And use this road log. It will tell you the exact condition of the highway from Salem to Newport

EAVING Salem you follow the Pacific Highway to Jefferson which is 18 miles from Salem, then on to Albany 10 miles farther. This portion of the trip is all on paving and the streets of the towns are plainly marked with highway signs so you cannot miss the road.

The bridge at Albany is closed, so you turn to the left at the foot of the bridge and take the east side route to Corvailis, 37 miles from Salem. This is an excellent gravel road.

Follow the Newport highway signs out of Corvallis and you will find a gravel road taking you into Philomath, 45.5 miles from Salem

After | leaving | Philomath the road is slightly rough for the first few miles but one is comfortable at a speed of about 25 miles. About 12 miles from Philomath proceed more carefully, as there s a rock crusher and a bridge under construction, both requiring short detours of a few feet on a rather narrow road.

After these detours the road is excellent and fairty straight into Eddyville, which 75.1 miles from Salem. This portion of the road follows in succession the Marys, Little Elk, and Yaquina rivers. Anyone wishing to tarry and fish for a short time shoud stop and ask Mr. Mauch, proprietor of the service station and store in Eddyville to direct them as there is excellent fishing.

Bulletin Also Announces Appointment of Dean Algen as Executive

Four instructors have been added to the faculty of Willamette university and will be here when college opens September 15, according to a bulletin issued by the college Saturday. In addition to the increase in the teaching statt, it is made public that Dean George H. Alden will be given an assistant from the faculty committee and will administer the executive duties of the school during the absence of Dr. Carl Gregg Doney, president, who has been granted a year's leave of absence. The appointments are as follows: Miss Edith Denise, M. A., is assistant professor of modern languages, specializing in French. She received the B. A. degree from Lake Forest college near Chicago and her M. A. degree from the University of Chicago, Miss Denise has been in Europe four times, studying in France and Germany. She has taught in Grinnell and Lake Forest colleges and in the Universities of Indiana and Idaho. During the illness of Professor Detling last spring, Miss Denise came to the university to take over his classes. She fills the place left by the resignation of Professor Hanna.

Polk County Woman Gets Fitting Recognition for Her Unselfish Work

The Grange Bulletin has this to say about Mrs. Pearl M. Bartlett of Polk county, whom many of the readers of the Oregon Statesman know:

"Lecturer of Polk County Pomona Grange and a poetress and newspaper woman of wide repute, was born in Indiana, and her earliest recollections are of the journey over the plains with two score of her relatives.

Sister Bartlett has a passion for community betterment and counts any life a failure that leaves this world no better for having lived in it. She is an active worker not only in the Grange but in church, Sunday school and such social activities as will satisfy and elevate the social natures of not only adult society, but will interest and develop the children of the community.

Mrs. Bartlett enjoyed the advantages of study in the Boston school of oratory, and for a time was instructor in the science of expression at the Le Mars normal school in northern lowa appearing as a public reader before hundreds of audiences.
