the subjects outlined would necessitate to a "large extent the remodeling of the law of criminal procedure the enactment of many new statutes, the repeal of many, and the alteration of constitutional provisions."

The body asked that the matter be referred to a special committee of five, instructed to make a study and present concrete plans at the next meeting of the association.

U. S. Steel Corporation Ordered to Quit System

WASHINGTON, July 22.—The federal trade commission today ordered the United States Steel corporation to abandon the Pittsburgh-plus system of determining the price of steel.

The commission held to the unfair method of competition the system by which the corporation and its subsidiaries quote prices on rolled steel products manufactured by and shipped from their plants outside Pittsburgh at a Pittsburgh base price plus an amount equivalent to what the freight charges would be from that city. The practice thus was found to be a violation of the federal trade commission act and further to constitute a means of price discrimination in violation of the Clayton act.

A skeleton draft of the by-laws was prepared by H. S. Ballard of Columbus, Ohio, special counsel for the American farm bureau federation in consultation with other lawyers. J. W. Coverdale, of Iowa, spokesman for the directors said that all directors, of the ultimate organization would be producers.

MARSHFIELD, Or., July 22.—The Stout Lumber company loggers at the Davis slough camp were fighting fire today to prevent the loss of camp, engines and trestle. SYNOD CLOSSES ITS ANNUAL SESSION

Successful Presbyterian Meet Brought to End; Eugene Chosen Again

EUGENE, Or., July 22.—The Presbyterian synod of Oregon closed its annual session tonight after what the ministers say was one of the best meetings in its history. Foreign missions, their work and their needs, were the topics of interest at the final meetings.

The synod tonight voted to meet on the University of Oregon campus next year, the exact date to be set later. Great satisfaction was expressed with the way in which Eugene and the summer session of the university handled the entertainment of the synod this year.
